Ruby toppled over backward. Goldstein took the final count of ten prone on his back and had to be carried to his corner by referee Lou Maganola.

There was a quick flash of that doomed feeling in Ruby's face in the middle of the first round when he shot his right three times to McFarlin's chin without result. Jimmy not only proved he could take anything the ghetto's hero had to offer but countered with weapons of explosive variety.

McFarlin's victory established him beyond doubt as the outstanding contender for the welter title held by Jackie Fields. The ballyhoo for this title scrap can now go on with the customers' approval.

JIMMY McLARNIN KAYOS GOLDSTEIN

Killer of Ring Demonstrates That he Still Possesses Punching Ability

By Alan Gould
(Associated Press Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP)—The baby-faced kid is still the killer of the ring.

Irish Jimmy McLarnin, the cherubic welterweight who looked as though he didn't have a savage thought in his head, crushed the jewel of New York's ghetto, Italy Goldstein, last night in less than four minutes. After a short but sensational and highly dramatic battle, McLarnin stretched the hand of the Jewish boy on the canvas for the full count of ten with only 52 seconds of the second round elapsed.

There had been some talk beforehand that Ruby would not be so easily "taken" but the pride of the stable gave a magnificent exhibition of courage and gameness before he was battered to a limp walk by the terrific punching of one of the hardest hitters of modern ring history for his size.

It was the end of another broken trail for Goldstein but Ruby won the admiration, the roar of a capacity crowd of close to 20,000 even though he was hopelessly out-gunned by a greater fighter.

Hell Saves Youth

Goldstein was floored twice by McLarnin's slashing attack before he took the final count. Only the bell saved the Jewish youth from a knockout in the first round when he gamely crawled to his feet after a count of nine and reeled along the ropes, trying to check the storm of blows that blinded him.

Ruby, his pale, ashy features swollen and his soft, deep set eyes bloodshot, stumbled to his corner. He came out warily in the second round, stalling somewhat futilely now, for there seemed not much chance for him against the chunky, determined Irishman. With the grace of a cat and the swift striking power of a panther, McLarnin leaped his right to the jaw. Goldstein toppled over the lower strand of rope. His body was outside on the edge of the ring, his legs draped over the ropes. Somehow, at the count of nine, the Jewish boy hauled himself back into the ring and to his feet. He wobbled back, jabbing McLarnin. The baby-faced one coolly forced his prey to the center of the ring, drove his left, then the right to the head and

STOP FIGHT OF FIELDS, JONES IN 7TH ROUND

BOSTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—A no-contest verdict ended the non-title bout between Jackie Fields of Los Angeles, world's welterweight champion, and "Gorilla" Jones of Akron, Ohio, in the seventh round last night. The referee, Joe O'Connor, stopped the fray declaring that Jones was not giving his usual exhibition. Fields burst into tears. The state boxing commission ordered Eddie Mack, promoter, to pay both purses.

Fields made a furious start, belting the Negro's head and body with stiff lefts during the early rounds. Jones made the best showing in the third by landing several short but hard rights. Field's left hooks appeared to be slowing down in the final rounds.

From the opening of the fight, the contestants were continually jerked from the gallery, with organized demonstrations directed particularly at Jones. A crowd of 15,000 saw the match.

O'Connor's verdict was not approved by Eugene Quekley, member of the state boxing commission at the ringside. He said Jones' lack of aggressiveness made the match dull, but he thought the battlers tried to give an honest fight.

PLAN TO SUPPORT ATHLETES GIVEN

Southern Conference Has New Idea Presented to it Today.

BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 14 (AP)—The Southern conference today had before it a resolution proposing an "open and understood" arrangement for the support of athletes in the colleges and universities of the south.

The resolution was presented at a round table discussion lasting until past midnight by Major W. H. McKellar, faculty chairman of athletes at the University of the South.

