Volley Ball Is Popular Sport At Union, Ore.

By W. V. Connor. (Observer Correspondent)

UNION (Special)—The local high school gym witnessed three volleyball games Thursday night. In the first contest the high school girls for the second time defeated the Wallowa nine, the score being 23 to 28. This game ended the season for the U-H girls. They played through the entire schedule with only two defeats, both by the strong Enterprise team. The second Thursday contest was between the local business men and the Apple Pickers from Imbler. They played three games, the visitors winning the first and last of the set. The Union team included Fred N. Fox, L. Z. Terrell, Adolph Goodbrod, Tom Baird, J. Rosewall and J. P. Colburn, Clive Wilson, Lyle Wilson, Austin Martin, Leo Westenskow, Mlle Pratt and Charley Kenyon representing the Apple Pickers. A second team game resulted in another victory for the visitors. A return game has been arranged.

An item in the local paper reports the sale of the Marshall Huffman ranch south of Union to Leonard Huffman, possession to be given the first of the year. Mr. Huffman, who came here from Clave has been living on the ranch since September.

Superintendent Campbell, of the Wallowa schools, was in Union Thursday evening. He came with the high school girls for the volleyball game.

Ralph Cleaver and Irvin Westenskow were in Union Thursday. They are from Imbler.

The Union high school will open its dramatic program for the year by the presentation Friday, Dec. 12, of the comedy-drama, "Stolen—$100" by the following cast from the junior class: Barton Conner as Steve Audane the money order clerk; Dale Baxter as the mail carrier; Weldon Weaver as mailing clerk; Glase Vaden a country boy; Leonard Clark the postmaster; Ronald Crossland the inspector; Don Creator the stamp clerk; Allen Boyles the postmaster's daughter; Edith Chamy a lady of importance; Oreta Baum the hired girl and Lois O'Line a collector.

Harry Ansell had the misfortune about two weeks ago to throw a hip out of joint while at work and as the injured hip does not seem to be getting much better he is planning to go to Portland to the Veterans hospital the first of next week for treatment.

Miss Foley and Miss Larson, two instructors from the Eastern Oregon Normal school, paid a visit to Miss Connor Thursday afternoon.

Chicken pox seems to still be "popular" in the grade school here, several more children having been home last week with symptoms of the disease.

George Cox, a former resident of Union, is here from Brownsville for an extended visit. Mrs. Cox expects to join her husband here soon.

The school board of district No. 5 held a meeting at the high school gym recently with several patrons of the school present. The budget, calling for a little less than last year, was adopted and the clerk reported the district as out of debt. A move has been inaugurated to have the old building in North Union disposed of by the board as it rapidly falling into decay and is a fire menace. Some patrons suggested that the building be torn down and the lumber used in building a play shed on the grounds of the grade school.

The Methodist Ladies Aid members held a bazaar and cooked food sale today. An old-fashioned fish pond was one feature of the bazaar. Since the shutting down of the sawmill at Pondosa a number of their former employes have moved to Union for the purpose of wintering here and placing their children in the Union schools.

A representative of the Louise home for girls was in Union this week soliciting financial aid for the work of this institution.

Seek Pardon For Florence Banker

SALEM, Ore., Dec. 7. (AP)—Ex-Sheriff Taylor and Jack Magladry of Eugene headed a delegation waiting on Governor Patterson yesterday, asking for the pardon of Henry Bergman, who is serving a 13-year penitentiary sentence for embezzling funds of the Florence State bank, of which he was president.

The committee brought numerous letters and a petition signed, the governor said, by many of the most prominent people in Lane county. He indicated that he would not act on the request immediately.

Lindman Elected Whitman Captain

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Dec. 7. (AP)—Leroy Lindman, end, was elected captain of the Whitman college football team at a squad banquet here last night. Lindman, an all northwest end, has completed his third year of varsity football and succeeds Walford Holmgren, this year's captain, who will play in the East-West game of the Shrine club at San Francisco.

Lindman is from Seattle, having played on the West Seattle high school team. He is also a track star being runner up last year in total numbers of points for the northwest conference. He holds the conference records in the shot put.

Grain Co - Op Is Not Magic Wand, But Hopes High

By Cleveland Williams. (Associated Press Staff Writer)

SPOKANE, Wash., Dec. 7. (AP)—The northwest grain cooperative, backed by the government, is no magic wand made to turn the farmer's grain into gold, but it may have just that effect.

"The aim of the present movement is to stabilize the market in the interest of the grower and the public," says H. E. Goldsworth, regional secretary of the North Pacific cooperative, which has headquarters here.

But this elimination of waste in handling, the reduction of speculation and the stabilization of the grain market is expected to have quite an effect by increasing returns of the farmers from Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Western Montana.

Farmers who belong to local co-operatives may secure loans from the government on their wheat and may store the grain in cooperative elevators and warehouses until a good time has come to sell. The in-

Kamela's Water Shortage Is At Last An End

By Mrs. C. E. Thornburg. (Observer Correspondent)

KAMELA, Ore. (Special)—At last there is a supply of water here. The local engineers have brought several engine tanks of water from the Bodie water tank and filled the Kamela well. This is a real relief to Kamela women who have been finding it difficult to clean house and do the family laundry. The old saying that "you never miss the water 'til the well runs dry" has surely been found true. To many it was the first experience of the kind, and it is hoped that it may be the last.

The weather has been unusually mild this week and threatening rain.

Mrs. Lucy Wigglesworth has gone to Walla Walla to visit friends for a few days. She is expected home Saturday. During her absence her daughter, Mrs. W. T. Brown of La Grande, and Mrs. C. Hudson are running the boarding house.

Mr. and Mrs. Abbott, who were residents of Kamela for several months, left here Thursday for Pendleton. They expect to make their home at Echo. While here Mrs. Abbott was in charge of the Kamela store.

Miss Alta Smith and Muriel Brooks are now working in the Kamela store.

Mrs. Muriel Brooks and her little daughter, Iona, spent Wednesday in La Grande, shopping and visiting friends.

Mrs. C. E. Thornburg spent Wednesday night in La Grande in order to attend the barge concert, which she thoroughly enjoyed.
