Members of Club Are Entertained At Sacajawea Inn

Members of the Luncheon club met yesterday afternoon at the Sacajawea Inn, with Mrs. Fred E. Langer as hostess. The luncheon table, with covers for 12, was decorated with chrysanthemums. The diversion of the afternoon was bridge, with Mrs. Chase Holmquist winning honors. Guests for the afternoon were Mrs. A. H. Stange, of Merrill, Wis., and Mrs. W. C. Perkins.

70 Couples Attend First Elks' Dance

The first Elks' dance of the year was a charming event of last night, when 70 couples enjoyed pleasant hours of dancing to music played by the Star Novelty orchestra. The Elks' ballroom was arranged in a setting of purple and white, the colors of the organization. Delicious refreshments were served during the evening. Another dance of this organiza-

Clever Drama Is Feature of Party

A clever pantomime drama of six acts written by Miss Ruth Margaret Hall with a new version, that was both entertaining and amusing, was presented last evening at the monthly meeting of the Y. W. E. A. by the committee in charge of the program, which was in a Thanksgiving idea. The play was enjoyed and well received. This was introduced with a devotional read by Mrs. Sherwood Williams, who sang "Lead Kindly Light" preceding the pantomime. This was by request. A festive board, the symbol of Thanksgiving, was evident in long tables bearing fruits of the harvest and a delicious spread was served at these tables following a game where the members were divided into groups and gave seasonal demonstrations. At a short business meeting Mrs. F. Tyler announced that the funds the organization had awarded the Camp Fire group would be used to finance work in wood blocking. The committee for the meetings in December and January were announced. Miss Effie Saylor was chairman of the committee for this program, with Miss Blanch Speers, Mrs. Nell Williams, Mrs. Hayhurst, Mrs. C. L. Griffin, Miss Hazel Iton, Miss Blanch Clark and Mrs. J. W. Pariss.

La Petite Bridge Club Entertained

A patriotic motif, in keeping with the nearness of Armistice day, featured the meeting of the La Petite Bridge club last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan. Small flags were used as decorations and favors and the two-course luncheon followed the same general scheme. Three tables of bridge were at play, with Mrs. Marion Stoddard and Tom Hekman making high score. Consolation honors were won by Mrs. Wayman Scott and Mr. Stoddard. The next meeting will be Monday, November 18, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hekman.

Mrs. Carr Hostess To Good Will Club

Mrs. B. W. Carr was hostess at a pleasant meeting of the Good Will club yesterday afternoon at her home at 1316 N. avenue. Mrs. Rose Wright was initiated into the club. After the business meeting a contest was held and the honors for winning were awarded to Mrs. Laura Braden. An interesting program, consisting of readings and stunts, entertained the organization. Readings were presented by Mrs. Mollie Brock, Mrs. Laura Davis and Mrs. Laura Braden; Mrs. Lucy Hyatt and Mrs. Frances Plank entertained with stories. A clever stunt was presented by Mrs. J. H. Rhodes. Nearing the close of the afternoon the hostess served dainty refreshments. The club will meet again at the home of Mrs. Laura Davis on Greenwood street, November 19.

Bible Class In Study Of Book

An unusually large attendance was present and an interesting meeting took place yesterday afternoon in the gold room of the La Grande hotel, when the Community Women's Bible class convened under the leadership of Mrs. Harriet Macdonald. This organization is increasing in size and interest. It is reported. The continued reading of the book "The Glorious Company," by Witherspoon, was begun, which will be read at each meeting during the year. Members were pleased with the selection of this work, which is a 1928 production. Mrs. A. T. Hill had charge of the devotional, which Mrs. Ira Aldrich will have at the next meeting.

