The officials selected were: Ralph Coleman, Corvallis; Hobby Morris and Gene Kunz, Seattle; Bill Mulligan and Earl Jenne, Spokane; Al French and Ed Hunter, Portland and Gale Mc Moscow.

The 1930 schedule and officials are as follows:

Jan. 18—W. S. C. at Oregon; Coleman, referee, Morris, umpire.
Jan. 19—Idaho at O. S. C.; Mulligan, referee, French, umpire.
Jan. 20—W. S. C. at O. S. C.; Mulligan, referee, French, umpire.

TONY MANERO WINS TOURNEY AT CATALINA

AVALON, Catalina Island, Dec. 15 (AP)—Tony Manero, 24-year-old professional of New York City, today holds the second annual Catalina open golf tournament title as a result of some superlative shooting in the final stages of play yesterday when he wound up the 54 holes for a 184 card, 12 under par.

Trailing the youth from the sidewalks of New York was Olin Dutra, native California, one stroke behind, while "Wild Bill" Mohlhorn, another New Yorker, won third money with a 187.

The winning scores: Tony Manero, 64-65-13-184. Olin Dutra, 65-67-41-187. Bill Mohlhorn, 63-67-54-188.

For title winning performance Manero was awarded a check for $1,500 while Dutra, the husky Los Angeles pro skillfully accepted second place money of $1,000. Mohlhorn's 188 for third place won him a check of $750.

Shires To Meet Trafton Tonight In Chicago Ring

By William Weekes
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
CHICAGO, Dec. 16 (AP)—Charles Arthur (the great) Shires and George (conqueror) Trafton will meet in a boxing bout tonight.

After a week of hardy conversation—liberally sprinkled with personal pronouns—Shires, the fighting baseball player and Trafton, the battling football player, will engage for five rounds or less on promoter Jim Mullens' card at the White City arena.

"Just a stepping stone to bouts with the best of them," was Shires' pre-fight statement.

"Shires' fight career will end tonight—solely," Trafton said.

It will be Shires' second fight for profit, and his aim is to score his second consecutive knockout victory. Shy Arthur also expects it to serve as a tune-up bout for his world series battle with Black Wilson, boxing Chicago Cub outfielder—if the project does not collapse as it threatens to do.

Already has "Shiner"

Trafton, who will have a 46-pound weight advantage, will be making his initial venture as a money-seeking heavyweight boxer under a serious handicap.

The handicap is a black eye, suffered yesterday during the Chicago Bears' final game of the season against Bennie Friedman's New York Giants. Trafton tackled Tony Plank's Giant halfback and came up with the dark optic.

The 215-pound gridiron star was worried. Fearing his public would believe Shires was responsible for the black eye, he made a formal announcement that he had a black eye before ever entering the ring with the White Sox first baseman.

"The only reason this Trafton won't have two black eyes when the fight is over will be because I will locate his chin before I get a chance to work on the good eye," Arthur said.

Wilson in Doubt

There still was hope that Black Wilson would leave his Virginia mountains to meet Shires in the ring, but it grew more remote today. Black was inclined to call off the dogs to pick up $15,000 and $3,000 for training expenses, because of opposition by the Cub management.

The Dentistry of the Augusts said he would make his decision within 24 hours, but indicated he would accede to the wishes of his wife and William L. Veck, president of the Cubs.

"I hate to pass up that $15,000 for 15 minutes in the ring," Wilson said in a telephone conversation from his home Martinsburg, W. Va. "That's almost as much as I will make playing baseball all summer."

Mr. Veck would say nothing other than to reiterate: "We don't want Wilson fighting."

Another capacity crowd was anticipated at White City, which would be an attendance of about 5,000 spectators and receipts of approximately $12,000. Shires will receive 25 per cent of the gate, while Trafton has a flat guarantee of $1,000.

Kicks Cow; But She Wins Out on Points

ATLANTA (AP)—When in Rome do as the Romans is pretty poor advice for novice bullfighters. N. S. Pruitt of this place engaged in an argument on that basis with a young cow which didn't know much about bullfighting either. She kicked him three times and Pruitt went down.

