There is something about a handkerchief that makes it a gift supreme. Just what it is, is hard to say. Nevertheless it is a gift that is appreciated, and that after all is the true test of a gift.

TROJANS TO PLAY NEW YEAR'S DAY

Southern California Accepts Invitation From Pasadena Officials.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5 (AP)—The University of Southern California will represent the West in the annual New Year's day football classic in the Rose Bowl, Pasadena. Coming from the Trojan general athletic committee last night like a thunderbolt, announcement of U. S. C.'s acceptance dispersed half the heavy cloud of conjecture which hangs over the selection of representatives of the West and for the blue ribbon contest each year. According to talk in the hall, the selection committee of the Pasadena Rose tournament, heaved a sigh of relief, and promptly washed the following simple announcement was made by the U. S. C. committee.

"The University of Southern California, with the approval of President H. B. von Kleinow, accepts the invitation of the Pasadena Rose tournament to play at the Pasadena Rose Bowl."

No discussion of all-America candidates for end is complete without taking Wear Schoonover, the Arkansas athlete, into account. He is finishing a remarkable all-around athletic career this year with the rugged Razorback of the southwestern conference, where the competition has been about as keen as anywhere in the country.

Here's how an expert observer sums up his case for the jury: "Schoonover stands six feet two inches and weighs 180 pounds. For the last two years has been picked on the all-southwest football team and is captain-elect of the Razorback cage squad for 1929-1930.

"Four coaches who have seen Schoonover this year regard him as the greatest end the southwest has produced.

"He is a terror on defense, a fine blocker and a perfect pass receiver. He has stood out in every game the Razorbacks have played, far outshining the backfield men.

"Against Baylor he intercepted 14 passes without a miss and after one ran 65 yards to a touchdown.

"Against the Texas Angles he kicked two extra points and blocked an opposing try for point to give his team a 14-13 win.

"Against Centenary he intercepted a pass and ran 92 yards for a touchdown. He has scored five touchdowns and kicked seven extra points to place him eighth among conference scorers, the only lineman in the first twenty."

Cy Leland has been by far the most sensational ballcarrier in the southwestern conference. The noted Texas Christian sprinter has gotten away repeatedly for long scoring dashes, combining a terrific drive and shiftness with his remarkable speed. Leland's work against Texas and Baylor on successive Saturdays stamped him as one of the outstanding touchdowns makers of the country.

The sweep of Pittsburgh's 1929 gridiron machine has prompted Smoky City experts to compare its strength with that of the famous Panther outfit of 1916, when Pop Warner was at the coaching helm and Dr. Jack Sutherland, the present head coach, occupying a position of left guard.

Pitt has had a number of fine teams but this year's array turned in the best record of any since Warner's era. On the 1916 array were Bob Peck, two-time all-American center, Thornhill, Sies and Pat Herron, a great end. The backfield consisted of Morrow, Hastings, Dehart and McLaren. Seven of the regulars afterward took up coaching jobs. Peck still is athletic director at the Military Academy while Jimmy Dehart is head coach at Duke university, newest member of the southern conference. "Red" Carlson, 1916 end, has developed Pitt's most successful basketball teams, turning out an all-American forward in Charley Hyatt, while his old teammate, Dr. Sutherland, has been fashioning gridiron all-stars among them. Chase, Galt and Wright of previous all-American fame and such candidates this year as Donohoe and Gains, Montgomery and Parkinson.

Joe Stecher Pins Howard Cantonwine

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 5 (AP)—In an unusually clean and scientific wrestling match, Joe Stecher, with his famous pair of legs, took two out of three falls from Howard Cantonwine here last night. Stecher won the first fall with a body scissors in 29 minutes, 5 seconds. Cantonwine took the second fall in 4 minutes, 48 seconds, when he scuffled out of another body scissors with Stecher's legs around his body and crashed the latter's head to the mat, momentarily stunning him. Stecher required only 12 minutes, 13 seconds for the deciding fall, when he pressed Cantonwine's shoulders to the mat with a body chancery.

Jack and Gene May Meet in Ring

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (AP)—Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney may meet without combat in the ring at Madison Square Garden Monday night if the plans of the promoters of the annual Christmas fund boxing show go through. Dempsey is sought as referee for the fight card and an announcement from the New York State Athletic commission that he had been given permission to serve in that capacity is expected daily. An invitation has been extended to Tunney to serve as one of the judges for the same program but he has given no indication whether or not he will accept.

Protest Filed By Hood River Held Test Case

Considerable publicity has been given in the last few days to a protest filed with the Oregon State High School Athletic Association board of control by Hood River school authorities in reference to alleged inequity of Willard Jarvis, of Portland, who participated in the Washington-Bend game Thanksgiving day.

