MENUS

By Sister Mary Beef tripe is an appetizing meat product that is easily digested and very nourishing. It also is quite cheap and can be prepared in a variety of ways.

Tripe is available in the market fresh or pickled and may be plain or honeycombed. Honeycomb is considered the more delicate.

Fresh tripe is ready to use at once after careful washing, but pickled tripe must be simmered until tender before using in any recipe. The water in which pickled tripe is simmered should be thrown away, for it contains the excess acid absorbed by the meat during the pickling process.

Broiled tripe makes an excellent winter breakfast dish. Served in well seasoned sauces, it makes a good main dish for many different meals. While fresh honeycomb tripe is best for broiling, the pickling tripe can be used if simmered and drained.

Tripe boiled until tender, cut in neat dice and added to a well-made cream sauce is often called "rook sweatbread" and is a truly delicious and economical dish.

Onions are the traditional vegetable to serve with tripe. Mashed potatoes or cooked rice often are used as a border for tripe in a sauce.

Many cooks prefer to cook fresh tripe several hours in salted, acidulated water before using it in any way. This makes the meat very tender and particularly delicate.

A pound of tripe will serve six persons, for there is no waste in or on it.

Broiled Honeycomb Tripe Wash tripe well and cut in neat pieces for serving. Cover with boiling water and simmer until tender. Drain and pat dry between towels. Dip in fine cracker crumbs and brush over with melted butter or cooking oil. Drain off all surplus oil and roll again in cracker dust. Broil under gas flame or over clear coals. Cook the smooth side first for three minutes, turn and cook the honeycomb side two minutes. Place on a hot platter honeycomb side up, sprinkle with salt and pepper and spread with butter. Sprinkle with minced parsley and serve.

Tomato sauce, onion sauce and savory brown sauce are good to serve with broiled tripe. Tripe steaks and lyonnaise of tripe are more appetizing combinations.

12 CONTESTS ON TIGER SCHEDULE

BAKER ANNOUNCES SCHEDULE

Baker High school announced its basketball schedule yesterday as follows: January 4, Mac-III at Baker; January 10, Wallowa at Wallowa; January 11, Enterprise at Enterprise; January 17, Union at Union; January 18, North Powder at Baker; January 21, La Grande at La Grande; January 21, Pendleton at Pendleton; January 21, Haines at Baker (tentative); February 1, Pendleton at Baker; February 7, Union at Baker; February 8, Wallowa at Baker; February 14, Haines at Haines; February 15, North Powder at North Powder; February 21, La Grande at Baker; February 22, Mac-III at Milton.

40 DEAD DUE TO WEATHER OVER NATION

(Continued from Page One) gripped in the Lake Erie ice, with her passengers safe ashore. This was the only lake shipping reported in trouble, the Goodrich steamer Alabama having docked safely at Grand Haven, Mich., after being missing several hours in rolling Lake Michigan.

Death in Louisiana

So far south did the cold extend that one death from exposure was reported in Louisiana, a state to which snow and killing cold are infrequent visitors.

The storm, sweeping east, did heaviest damage in New England. Snow, rain and sleet played havoc with communication.

Contrasting with the 18 below zero at Williston, N. D., last night was the plus 74 at Miami, which was only four degrees warmer than Los Angeles.

LA GRANDE TEMPERATURES

While the middle west, the east, the Rocky mountain areas were suffering from cold yesterday, the mercury reached a top of 29 in La Grande, melting most of the snow that fell the night before.

SUNSHINE IN OREGON

Oregon stepped itself in sunshine today, and signs of the two-week rain, which swelled rivers and sent the Willamette over its banks endangering Eugene, Ore., disappeared swiftly.

Between Eugene and Junction City, children paddled about in boats, while traffic over the Pacific Highway was re-routed southward. Springfield, Ore., probably the worst hit, reported damage would mount to thousands.

Two northbound motorbuses slid off the Pacific highway in a shallow ditch at Canas sswale. The highway was a foot beneath the level of flood waters. Crews hauled the buses back to the pavement.

Except for the Eugene district, other sections of the state enjoyed mild weather with mercury moving upward rapidly. All state highways remained open except the McKenzie Pass in Southern Oregon and certain sections in the Blue mountains in Eastern Oregon.

SILK HOSE OUTPUT UP

NEW YORK (AP)—Silk stockings, 254,000,000 pairs of them, says the Silk Association of America, were needed to supply the 40,000,000 adult women in the United States last year.

WOOL REPORT

BOSTON, Dec. 20 (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say: "There is more activity in worsted wools of fine and fine medium quality, especially for topmakers' accounts on the clean basis of 75 cents for fair to choice French combed lots of territory wool. Scoured wools are steadier on the lower basis."

"The manufacturing outlook is considered reasonably good, with low inventories the big constructive factor. Mohair is dull and hardly changed."

