Some of Wheat Fails to Sprout Due to Dryness

By G. C. Meek
(Observer Correspondent)
WALLOWA, Ore. (Special)—The first snow to cover the ground which fell here last Sunday has about all melted away. The snow was about an inch in depth in the hill sections but did not appear to contain much moisture. Many farmers over the community report that much of their fall sown wheat has not sprouted yet because of the soil being too dry and do not feel that there is much chance of the wheat getting started this fall. The new grass has started some in the dry range sections but has not become large enough to provide much feed for anything except sheep which are able to do quite well on the short growth of grass.

W. M. Brooks and wife, of Diamond Prairie, left on the stage Saturday afternoon for Island City to visit their son, Delbert Brooks, and family. Mr. Brooks has a herd of milk cows at the ranch there which he expects to have brought to his place on Diamond Prairie soon.

Mr. T. M. Gastin and two grandchildren visited the latter part of the week at Mrs. Kate Gastin's in the hills east of town. M. A. Peterson, of Whiskey Creek, who was painfully injured a week or two ago when he was shoeing a horse, suffering a dislocation of his shoulder, is much improved. He is now able to use his arm some.

C. A. Hunter was in the Maxwell section recently gathering some of his cattle which had not been brought off the summer range.

Mrs. John Couch, of Leap, was a visitor in town the last of the week.

Ed Bell, of Whiskey Creek, was sawing wood for M. A. Peterson last week.

L. W. Minor was on the sled last a few days the past week. Elmer Osborn and Glenn English, of Parsnip Creek, were business visitors in town last week.

Gilee Plass has been building a stone cellar at his farm in the Leap community.

Miss Ann Murphy, who is teaching school in district 49, drove to Free-water the last of the week and spent the weekend with her parents.

A. W. Harmon, of Leap, was a business visitor in town Saturday afternoon.

Robert Henderson, of Powwatha, was a business visitor in the community the latter part of the week. Mr. Henderson is working for Mr. Bowen, who has a large logging contract near Mud Springs where the crew will be busy for the next several months. Mr. Henderson reports conditions excellent for logging in that section but states that water for camp use and for work stock is getting quite scarce. While here he visited his mother, Mrs. J. G. Henderson, who is staying with her daughter, Mrs. George Hearing, at Minon.

Mr. Fisher and wife and Miss Cora Fisher, of Joseph community, were visiting relatives in the Leap community Sunday. Mrs. Fisher, of Leap, was an Enterprise business visitor the latter part of the week. Reports from Lostine state that a car, which was not drained at night, was greatly damaged by the side of the engine bursting from freezing of water inside.

E. A. Downing and wife, of Leap, were visiting their daughter, Mrs. James Weaver, and family, of Alder Slope, the first of the week.

A number of the farmers of the Leap community have been doing their winter hutching of hogs.

Sam and G. C. Meek were Enterprise visitors the latter part of the week.

A. W. Johnson, of Lower Valley, who has charge of the handling of stock shipment from this end of the valley for the Wallowa County Stock Marketing association, was in the Lostine community the latter part of the week checking up on stock which was ready for shipment to market from the Enterprise. Weekly shipments of several cars of cattle and hogs are being made by the association.

C. T. McDaniel was a business visitor in La Grande the last of the week.

A dance was given at the H. H. Whitmore farm in Upper Camp Creek community Friday night with many attending from the Leap community reporting a very enjoyable evening.

Bible Reading Is Rare In Colleges
NEW YORK (AP)—Only 7 per cent of the men and women in 23 colleges and universities read the Bible regularly, a survey by the League of Women Voters and religious research reveals. Forty-seven per cent of the women read it regularly, and 39 per cent of the men. But 86 per cent of the men and 59 per cent of the women accepted the life of Jesus as an ethical standard for modern life. One explanation of the decrease in Bible study is given by Dr. Thomas Arke Clark, dean of men at the University of Illinois. "Probably not so many Bibles are packed in freshmen's trunks today as several years ago," he said, "but I am not sure that the Bible is less seriously or generally read now than it was then. A good deal of the Bible reading with which I was familiar 40 years ago was conventional, routine, mechanical. Whatever such reading is done now, I believe, has in it a deeper purpose."