He thought he understood how it was done and bouncing up aimed a prodigious kick on his own behalf. The cow stopped his foot with her horn. Pruitt broke his ankle and the heifer won on points. Pruitt doesn't think much now of toradors—or cows either.

JUDGE BEST OUT OF COURT

BELOIT, Wis. (AP)—Judge George Griggs does more work out of court than on the bench. Because he has been responsible for getting most suits settled before trial he is known among lawyers as "the settling judge."

Blasphemy Laws Are Attacked in Commons

LONDON (AP)—A bill to abolish the Blasphemy Laws has been introduced in the House of Commons.

It would provide that "no criminal proceedings shall be instituted in any court against any person for schism, heresy, blasphemy, libel or atheism."

On the same day that the bill was introduced a delegation from the Society for the Abolition of the Blasphemy Laws called upon the Home Secretary urging government support of the bill.

Aviation Risks Now Acceptable

WASHINGTON (AP)—Increasing safety in aviation is recognized in the development of protective insurance for flying club members by the National Aeronautic Association.

A form of coverage has been evolved which will release clubs and club members from all legal liability, as well as assure them of continuous flying regardless of the number of accidents or "wash-outs" attending instruction of members.

Risks which a year ago were not remotely considered by aviation insurance companies are included in the plan, the joint work of an association executive committee composed of Edward J. Warner, William P. MacCracken Jr., and Dr. George W. Lewis.

The new plan assumes risks which have not been taken by insurance companies—protection of students on solo flights and continuation of coverage even if a plane has been destroyed and replaced.

Formerly insurance was available for licensed pilots alone. Liability was almost only assumed for one plane. When it was destroyed and replaced, new premiums were exacted for the new plane.

The reinstatement clause is absent under the new terms and insurance is carried over even in the replacement of a destroyed plane by insurance underwriters.

The plan is heralded as the first step ever taken to perpetuate the activities of a flying club. There are more than 100 clubs in the country. Formerly, without insurance protection, clubs were often forced out of existence when planes were destroyed.

Rudolph Holding Lead In Billiards

DETROIT, Dec. 16 (AP)—With 13 of the 28 games completed, Erwin Rudolph of Chicago is still holding the lead in the world's championship pocket billiard tournament here. He won his fourth straight in as many starts by defeating Pasquale Natale, of Detroit, last night by 125 to 77 in 21 innings. His high run was 27 to Natale's 26.

But the feature of yesterday's play was the sensational uphill fight waged by Ralph Greenleaf, former title holder, to keep from being eliminated. Greenleaf defeated Onofrio Lauri, of Brooklyn 125 to 123 in 24 innings of gruelling play. In the first half of the 17th inning Greenleaf was trailing by 115 to 73.

Coast Colleges Open Three-Day Meet in Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16 (AP)—Graduate managers and faculty representatives of the ten Pacific coast conference colleges opened a three day meeting here today to draw up 1930 football, baseball and track schedules and handle other annual matters in connection with the conference.

With football dates as the outstanding matter of business, the delegates also had before them a question of appointment of a commissioner of football; advancement of the opening date of practice from September 15 to September 19, and a revision of eligibility rules.

Members of the conference are: California, Washington, Southern California, Stanford, Oregon, Oregon State, Washington State, Idaho, Montana and University of California at Los Angeles.

EASTERN GRID TEAM BEGINS ITS PRACTICE

CHICAGO, Dec. 16 (AP)—Twenty-two midwestern and eastern football stars who will represent the East against the West in the Shrine benefit game on New Year's day at San Francisco, today began active organization.

The squad includes 11 eastern players and a like number from the midwest, the former selected by Coach Andy Kerr, of Colgate, and the rest by Dick Hanley, of Northwestern. The first workout was set for today at Lyche stadium, Northwestern's home field, which will be the training ground until the squad starts west.

The team this year appears to be more powerful than last year in the line, while the list of backs also is impressive. Outstanding among the linemen are Cannon and Twomey, of Notre Dame; Anderson and Erickson, of Northwestern; Bronko Nagurski and Tanner, of Minnesota; Bill Mooney, of Georgetown, and Red Slight, of Purdue. Famous backfield men of the season, who will invade the west are Frosty Peters, Illinois; Willis Glasgow, Iowa; Lloyd Brazil, University of Detroit; Tommy Dowler, Colgate, and Tony Holm, Alabama fullback star.

