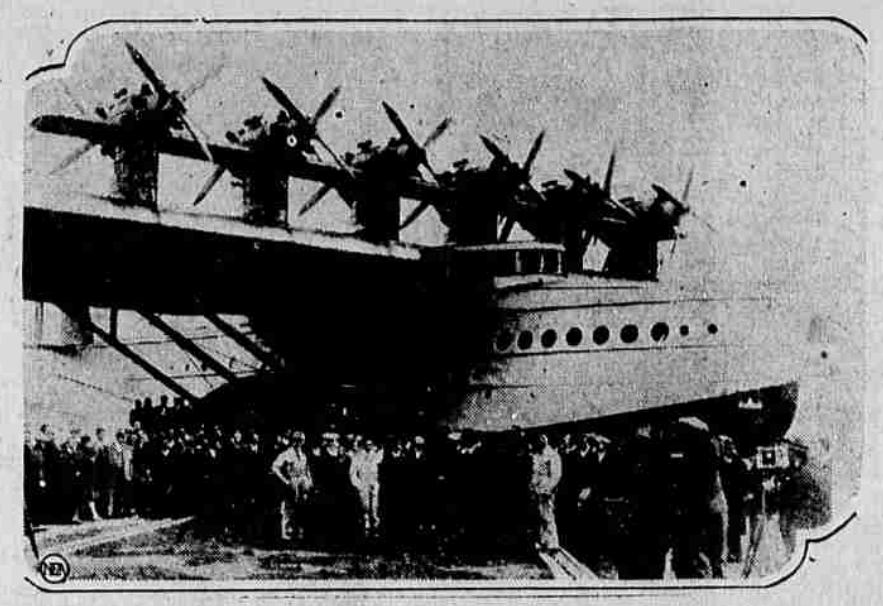
WHEN GIANT AIRS HIP TOOK 169 ALOFT



The largest number of passengers ever taken aloft either in airplane or dirigible—169 persons—here are shown grouped about the giant German-built flying boat DO-X just before it took off on an hour's flight over Lake Constance, Switzerland. This picture indicates strikingly the size of the ship—world's largest heavier-than-air craft. Note the 12 engines and propellers atop the plane's one huge wing and the unusual manner in which they are mounted. Dr. Claude Dornier, the builder, declared that next March or April he will send the DO-X across the Atlantic to demonstrate that planes can be made as practical as dirigibles for long flights. Dornier planes later will be manufactured in this country.

Water Shortage Continuing At Kamela, Report

By Mrs. C. E. Thornburg
(Observer Correspondent)

KAMELA, Ore. (Special) — There is still a shortage of water in Kamela and now the water at the highway construction camp at Rodie has given out. Thursday night it was necessary to get water from Meacham, which is nine miles distant, for the construction camp. With so many new residents in Kamela, the water question is likely to become very serious. There have been three families move in here within the last two weeks.

Albert Kennison, government trapper for this district, was in Kamela on Friday. He reports finding 12 coyotes at one baiting station near Kamela that morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Costille, of Meacham, were in Kamela on business on Thursday.

Mrs. Abbott and Miss Alta Smith who are in charge of the Kamela store, went to Pendleton Wednesday. Miss Smith had some dental work done. While they were gone Mrs. W. Evans took charge of the store.

Mrs. Barnes and daughter, Betty, went to Pendleton Monday. They were accompanied by Mrs. Barnes' sister, Mrs. Blackburn, of Portland, who had spent Sunday night with them in Kamela.

Mrs. W. W. Weise and daughter Jacqueline went to La Grande on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hug, of La Grande, have moved to Kamela where he is employed by Guy Tamerie hauling logs for the Mt. Emmy Lumber Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Biever drove to La Grande on Armistice day. They report that the highway was very slippery in places because of the fresh snow, especially near Hilgard, where so many cars went in the ditch that day.

Frank Martin and a friend en route from Marysville, Cal., stopped in Kamela on Thursday to visit friends. Mr. Martin is a son of Engineer Joe Martin of Pleasant valley, who formerly lived in Kamela.

Mr. Casey, of Meacham, visited at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Roy Hawes on his way home from La Grande Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hawes and children went home to Meacham with Mr. Casey and spent some time there visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Barnes motored to La Grande Friday.

Mr. Castille and daughter, Bernice and Mrs. Muriel Brooks were in Kamela on Friday.

The school children are preparing a program for Thanksgiving.

Lillian Schubert, who had the misfortune to break her leg recently, is now able to get around some on crutches. She is studying at home and hopes to be able to catch up with her class when she returns to school.

Word has been received from Mrs. F. P. Brooks who was called to Portland on account of the illness of her father, that his condition is very serious.