The full statement made to the board by J. L. Breckenridge, superintendent at Hood River, shows that the protest actually takes the status of a test case. "This protest was not filed because we have anything against Jarvis, for he is a fine young man and a splendid athlete, but when other schools can hide behind local rules which violate association rules and get away with it, it will become increasingly difficult for other schools to maintain honest programs," Mr. Breckenridge says in his statement. "If these rules mean anything at all, let us enforce them. If they are unjust, let us change them. But whatever the rules be, let them be uniform for all, and not let some schools participate in state championships and use players not eligible elsewhere."

The Portland schools are not in the state association, having an organization of their own, but the Thanksgiving day game was played with the consent of the state association, and therefore, Mr. Breckenridge holds that state association rules should govern. He charges that participation of Jarvis in the Bend game violates article 2, section 4, in that all players of both teams, when such game is sanctioned, must be eligible under the rules of the association. In his statement of facts, he points out that Jarvis completed his first three high school years in Hood River, then moving to Portland where he played for Washington high, although his parents did not move to Portland with him and although he has no legal guardian in Portland. Under the Portland association rules, this was apparently legal, but became a matter for protest when the Portland school which he attended played at Bend, an association member. The state association requires that a student, in moving from one school to another without parents or legal guardians, must complete one semester's work before being eligible to represent his new school in an athletic way.

St. Mary's Asks Pittsburgh For Game On Dec. 21

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5 (AP)—The Chronicle said today that Coach "Bill" Madigan, on behalf of St. Mary's college football team, last night authorized the invitation of the University of Pittsburgh, eleven to play a post-season game at Keizer stadium here with the undefeated Grays on December 21.

The paper said that Coach Madigan placed the matter of inviting the Eastern champions in the hands of the junior chamber of commerce, sponsor of the proposed game, and later immediately dispatched a telegram to the undefeated Pittsburgh warriors.

Class Tossers To Start Work On Next Monday

With the first basketball already made in the La Grande high school, following a few nights of practice, preparations are being made this weekend for the issuing of the class call on Monday. It is expected that when the class athletes turn out more than 100 boys will be practicing on the maple courts.

Wisconsin Coach Favors Captains

MADISON, Wis., Dec. 5 (AP)—The growing policy in universities and colleges of having no regular captains for athletic teams, finds no favor with Coach Glenn Thielthwaite of the University of Wisconsin.