Four games have been played in the series, the first three resulting in victories for the west, while last year's classic was won by the east, 26 to 6.

A Tip . . . from Andrew Carnegie

ASKED to explain his phenomenal success, Andrew Carnegie blandly attributed it to his ability to get men to work for him who knew more than he did.

And that's a formula for success. Nobody who is really successful does all the work himself. He employs other people's minds and efforts.

Do you do the same in the intricate business of running your home and taking care of your family? You can, quite easily.

You can employ specialists in diet; you can serve the master dishes of famous chefs; you can have the advice of style authorities in selecting your clothes, of whole electrical laboratories in buying household appliances, by reading the advertisements.

All the newest knowledge—knowledge millions of dollars and years of effort have won—is contained in the advertisements.

If you will use the advertisements in this newspaper as Andrew Carnegie used men who knew more than he did, every dollar you spend will be spent wisely, economically, and will return full measure of satisfaction. That's the way to be a success in the greatest business in the world—making a home.

The case of the Army this year illustrates how little difference there is between being one of the pace setters or a member of the rear-guard in college football.

If just a few "braves" had come the way of the Army, the whole story might have been different. If the long dashes of such young men as Hootch of Yale, Wolcott of Illinois and Elder of Notre Dame could have been prevented, West Point might be slinking the praises of an unbeaten team instead of consoling Captain Red Eagle and his mates.

The margin of missed tackles was not much, perhaps a matter of inches, but in each case it meant the difference between victory and defeat for one of the best Army teams developed in many years.

No one who witnessed the soldiers' thrilling stand against one of the greatest football machines in the country, Notre Dame, coming away with anything but admiration for the stamina, courage and nobility of the 11 cadets who played through the entire 60 minutes of action on a frozen gridiron.

John Hertz Marrel of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, home of extraordinary athletic talent, played one of his greatest games of a four-year career at West Point against Notre Dame. When "cagle didn't carry the ball, Marrel did. The plunging fullback did not get off a poor punt all afternoon, actually outpacing the All-American quarterback, Frank Carideo.

On that particularly bitter afternoon Carideo and Marrel individually and collectively outshone any member of the famous Irish backfield troop.

"Do not overlook the Irish situation in the Army game," writes a Notre Dame observer. "To say that they were lucky to beat the soldiers is to disregard the facts. Notre Dame went through the toughest schedule of any college in the country. Throughout it was necessary to keep the team close to the peak for every team the Irish met shot the works." You admit Army played its greatest game of the year against them, which makes the Notre Dame victory all the more notable. This team had lost Tim Moynihan and if you think he wasn't a great center, ask the Army coaches. Tim just about ruined Southern Cal. Perhaps the Irish were a little stale by the end of the season but they won."

On the other hand, if you listen to Joe Bosenk, the old Penn State star and former line coach at the University of Florida, the best game of the year would be between the first and second teams of Pittsburgh. If there was a better guard anywhere than Ray Montgomery of the Panthers, Joe couldn't find him. Bosenk was an All-American guard himself, picked by Walter Camp in 1923, and therefore knows the intricate requirements of this position.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Purdue's Big Ten football champions were tested at a "Victory Banquet" at an Indianapolis hotel by the alumni association of that city.

College Humor presented Jimmy Paulin, Bolleemaker, comely, with a handsome watch in recognition of his achievement in the field of academic athletics.

"On to a Conference Championship!" read a banner that floated over the campus in Texas Christian during the month of November while the Horned Frogs were in the last stages of the campaign.

They went through to the title, helped greatly by Cy Leland, a halfback. Leland broke the tape ahead of a picked field in the century at the Denver national meet last summer. Asked which he liked best, track or football, the Texas flyer said, "Football for me."

But you can deliciously flavor a rice pudding for three. And although millions of pounds of Hills Bros. Coffee are sold every year, it is never roasted in bulk. Only a few pounds at a time by the continuous process—Controlled Roasting. As a result a matchless, uniform flavor is produced such as no other coffee has.