Taber Re-Elected National Master

TABER RE ELECTED front
SEATTLE, Nov. 18 (AP)—Louis J. Taber, Columbus, Ohio, was re-elected for his fourth term as national master at the sixty-third annual convention of the national grange here today. With but one state dissenting, the grange registered the nearest to a unanimous vote that has been recorded in 54 years.

W. H. Reuter Wins Turkey Tourney

W. H. Reuter was the winner of yesterday's turkey tournament held at the country club golf course, finishing his nine holes of play with a gross of 42. Subtracting his handicap of nine, this gave him a net of 33. A. R. Hunter, who finished second with a gross of 45, handicap of 11 and net of 34, also received a turkey. A fair-sized crowd of golfers took part in the tournament and, considering the lateness of the year, some very good scores were made, it is said.

ARMY FAVORS NEW LINE AS DEFENSE AID

warning of an impending emergency. He said it would take more than six and a half days to handle an army corps on one railroad line.

Highways would greatly assist in time of emergency, he said, but pointed out that motor transportation is regarded by the war department as inadvisable, slow and not economical for distances greater than 200 miles. He explained it would take 139 miles of highway to hold an army corps lined up with transport trucks at regulation distances.

Highways Not Dependable

Colonel McBride also pointed out that highways are not long dependable under heavy war traffic because they quickly wear out.

Concentration points, in his opinion, would be located near San Francisco, Sacramento and Stockton in event of attack on the coast. These points, he admitted, would be nearer the coast and more likely to be attacked by hostile airplanes than parts of the Southern Pacific lines into the northwest.

LEADERS REFUSE TO WORRY ABOUT DROP

consumer with the closest attention since the market bubble popped out," Mr. Simpson said, "and he is still buying as before. There is no evidence whatever to disturb our confidence in the soundness of business. On the contrary, people are getting away from speculation and back to legitimate business."

The viewpoint of the banker was given the Tribune by Frank O. Wetmore, senior chairman of the board of the First National bank. He said there is ample reason to expect a "resurgence in many lines of business."

Careful Survey

"It is especially obvious," he said, "that people are going to keep on eating, wearing clothes, riding in automobiles, living in houses and enjoying life."

"We have canvassed the present situation with greatest care," said Fred W. Sargent, president of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, "and we will make no curtailment whatever in our plans."

W. B. Storey, president of the Santa Fe, said that railroad was placing its largest order in many years for equipment," he said.

The president of Montgomery Ward, and company, George R. Everett, said his company was going ahead with expansion plans "as though there never was a stock market."

Frank S. Conningham, president of Butler Brothers, said: "of course, there has been a temporary recession in business, but I'm sure it will be neither violent nor long lasting."

Representing public utilities, Samuel Insull was interviewed.

"The stock market," he said; "hasn't made the slightest difference in our policies. We are spending hundreds of millions of dollars next year, as every year, for new construction."

Similar optimistic notes were sounded by the heads of Armour and Co., Swift and company, the International Harvester company, and other large manufacturers.

had conferred with members of this group.

The Borah proposal won favor with all factional leaders as a time saving propostion. It is the belief of those in charge of the bill that if this high point of controversy is deferred until the close of debate faster time will we made.

A number of senators still were discussing the possibility of an adjournment at the end of this week.

Leaders believe that by then most of the bill could be disposed of except the contest over an increase in the sugar duty.

The westen republican independents and the new group of Hoover regulars, however, still are opposed to adjournment pending disposition of the measure.

HOOVER PREPARES FOR CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—President Hoover today cancelled practically all engagements so he might be uninterrupted in his work of preparing for the opening of the business conferences tomorrow at which time executives of the eastern trunk railways will call at the White House.

passed 50, of whom 25 resided in Mexico City.

The principal rioting in Mexico City occurred within a few blocks of the national palace, at the juncture of La Avenida Madera and La Calle Bolivar. Several trucks of Ortiz Rubistas clashed with Vasconcelistas listening to speeches from their campaign headquarters, located there.

Police Restore Order

In an exchange of shots and a rain of stones and pieces of asphalt from the pavement two persons were killed outright and many wounded of whom two died later. Two hundred police intervened and restored order. Outside the capital one was killed and 12 wounded at Villa Cecilia, near Tampico, four killed in fighting at Vera Cruz, and one killed at Cordoba.

Actual count in the presidential race will not be known probably until early in December when returns are sent to the chamber of deputies for official canvass.

There was no doubt as to the outcome of the voting Ortiz Rubista headquarters claimed their candidate polled more than 1,000,000 votes; headquarters for the Vasconcelistas tactily admitted defeat, but claimed fraud and asserted Vasconcelos was the rightful president of Mexico.