Auxiliary Enjoys Tuesday Meeting

The L. A. of B. of R. T. met at the Eagles hall last night with a large attendance. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Gertrude Happersett, vice president, presided. In the attendance contest the side led by Mrs. George Isold defeated those captained by Mrs. Harry Mason, who will serve for the winners in their next meeting, November 12, following initiation. The White Rose Sewing club will meet Thursday (tomorrow) evening at the home of Mrs. Mike Sullivan, 702 Adams avenue. Mrs. F. Tyler announced that the funds the organization had awarded the Camp Fire group would be used to finance work in wood blocking. The committee for the meetings in December and January were announced. Miss Effie Saylor was chairman of the committee for this program, with Miss Blanch Speers, Mrs. Nell Williams, Mrs. Hayhurst, Mrs. C. L. Griffin, Miss Hazel Iton, Miss Blanch Clark and Mrs. J. W. Pariss.

DISTINGUISHING AMONG SKIN DISEASES
By Isaac H. Peck, M. D., Baltimore, Md.

From time immemorial there has existed an unfortunate fear of the skin. This is probably explainable on account of the startling appearance of the eruption. It must be remembered that the envelope of skin is a comparatively enormous portion of the human body, and when the greater portion of it is affected, the effect may be startling. This erroneous fear is unhappily shared by many medical workers, but is based on crass ignorance of the facts. This attitude of antagonism and of repudiation has caused lamentable hostility towards the sufferers from skin diseases, and in this country—regrettable to state—cutaneous diseases are looked upon with indifference, trepidation or disgust. So much so that the unfortunate sufferers in many instances are actually denied hospital attention on account of the fear of contagion, and on account of the unsanitary atmosphere which their presence among other sufferers excites. What are the facts? First—one must distinguish between infection and contagion. Every infectious disease is produced by some germ or parasite and is not necessarily contagious. Indeed, many skin diseases which are presumably infectious are certainly not contagious as judged from long experience. Fortunately those diseases of the skin which are both infectious and contagious are comparatively few, well recognized and in the main well controlled so far as both contagion and treatment are concerned. By way of example we may mention syphilis, scabies (the common itch) louse infection, common warts, and ringworm. These common diseases which are not contagious included eczema, diseases due to poison of all kinds, such as oak, ivy, primrose, weeds, chemicals, physical agents, cancers, moles and acne. In summary, it may be stated that with certain exceptions most skin diseases, even despite a possibility of infection (not proved) are not contagious. Prolonged experience has demonstrated this fact. Whenever doubt arises a proper and accurate decision should be obtained from the family doctor as a special question or as part of the annual health audit.

MENUS

By Sister Mary
In the fall that comes after the fall cleaning and preserving are finished, the housekeeper should bake her holiday fruit cake.

Fruit cake is the easiest of all cakes to make, for it's so full of fruit and nuts that there's no chance for it to "fall." Baked in rather small loaves in the modern regulated oven, it won't burn easily or become "crusty" on the edges and corners.

Steaming and then baking insure a thoroughly done, moist cake. Thorough cooking is imperative if the cake is to keep indefinitely, and the perfect fruit cake is moist and "plummy."

Money, time and effort are ingredients of fruit cake as well as eggs and sugar, but the return is well worth while. If mixing and baking facilities are limited, half the recipe can be used. And if time is precious, the citron and lemon and orange peels can be purchased sliced and ready for use. The nuts can be bought all picked out and the raisins seeded. Thorough baking and the use of strong coffee infusion of grape juice in place of milk will make a moist, delicious cake that will keep indefinitely.

The addition of chocolate adds much to the flavor and color of fruit cake and is a modern expedient.

Rich Black Fruit Cake
One cup butter, 1 cup lard, 1 cup light brown sugar, 10 eggs, 1 cup molasses, 1 cup grape juice, sweet cider or black coffee, 4 cups flour, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 tablespoon powdered cinnamon, 1 tablespoon powdered allspice, 2 tablespoons nutmeg, 1 teaspoon powdered cloves, 3-4 cake batter chocolate, 2 pounds seeded raisins, 1
