

Cove Churches Making Plans For Christmas Programs—Remington To Speak on Tuesday, Dec. 24

By Mrs. A. G. Conklin
(Observer Correspondent)

COVE, Ore. (Special)—The Baptist people will give a Christmas program at their church Tuesday evening, Dec. 24. A pageant "Angels' Message to the World" will be given by Mrs. Joe Fisher's class as a part of the program.

The Methodists are preparing a special program for Christmas eve. The Episcopal Sunday school will give a short program and will have their Christmas tree Sunday afternoon.

The St. Rev. W. P. Remington will be here to conduct services at the Association Episcopal church Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 24 at 2 o'clock.

The schools will have their programs Friday afternoon Dec. 23. The seventh and eighth grades will unite with the high school for their programs.

The Cove community is saddened by the death of Enock Wardell which occurred at his home in La Grande Saturday evening. Mr. Wardell has been a resident of this valley for about 27 years, nearly all of this time having been spent here. The family moved to La Grande 7 years ago and have been greatly missed by Cove people.

Mrs. Connel Cox and son, Lowell Cox, of Ontario, were weekend visitors of Mrs. Cox's sister, Mrs. Nellie Martin.

Miss Lola Martin, who teaches at Hilgard was at home for the weekend.

Fred Okazoff, who has been at in Washington arrived here and some time with his family are making their home Okazoff's parents, Mr. William Harris and Mrs. Mary Harris.

The society of the Baptist will have an all-day meeting of Mrs. J. W. W. A post-lunch dinner will be served at the local E. Emer-

Among those who went from here were John and Vivian Richards, Arthur Hancock, Ed Edwards, C. W. Clark, H. Lorenz, Joe Fisher, Dr. H. H. Little, Charles Connor and Edwin Boswell.

The Home Missionary society met with the Ladies Aid society at the church parlors Tuesday afternoon. The final reports from the ladies bazaar is that over $100 was cleared at their sale with still a few supplies for the living room which are on sale. Mrs. W. A. Winters led the devotion at the meeting. Mrs. Winters and Mrs. Chadwick sang and the lesson under discussion was "Enigma".

The Ladies Guild was very pleasantly entertained by Mrs. Lulu Goyette at her home here Saturday afternoon. In the absence of the president, Mrs. H. I. Barker, Mrs. A. G. Conklin presided. At the business meeting the ladies gave a small sum to be used for the Christmas tree for the Sunday school. After the business meeting bridge was played at four tables. The members present were Mrs. G. E. Barker, Mrs. C. E. Bertsch, Mrs. E. E. Coad, Mrs. A. G. Conklin, Mrs. T. R. Conklin, Mrs. Royal Cooley, Mrs. J. P. Dean, Mrs. J. H. Fletcher, Mrs. R. S. French, Mrs. H. S. Comstock, Mrs. T. C. Hefly, Mrs. L. M. Laird, Miss Bernice Via and three guests. Miss Elvora Hanson, Mrs. Cora Bloom and Mrs. George Southwick, Mrs. T. R. Conklin won the high score and Mrs. J. P. Dean the consolation. Lunch was served.

Mrs. E. E. Coad and Mrs. J. E. Mills will entertain the Guild Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Coad. The gentlemen will be invited.

Mrs. E. H. Bell was hostess at a delightful party Saturday evening honoring her daughter, Roberta's thirteenth birthday anniversary. The young people present were Miss Frankie Pulp of La Grande, Lloyd Mills, Theodore and Eleanor Ogilvie, Rhylis and Robert Hancock, Shirley Brazill and Doree DeDardo. The adults who were guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. Harrington, of La Grande, Mrs. J. E. Mills, Mrs. C. N. Ogilvie, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hill, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bradille and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fiedler. The evening was spent in playing games. The refreshment table was beautifully decorated in a rose color scheme with rose candies and a pink and white birthday cake with 13 pink candles.

GREAT HORSE DIES TODAY OF OLD AGE

LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 17 (AP)—Fair Play, sire of Man O'War, the super-horse, and a score of other big money winners, is dead of the infirmities of age. The great son of Hastings—imported Fairy Gold, foaled in 1865, passed yesterday at the Elmendorf estate of his master, Joseph H. Widener.

For years Fair Play flourished under the regime of the late Major August Belmont, and at the death of that sportsman was sold at the dispersal sale of the Belmont thoroughbreds in 1925 for $100,000 to Mr. Widener. The latter turned down many huge offers for the horse.

Fair Play became famous when he sired Man O'War, which won every race in which he started except the one in which he was defeated by Harry Whitney's Upset. Man O'War is now at stud near here, along with a number of other sires.

Fair Play was the sire also of such great stars of the turf as Mad Play, Larkin, Stramboli, Baracuda, My Play, Mad Hatter, Dunlin, Chatterton, Sporting Blood, Sands of Pleasure and Flare.

PORTLAND BLANKED AGAIN

VANCOUVER, B. C., Dec. 17—(AP)—The Portland Buckaroos are still the scoreless wonders of the league today. The team which Hobby Howe sent his men out after last night against the Vancouver Lions didn't materialize. Instead the Lions got a goal of their own in the first period, protected it for two more periods, and emerged with their fifth straight win by a 1-0 score. The victory gave the Lions the right to perch on the top of the league.