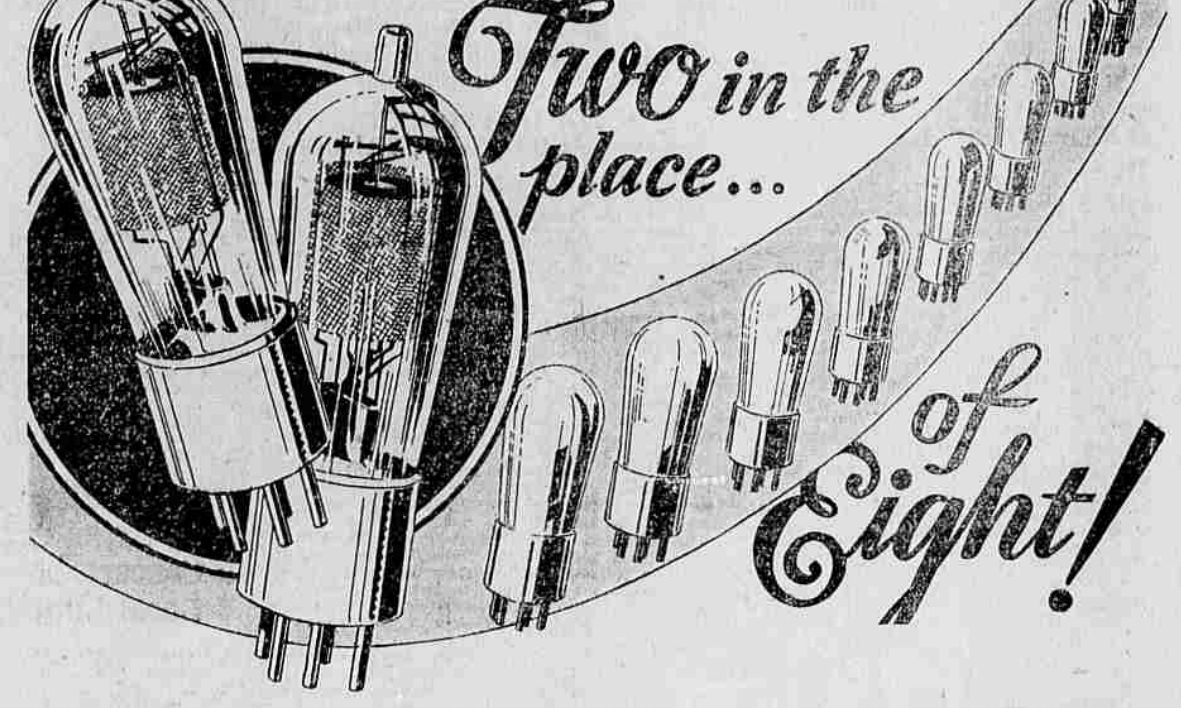

"I hope Wisconsin will never reach the state where it is afraid to elect a football captain," he said, "I believe the election of a captain is one of the biggest, most important and finest traditions in football. Fraternity politics—one of the reasons for abandoning football explanations at some universities—has not entered into consideration during my time at Wisconsin. When it does will be time enough to seek some means of combatting such a condition."

Rockne and Lieb Absent, But Cheered

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 5 (AP)—Blues kept Knute Rockne and his assistant, Tom Lieb, from attending the Notre Dame football banquet last night for the 1,300 guests gathered in the dining hall of the university, were eager to praise the prowess of the two coaches. Lieb, at his home, listened over the radio to the speakers.

Lieb, who directed the Notre Dame attack during Rockne's illness, was at the bedside of his wife in Rochester, Minn.

ATWATER KENT SCREEN-GRID RADIO

Two in the place... of Eight!

You might get more power out of 20 or 30 Ad style tubes if you could line up that many in a set—but that doesn't mean performance.

That doesn't mean the elimination of A. C. hum, distortion, set noises, interference, whistling, etc.

That doesn't mean selectivity, greater number of stations to log or perfect tone at any volume.

That doesn't mean sensitivity, distance or dependable, uninterrupted service.

Not that anybody knows—it doesn't.

But if you'll come into our store and allow us just a few minutes of your time, we can prove to you that the new Atwater-Kent Screen-Grid radio not only will do these things—but perform in every way any set you have ever heard of—and give you greater dollar for dollar value....

There are reasons why—certainly—and you'll know them, too, once you've seen and heard this radio wonder.

GOLFING FIELD DOWN TO EIGHT

Big Three—Hagen, Diegel and Sarazen—Remain in Western Tourney.

By Paul B. Zimmerman (Associated Press Sports Writer)

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5 (AP)—Three veterans of the links, on whose determined brows at one time rested the Professional Golfers' association crown today will carry their campaign for another title to the third round of match play over the Hillcrest course in the annual tournament, bent on repeating.

Heading the list of yesterday's eight survivors, and outstanding among the former champions who won their way through the second and 25-hance round, are Les Diegel, Aquila Caliente, professional and defending title holder, and Walter Hagen, five times victor in the event. Gene Sarazen, New York, who boasts a brace of P. G. A. triumphs, complete the trio.

Of the five others who stroked their way through the second round of match play, only one, Al Espinosa, of Chicago, ever reached the final bracket.

Diegel Favored

The reign of this trio of elite professionals is destined to be brief, for before this day is done, either the former open champion from the metropolitan district, or "Laraging Lee," winner of the crown, by virtue of his remarkable steady game coupled with his great backswing, is scored to come through.

The great Hagg also is picked up to parade through the third bracket, despite the fact that his opponent, Tony Manero, New York, has displayed remarkable form.

Semi-Finals Tomorrow

Should these favored sons of the fairway pass today's obstacles, they will clash tomorrow in the semi-finals, just as they did a year ago. The match in that event held fair to overshadow even the final looked for Saturday.

Although the second round brought no upsets of import, it was not without close, heart throbbing competitive play. The Far West saw its three candidates swept off the slate, seemingly with the stroke of a hand, but the prize tilt of the day was staged by "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn and Al Espinosa. Mehlhorn was felled but it took his Chicago foe forty holes of golf before the trick was turned. A narrow hole saw the New Yorker stumble to a six and defeat.

Two Big Games Are Scheduled For Saturday

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 5 (AP)—Two touchdown tests, one of inter-sectional prominence and the other a bitter battle of years standing, listed on the final football program of 1929, provide a double-barreled climax for Dixie's gridiron season.

These Saturday meetings are Oregon's engagement with the University of Florida at Miami and the University of Georgia's traditional tilt with Georgia Tech at Athens. The giant wooden bowl owned by Madison Square Garden interests will accommodate those attending the Inter-sectional contest, while the new stadium of the Georgia Bulldogs, dedicated with an early season triumph over Yale, will be used for the Tech-Georgia tussle.

The Oregon Webfoots rested at Jacksonville, Fla., today, preparatory to embarking tonight on the last stage of their journey from the Pacific coast.

Four celebrated grid veterans, Chick Shelton of New York university, "Burr" Jones of the Army, Bob Zuppke of Illinois and Bill Roper of Princeton, have accepted invitations to attend the Tech-Georgia contest.
