Airplane Slam

Technically, Dick Shikat, German wrestling star, has a half nelson and crotch hold on his opponent above, but in the parlance of the grappling game he is about to execute the "airplane slam," a stunt that usually leaves the foe in a stunned condition and easily pinned to the mat. Yes, it's a breath-taking stunt, especially for the opponent.

Sport Slants by ALAN J. GOULD

"How would the All-American team of ten years ago compare with the best mythical line-up of today?"

In the first place, it is a trifle early to pass the all-star label permanently upon any of the current athletes, with the main share of the campaign still ahead. In the second place, this is a subject of debate that seldom gets the debater, anywhere.

Here are the late Walter Camp's 1213 selections, however, for the purpose of any discussion desired:

- Ends—Higgins of Penn State and H. Miller of Pennsylvania. Tackles—West of Colgate and Henry of Washington & Jefferson. Guards—Alexander of Syracuse and Youngstrom of Dartmouth. Center—Weaver of Centre. Quarterback—McMillin of Centre. Halfbacks—Harley of Ohio State and Casey of Harvard. Fullback—Rodgers of West Virginia.

Camp himself called Alexander and Youngstrom "the greatest pair of defensive guards that have ever been seen on the gridiron—Alexander in particular against running plays; Youngstrom being the terror of opponents when forced to kick." If there are any better tackles around today than Henry or West, they can't be located. These two rank among the all-time all-stars.

Nineteen nineteen was the year that little Centre College of Kentucky first sprang into prominence. It conquered the great West Virginia team that year, gave Harvard a colorful battle in 1920 and beat the Crimson in 1921, due to the extraordinary play of Bo McMillin and Red Roberts.

If given sufficient time, West Point's football team may complete the job of playing at least one college team from every state in the union. Within the past ten years the Cadets have drawn their opposition from not less than 25 states, ranging from California to Maine, Minnesota to Florida.

Every New England state has been represented on the Army slate, as well as New York, Pennsylvania and Maryland in the East. From the South, Florida, Alabama, Arkansas, Tennessee and Texas have furnished Cadet foes. West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas and South Dakota also have contributed a variety of gridiron fodder for the soldiers.

California's Olympic crew champions have been broken up by graduation. Four of the oarsmen who shared the triumph of Amsterdam in 1924 remain as a foundation for the varsity which Coach "K" Elbright hopes to develop into another Poughkeepsie winner in 1926. For a new stroke oar to replace the great Pete Donlon, Elbright may have to look no further than his freshman pace-setter of last season, Duncan Gregg, who has power in every inch of his 6 feet 2 1/2 inches.

By The Associated Press—Sheridan—Eight registered voters, valued at $19,000, were stolen from the A. S. Vaughn farm near here.

Dayton—From 14 acres of Willmore's 1100 1/2 acre farm, 210 bushels of corn was produced this season.

Eugene—Mrs. Elizabeth Workman, 73, and Mrs. Marie Roberts, 70, were injured in an automobile wreck and were in a hospital here. They were riding in a car with Steve Koster when the steering gear broke.

Hood—J. E. Myerl, superintendent of Prineville schools, was elected president of the Central Oregon School association.

McNary Introduces Forest Bill Today

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Authority for the sale of Oregon to receive $250,000 of the proceeds of land reserved for the national forests in that state and to use the proceeds for erection of state buildings at Salem, Ore., is sought in a bill introduced today by Senator McNary, Oregon.

Senator Cutting of New Mexico is said to be the best piano player in the senate. But the lobbyists seem to be best at drumming up business.

Pile Sufferers

You can only get quick, safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—congestion of blood in the lower bowel. Nothing but an internal remedy can do this—that's why cutting and salves fail. Dr. Leonard's Hem-Roid, a harmless tablet, is guaranteed to quickly and safely banish any form of pile misery or money back. The Red Cross Drug store and druggists everywhere sell it with this guarantee.—Adv.

Ed Jensen Third In Team Tryouts

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Nov. 11 (Special)—Ed Jensen, of La Grande, finished third in the varsity cross-country team tryouts held Friday, November 8, over the 2 1/2 mile course, and thereby won a prominent place on the squad of ten men chosen to compete against Oregon State college in a curtain-raiser for the annual Homecoming game, between the two schools, Saturday, November 16. Jensen is making a name for himself on the campus in track events.

Overnight News Briefs

Football interest in Eastern Oregon today is centered in the Pendleton-La Grande game here, which is to be held at 2 p. m. A victory for La Grande would find the Tigers and Madsen fighting it out for the championship here next Saturday. The Tigers could stage a comeback and defeat the Pendleton, La Grande and Milton-Freswater teams would be in a trifling tie. In Portland, the two undefeated high schools, Washington and Commerce, are meeting this afternoon and the winner is expected to make a real bid for the state title.

St. Mary's Victor Over Santa Clara

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11 (AP)—A crowd of 42,000 spectators saw St. Mary's Gladiators take a hard-fought 6-0 victory from their old-time rivals Santa Clara, in their annual gridiron struggle in Kezar stadium here yesterday. Victory came to St. Mary's in the last quarter on a long pass after they had been held on the line for three quarters. Mack Bennett, left halfback, heaved a 32-yard pass to Toscani, right half, who ran 20 yards to score. The try for extra point failed.

Marsters Retains Grid Leadership

By The Associated Press—Although injuries have ended his football career, Al Marsters, Hartmouth quarterback, continues to lead the nation's players in individual scoring. Figures compiled by The Associated Press from the eight major groups of conferences in the country show Marsters leading the procession with 103 points in six games. In second place with 51 is Gene McIvor of Tennessee, who set in the grandstands while his team crushed Carson Newman, 22-0, on Saturday. McIvor and other Tennessee regulars were kept out of that contest to insure their being in condition for the game with Vanderbilt on Saturday.

USUAL UPSETS OCCUR SATURDAY

Stanford Hard-Pressed to Win—Oregon State Rooks Defeat Frosh.

The usual occurred in Saturday's football games over the nation—that is, there were the usual number of upsets. Among these were the 13 to 12 tie game between Yale and Maryland, the fact that the Bagshaw coached University of Washington team held the mighty Cardinals from Stanford to a 6 to 0 score, and the 9 to 7 victory for Iowa over Minnesota.

Stanford had been expected to win by at least two or three touchdowns, but was hard pressed to score the lone six points, which resulted from a break that gave the Warner team the ball on Washington's 14-yard line a few moments after the game opened. Several plays were required to put it over. As a matter of fact, the supposedly weak Washington team outplayed the Stanford aggregation throughout, chalking up considerable more yardage.

Washington State college battled a brilliant tribe of Comanches from Idaho for half a game with the score tied at 7 each, but in the last half ran wild to swamp Idaho, 41 to 7.

Down south, the Southern California team ran roughshod over Nevada to win 66 to 0. California had little trouble in downing the Montana varsity in a free-scoring game that ended 52 to 15.

Rocky Defeat Frosh

Other college scores in the west follow: Oregon State Rooks 7, Oregon Frosh 6; Pomona 15, Arizona 12; College of Idaho 12, Pacific 12.

Trask gave Notre Dame a real scare Saturday by holding a 7 to 6 lead until the last quarter, when
