THE PROOF OF LOVE—If ye love me, keep my commandments. And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you forever. Even the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him; but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you.—John 14:15, 16, 17, 18.

What the public's concerned about is a criminal's behaviour when he's on parole, and not when he's in prison. The criminal who don't behave when he's locked up and under guard ain't very criminal. A pedestrian is mostly someone who'd rather walk than try to park flat to curb.

University Quint Wins First Game

EUGENE, Ore., Dec. 7 (AP)—The University of Oregon varsity football team went through its first practice game of the season last night, defeating a team of former Oregon stars, 44 to 33. The Oregon men looked unusually small as a university team but made up for their size by speed.

A BIG YEAR FOR LA GRANDE IN 1930

The survey of business and industrial prospects for 1930 in La Grande and Union county, published by The Observer today, is very much in keeping with the optimistic outlook throughout the country as indicated by reports made to President Hoover in recent Washington conferences. As a matter of fact, local conditions are such that 1930 promises to be considerably in advance of this year, with construction work demanding more labor and industries continuing the 1929 level of operation. There will be no shut-down by the lumber mills here. Production by these and other smaller industries will continue, with some increases. Railroad employment will be at least on the 1929 level and the new passenger station, costing $128,000, will be started in the early spring. The details for this structure are now being completed. Other buildings in the business district will continue the demand for construction labor. Road construction payrolls will be much greater in the La Grande territory, both by the county and state, next year than they were this year. The total sum of activities for 1930 gives a surprisingly bright hue to the new year's horizon. In addition to the business and industrial picture, agricultural prospects are easily on a par with those of the present year and the improved tone of the wheat market, increased dairy activities, good fruit prices, etc., promise a substantial valley back-ground. General confidence and a strong buying power are shown in early holiday business. In spite of unseasonal weather merchants report business volume up with last year and numerous gains have been shown. Never in recent years has there been so many known facts to give assurance of steady employment and business activity in the year ahead. 1930 will be a good year. It will be a big year for those making the most of its opportunities with aggressive work and careful planning.

The reinforcements were on the way even while the special message of President Hoover dealing with the situation was being read to the house. They were drawn from naval bases, principally Quantico, Va., and started on their journey last night. President Hoover did not mention the number of additional troops necessary to deal with the disturbed situation which had its origin in a strike of students and resulted in the killing of five Haitians and the wounding of twenty others yesterday in the battle with marines at Aux Cayes. Secretary Stimson, however, placed the number at 500, and in addition, said Brig. Gen. Russell, the American high commissioner had asked that the cruiser Galveston be sent from Quantico to Port Au Prince.
