

Medical Springs Grange Selects 1930 Officials

By Mrs. M. F. Raymond
(Observer Correspondent)

POSDORA, Ore. (Special)—Mrs. P. E. Whitten was selected master of Medical Springs grange for the ensuing year at the meeting held in the school house Tuesday evening. Other officers elected and re-elected were W. H. Duncanson, overseer; Mrs. M. F. Raymond, lecturer; Frank Whitten, steward; Lloyd M. Jody, assistant steward; Mrs. Lloyd M. Jody, holy assistant; E. H. Williams, chaplain; secretary and treasurer; M. F. Raymond, gatekeeper; Mrs. S. S. Doherty, Ceres; Mrs. J. J. Powers, Flora; Mrs. H. W. Redbell, Flora. After the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments served by the home economics committee.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Doherty drove up from their home on Tuesday to attend the grange meeting Tuesday evening.

An enjoyable "500" party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Nelson on Wednesday night. Four tables were at play and ladies first prize was won by Mrs. Wesley Brown. George Williams was awarded high score for men. Mrs. E. L. Nelson an consolation prize. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Brown, Mr. and Mrs. L. Van Vleet, Mr. and Mrs. George Williams, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Stratford, all from Baker, and Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. David Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Robinson. After the games delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Walter Bishop moved his family to La Grande Tuesday. Mr. Bishop has been gasoline engine mechanic for the company for the last year.

Miss Pearl Murray returned from Elgin Monday evening where she had spent a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Beckie.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Duncanson and family drove to La Grande Sunday to spend the day with relatives. Mr. Duncanson's mother, Mrs. Julia Duncanson, accompanied them and will visit for a few days before returning.

The Relief society met at the home of Mrs. W. W. Gray Tuesday afternoon for a work meeting. At the close of the afternoon Mrs. Gray served refreshments.

The mill did not run Armistice day and several couples took advantage of the shut down by going to La Grande for the celebration.

MENUS

By Sister Mary

Roast pork adds a welcome variety to the winter menu. Although tastes may differ as to the degree of cooking, roast pork, there never is any question regarding roast pork. Pork must always be thoroughly "done."

The flesh of pork is less firm than that of other meats and the fat is soft. It is always well to choose that with as little visible fat as possible, for there is always plenty of fat distributed through the muscle.

Several cuts are desirable for roasting. The loin, fresh ham and shoulder are the meatiest. The square ribs live up to their name and need no roasting if roasted alone, but are often used in a crown roast of pork.

For Festive Occasions

When the shoulder or ham is chosen it is usually boned by the butcher and stuffed. The loin roast in particular makes a dish suitable to serve at a festive occasion of some sort in place of beef.

Apples are traditional with pork, but cranberries or tart plums are equally good.

When serving a dinner with you go to a game tomorrow.

port, be careful not to serve other foods rich in fat. Pan-fried vegetables in particular should be avoided.

Pork is not roasted like most other meats. Instead of putting it into a hot oven for the first few minutes of roasting, it is put into the oven at the temperature that is to be maintained through the entire roasting period. A temperature of 350 to 375 degrees is or a "moderate" oven requires a well done, tender roast. Thirty minutes for each pound of meat with an additional 15 minutes should be calculated as the length of time required to roast pork.

Always put a pork roast on a trivet to keep it out of the fat which drips from the meat to the bottom of the pan.

Either a covered or an uncovered roaster can be used with good results.

Distinction in Colors

In ancient Egyptian paintings, men and women were painted red, the men being given a somewhat darker shade. Prisoners were painted yellow.

Scots in United States

The earliest Scottish immigrants to this country landed at Port Royal—now Annapolis—Maryland—Nova Scotia in 1629. They were under the leadership of Sir William Alexander. They have gradually migrated to the West.

Light Sleepers

The hypnotic sleep of vertebrates is not usually deep, as the animals are aroused without difficulty from their state of immobility. But, while generally motionless, they can still move their eyes and react optically. A hypnotized rabbit also reacts to the sound of a whistle.

A lad's wrestling club has been formed in London. You have to learn how to defend yourself when you go to a game tomorrow.

HAT'S IN RING

New alignments may be necessary in California, following announcement of Ray L. Riley (above), state comptroller, that he will be a candidate against Governor C. C. Young. It has jarred the plans of the anti-Young forces temporarily.

Up One Day; Down Next, She States

"For twelve years I suffered with a severe stomach trouble. At times I would 'prow' around my heart till I could hardly breathe. My liver was inactive and I was badly constipated. Headaches kept me miserable. Then rheumatism and neuritis set in and I'd have pains in my back and sides that would force me to give up and go to bed. I was up and down that way most of the time.

"My sister got me to try Sargol and two bottles of this medicine completely relieved my troubles. I eat hearty meals now without a sign of indigestion. The headaches and rheumatic pains have disappeared. I go right through my housework without having to lie down during the day. Sargol Pills overcame my constipation entirely.

"Thanks to Sargol I am enjoying splendid health for the first time in twelve years."—Mrs. John H. Hultin, 8385 25th Ave., N. W., Seattle. Red Cross Drug Store, agents.

House Made of Newspapers

Newspapers were the only material used for the whole of a house, with the exception of the framework and the floors, built in Massachusetts. The newspapers several layers thick, were varnished and set between wooden uprights.

"Chain Stores"

It was in the grocery field that chain distribution first made its appearance. Chain groceries now do about one-third of the grocery business. Next in size are the five-and-ten-cent store chains.

There's a Reason for Childish Ills

Many children have chronic ailments that are unsuspected. As a rule children are credited with complaining about every little thing. But when a thing becomes common they treat it as a matter of course and say little.

If a child becomes peaked there is a reason for it. If a well child suddenly develops illness there is a reason. Headaches become the every-day experience of an eight-year-old girl. They dated from a fall in the schoolyard, which disordered the spine and which was easily adjusted after the child had suffered more than a month unnecessarily.

By my health methods I correct diseases of the eyes, ears, nose, throat, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and lower organs.