The Commercial Bulletin will publish the following quotations: Scoured basis—Oregon: Fine and F. m. staple 80 @ $1.15; fine and F. m. P. m. staple 75 @ .77; fine and F. m. Clothing 72 @ .72; valley No. 1, 50 @ .72.

Mohair: Oregon: 48 @ .25. Domestic grading, first combed 60 @ .67; good carding 65 @ .67.

TURKEYS STEADY

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 20 (U. S. D. A.)—The turkey market here today was steady and inclined to be weak. There was a good demand outside and the local demand was improving.

Butter And Egg Market Steadier; Veal Down Cent

PORTLAND, Dec. 20 (AP)—Following sharp declines of the last week, the egg and butter markets appeared steadier today with demand and supply about balanced.

In country meats, veal was quoted one cent lower. Reviewing the fruit and vegetable situation, the Portland bureau of the United States department of agriculture says:

"Demand for extra fancy apples, mostly Delicious and Spitzenberg, for the Christmas trade, is showing greater activity than has prevailed all season, prior to the current week. Unclassified stocks, selling at cheap prices are also in good demand. Intermediate grades, as fancy C grade and combination grades, are slow in moving, being high-priced in comparison to the ungraded lots, and hardly fine enough for Christmas gift purposes. The 'give a box of apples for Christmas' idea seems to be gaining in popularity in Portland, as in eastern markets, probably due in part to the active advertising campaign sponsored by the northwest's boxed apple bureau."

"Final production estimates of potatoes for this year, of 257,451,000 bushels, for the entire United States, shows an increase of 3,300,000 bushels over the November 1st estimate. Although the actual percentage of increase is very slight, a certain psychological effect is noticed promptly, in which lack of buying activity predominates. Both carlot and jobbing activity in potato and onion lines is extremely light this week."

"Western cranberries, which have held steady at $6.50 per 35 bbl. crate, were dropped to $6.00 this week by some jobbers, on account of large supplies and slow movement. Eastern cranberries, in bins, have undergone a similar 10 per cent reduction, from former $29.00 levels."

WHEAT VALUES TUMBLING IN CHICAGO MART

CHICAGO, Dec. 20 (AP)—Big jobs to wheat values today tumbled the market down to the lowest levels since November 18, and to about 17 cents off from recent top figures. Announcement that the break had resulted in purchase of 1,000,000 bushels of North American wheat to be shipped overseas caused only a transient rally.

After dropping to a maximum of 23 cents under yesterday's finish wheat today closed unsettled at 23 @ 23 1/2 cents a bushel net less. Corn closed 3/8 @ 3/8 1/2 down, oats varying from 9c decline to a shade advance, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 20 cents.

Prices Slump In Exchange Today

NEW YORK, Dec. 20 (AP)—"Bear" traders enjoyed their first Christmas market in several years today when prices on the New York stock exchange tumbled $2 to $15 a share, with several issues crashing through the low prices established in the dramatic break of 1,000,000 shares of North American common stock for the first time in nearly two weeks.

More general liquidation followed the stiffening of call money to 5 per cent in the last hour and blocks of 10,000 shares and larger were sold. Many important shares touched their lowest prices in some time. United States Steel went to 14 1/2, Standard Oil of New Jersey 62 and Montgomery Ward 44. Columbia Gas was down 18 points, American Machine and Foundry 14, Simmons 12, R. H. Macy 10; Sears Roebuck 5 1/2, and Atchison and Western Union 7. The close was weak.

To Open Sewing Shop Saturday

Saturday is the opening day for the "Sewing Shop" located at the Ruth-Elizabeth shop next door to the Lavender Lunch. The new business occupies the fore part of the store, with a fitting room in the rear.

This shop under the management of Miss Laura Payne, who has attended school here, and has been a resident of Eastern Oregon for several years, has two electric sewing machines, and two tailors' presses who will handle the remodeling, mending, darning, alterations, the making of organization or store uniforms, and all types of general sewing. In push seasons more help will be employed. Miss Payne says that she likes La Grande and intends to make her home here.

Miss Payne has been in La Grande for almost two weeks making preparations and arrangements for her shop.

Women Joining New Association

By Mrs. Charles Spencer (Observer Correspondent) GRANGE HALL (Special)—A grange women master's association has been organized in Oregon. The idea of an association of this kind originated at the last state grange session and a meeting was held at Oswego in the fall when the following officers were elected: Edyth Tozier Weatherford, presiding president; Mrs. Lydia Carter, honorary president; Daisy Bump, vice president; Minerva Thiessen Herz, secretary-treasurer. The aim of the association is for a wider social acquaintance among grangers and to stimulate interest in grange work.

Several women from over the state have sent their names to the secretary to be added to the membership roll. Mrs. Carter, honorary president, and a member of Oswego grange, was the first woman to hold the master's chair in the state, having had that distinction in the Tualatin grange in 1878.