Major McKellar proposed that each institution of the Southern conference be privileged to award scholarships or an emolument otherwise designated to athletics, the sum to be issued by voucher by University authorities sufficient to cover the athlete's college fees, text books, board, lodging and fraternity or other college organization dues; that the universities keep a complete and public record of such assistance; that no other funds should be received by the beneficiary save from his parents or other legal guardian, and that the receipt of such other funds from outside sources should result in the student being dismissed, or in the failure of the institution to do that, the expulsion of the institution from the conference.

Major McKellar declared the gate receipts from football season would amply supply revenue for the support of the athletes which would eliminate the surreptitious subsidy now generally practiced, not only in the South, but in the nation at large.

He declared it to be his opinion that "there is no moral reason why men should not get an education through athletic ability. Just as other men get an education through other specialized talents."

Hanley Arrested By "Knute Rockne"

WILMETTE, Ill., Dec. 14 (AP)—A policeman last night arrested Dick Hanley, for speeding.

Hanley tried to explain who he was, football coach at Northwestern university, and all that.

"So you're Dick Hanley, eh?" said the policeman, "well, I'm Knute Rockne. Let's go over to the station house and meet Fielding H. Yost, Dr. Clarence W. Spears, and the boys."

At the station house Police Chief William Brautigam recognized the coach and released him.

"Humph," snorted the arresting officer. "If Northwestern had gone as fast on the gridiron as their coach did in that automobile, it might have got somewhere."

Sport Slants
by ALAN J. GOULD

The ring campaign of 1929 draws to a close with the heavyweight business on the upgrade but with chaos existing in most of the other divisions.

There are no recognized champions in either the top or bottom of the list. The flyweight and bantamweight classes are in dispute. The light heavy and full fledged heavy divisions are on the shelf for the time being. The National Boxing association does not recognize Mike Walker as the middleweight king, though no one has yet appeared capable of knocking him off the Jersey Irishman's perch.

This leaves only three generally recognized world's champions at any weight—Christopher Battalino among the featherweights, Santoy Mandell among the lightweights and Jackie Fields among the welters.

So confused has the modern championship situation been that the record of the past eight years reveals only two divisions with an uninterrupted title succession.

Walker, Lazo, Dundee and Fields have occupied the welterweight throne without any breaks arising. Wilson, Greb, Flowers and Walker have kept the middleweight succession intact.

Otherwise there has been at least one gap in every class, due to a wide variety of causes. The death of Pancho Villa, the banishment of Phil Rosenberg, the retirement of Benny Leonard and Gene Tunney, the withdrawal of Johnny Dundee, Jack Delaney and Tommy Loughran from the classes they ruled, all contributed to the confusion. Nor has the atmosphere been cleared to any marked extent by the sundry, conflicting edicts of boxing commissions, influenced by expediency and policy.

Lenglen Clerking In Paris Store

PARIS, Dec. 14 (AP)—Suzanne Lenglen, famous tennis star, is working as a sales woman in a small dressmaking establishment here. Her job is selling, demonstrating and giving advice on sport clothes.

"I have always wanted to do this very thing," she said today. "I adore clothes. I am through with tennis for the time being at least. I hope to make lots of money. Baldwin Baldwin? Leave him out of this. He has nothing to do with it."

The latter remark was in answer to questions concerning the grandson of E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin to whom she has been reported engaged at various times.

Mademoiselle Lenglen is probably the highest paid saleswoman in the Paris shops. It was said her job was a first move to re-establish her in her amateur status which she forfeited in 1925 when she joined C. C. Pyle's professional tennis team.

It's a long way off but the 1929 football season will involve an unusual number of new and entertaining rivalries.

Breaking away from tradition much as Harvard and Yale have done in recent years, Pennsylvania has shaken up its scholastic program, taking an Wisconsin, Kansas, Notre Dame and Georgia Tech to give more national scope to the Quaker program.

Here are a few of the other outstanding new hookups:

- Southern Methodist and Notre Dame
- Pittsburgh and Notre Dame, Southern Methodist and Navy
- Carnegie and Georgia Tech
- Florida and Alabama
- Dartmouth and Stanford
- Ohio State and Navy
- West Virginia and Oregon State at Chicago
- Idaho State and Colgate
- Colgate and Mississippi

Looking as far ahead as 1931, the lists being prepared by the energetic schedule makers include Harvard-Texas, Yale-Chicago and Army-Pittsburgh.

The terrapin industry is threatened with failure, we read, but there always will be plenty of poor fish.

Hack Wilson Will Fight Art Shires

CHICAGO, Dec. 14 (AP)—"Let them fight!" was the reply of Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis today when he was asked if he would take action against the proposed professional boxing match between Lewis "Hack" Wilson of the Cubs and Arthur Shires of the White Sox in Chicago next January.

CHICAGO, Dec. 14 (AP)—A forgotten boxing match between two baseball players whose public reputations largely rest on their accomplishments in extra-innings, not-for-profit fighting, is causing more excitement than championship battles recently staged in Chicago.

Promoter Jim Mullen has signed Charles Arthur (the great) Shires, the Chicago White Sox' ex-outfield first baseman, and Lewis (Hack) Wilson, slugging center-fielder for the National League Chicago Cubs, for a city series, match next January. So great is interest in the fight that Mullen today was negotiating with Chicago stadium officials for use of the huge arena when he brings the American and National league battlers together.

Tartans, Trojans Ready For Tilt This Afternoon

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 14 (AP)—Tartans and Trojans, the former representing Carnegie Tech. of Pittsburgh, Pa., and the latter the University of Southern California and the west in today's inter-sectional football clash, are ready.

While dopsters were spotting the Trojans two touchdowns, Coach Walter Steffen, who led his Skilbos onto a Pasadena turf for a limbering up drill yesterday after rattling across the continent, warned with uncrossed fingers, "don't be surprised if we hand the Trojans a nice little upset."

"Says you?" Howard Jones, coach of the Southern California institution queried through the public prints.

"Says I," Steffen answered. "Never mind Pittsburgh (the team the Trojans will meet in the annual east-west classic at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena on New Year's day), these Skilbos will give you all the battle you want, and if you don't play your best you're in for the same dose California gave you," he roared, through the locker room, "heads up and fight."

On the strength of their records, U. S. C. looks a little better than the Skilbos, having scored 400 points to 42 for ten opponents, to 132 for Carnegie against 47 for eight opponents. Both teams have lost two games, and Tech has been tied once. Troy's defenses were at the hands of California and Notre Dame (by one point), while the Skilbos were at the hands of Pittsburgh (24 to 13) and Notre Dame (7 to 0).

They have stopped censoring plays in New York. Quite a blow to the show business.

Not all Scotchmen may make their mark in the world, but they are pretty sure to come close.

Californian Killed When Car Plunges

NEWPORT BEACH, Cal., Dec. 14 (AP)—The body of Ross Weyer, 23-year-old San Diego manager for a Los Angeles stock brokerage firm, today is in the Orange county morgue at Santa Ana, while investigators are endeavoring to piece together from the hysterical story of Miss Jewell Henfro, 19, San Diego stock exchange employe, the facts of an accident which plunged Weyer's car into Newport Bay last night.

Miss Henfro, rescued from the top of the almost submerged car after it had plunged from a bridge over an arm of the bay, on the Los Angeles-San Diego coast route highway, is in a Newport beach hospital, suffering from severe shock. When rescuers reached her she was in a weakened condition from her exertions in trying to get Weyer to the surface. Firemen finally extricated Weyer's body.

Investigators have been unable to determine definitely from the girl's story whether she or Weyer was driving the car when it shot through the bridge railing and into the water. She said blinding lights of an approaching car in a dense fog had caused the accident. Where the couple had been, she did not reveal.
