MORGAN KNOCKED OUT IN SECOND

Chairman of State Boxing Commission, However, Asks for Investigation.

By Herbert W. Barker (Associated Press Sports Writer) NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (AP)—Tom Morgan has relinquished his junior lightweight championship but whether to his conqueror, Henry Bass, or not, awaits the decision of an official inquiry by the New York state athletic commission. Bass, the pile-driving puncher from Philadelphia, knocked out Morgan in the second round of their 15 round titular bout in Madison Square Garden and apparently had succeeded in the 130-pound fight beyond a doubt. A few minutes after the knockout, however, Chairman James A. Farley of the state commission, ordered the purses of both fighters withheld pending an investigation into the bout by the commission on Tuesday. Bass and Morgan, with their managers, were ordered to appear before the solons at that time. Farley indicated that he did not believe the bout had been fought on its merits.

The somewhat intricate financial arrangements of the bout. It was said that in the event he lost, Morgan had been guaranteed $25,000 but that if he won he would receive 37 1/2 per cent of the gate. The gate, as it turned out, was approximately $23,000, of which it was said Morgan would have received little more than $10,000 had he won. The fight, while it lasted, was a sensational affair. Bass, on the long end of odds as high as 5 to 1, ran into serious difficulties in the first round. Morgan joined the Philadelphia challenger with several rights to the chin that had Bass reeling and dizzy at the bell. Wild Right Shows Ted At the start of the second round, however, Bass rushed from his corner and swung a wild right that landed flush on Morgan's chin. The champion hit the canvas with a thud and barely regained his feet at the count of nine. Bass swung both fists to the body and head. Morgan, almost defenseless in the face of the storm of leather that came his way, tried to get close enough to his rival to hold on, but Bass unleashed a terrific right to the chin that sent the title-holder down for the full count. A moderately-sized crowd of 2,600 saw the match. Bass weighed 127, Morgan 125. A society woman says she bought 100 hats in five months. The idea must have gone to her head.

Oregon State College Basketball Players

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, Dec. 21 (Special)—Mace Lyman of La Grande was one of the 10 boys to make up the basketball squad which is in California on their barnstorming schedule. Seven games in and around San Francisco will be played by the Orangemen during the Christmas vacation period. Lyman, who plays center, seems to be following in the footsteps of his famous brother who starred at center for the Orangemen several seasons ago. This is his first year on the varsity team and from present indications, it looks like he will be a valuable man on the Orange team before the season has advanced very far.

His stock jumped considerably after losing to Strub on a foul, as the Georgian was being hit, and Strubling's stock went up a notch. Rocking says his team would be glad to play Iowa. After kicking the Hitticks out, each of the Big Ten representatives made an important statement to the newspaper men. It was "I have nothing to say." If this department were offered its choice of any player in the Big Ten it would take Nagurski. Among the $125,000 worth of scholarships voted by the Harvard Corporation the other day are listed its recipients Harry Wood Jr., Victor M. Harding Jr., William H. McHale, Foster S. Davis and Ira H. Hardy—all athletes—though Harding's injury is believed to have ended his gridiron career.

SAYS EUROPEAN UNION WAS NAPOLEON'S IDEA

BERLIN (AP)—That Napoleon and not Austria-Britain was the originator of the "United States of Europe" idea is brought out in the film "Napoleon on St. Helena," which has been shown in a Berlin theater. It is a historical fact that the Corsican, when after his defeat at Waterloo he was banished to St. Helena, confessed that his policy had been wrong. The melody of European nations could never be fused into a permanently peaceful whole by the sword, he said, but only by the creation of a "federation des etats europeens."

RUSSIA'S MILLIONS LEARN THEIR A B C'S

MOSCOW (AP)—Eleven million adult Russians have been taught their A B C's in nine years, according to statistics of the "Society of Women With Literacy." In 1927 only 22 per cent of Russia's 150,000,000 people could read and write, says the society. The latest data show that 35 per cent of the population now knows its letters. The government has published A B C books in 17 languages. In the more backward regions of the Soviet Union it has introduced the Latin alphabet, which is easier for uneducated persons to learn than the complicated Slav characters. The government's "Five-Year Industrialization Plan" also extends to educational activities and provides that by 1932 literacy shall be reduced to 15 per cent.

The case of Philip Saffling, also Phil Scott, may have to be referred to a special investigator before a definite conclusion can be reached. The British heavyweight champion baffled Scotland last by a peculiar habit of remaining vertical longer than any other English pugilist has done in years. Phil now has non-plussed the best American experts by dazing the law of gravity as well as all attempts to swartie him out of the heavy-weight sweater. Just where he belongs in the picture at the moment is not quite clear, but he is there, nevertheless, and regardless of any slant to ignorance him. The critics gathered to see Victoria Campbell, the leaning tower of the Argentine, lean heavily upon Scott, but the agile Briton won on points without once hitting the floor. Again, the experts picked Otto Von Porat to dispose of Phil, but Otto made the mistake of aiming a left hook too low, and Referee Jack Dempsey, in some confusion, was obliged to mark up another victory for the invader. This brings up a curious coincidence in Scott's record. It shows he has lost four decisions, been knocked out four times, flured in four draws and won four times on a foot in the last three years. Except as a boxer who has improved in American competition, Scott has yet to impress the critics with his ability. He looks aggressive, and it is a question whether he can "take it." Phil has an apprehensive look every time he steps in the ring. He seems prepared for the worst while looking for the best. The gate Briton, meanwhile, remains among the three or four leading candidates for the headless heavy-weight crown. From the British angle, the workings of the master minds of American boxing may seem a trifle extraordinary. They would appear completely baffling, however, should there be a sustained move to shuffle Scott out of the heavy-weight competition merely because, after being routed by Von Porat, the Briton refused to stand up and be knocked out to satisfy the more blood-thirsty partisans of the ring. Knute Ruckne's remarkable record at Notre Dame needs few, if any, endorsements, but a little rapid fluring shows the impressive record at 105 victories, 12 defeats and 2 ties in 13 years of Ruckne's envolving for a percentage of 85. This year marked the fourth unbeaten season for the Fighting Irish since Jimmy Phelan, now Purdue's successful head coach, captained the first Ruckne-coached eleven in 1917. From all angles, the greatest years were 1920, when George Gipp's spectacular play beat both the Army and Nebraska; 1924, when the Four Horsemen, captained by Adam Walsh, wrote an indelible record upon the game's history; and 1925, when the Irish campaigned successfully against opposition from coast to coast with "Rock" Ill at home most of the season. Here are the figures on the Ruckne regime:

Year	Captain	W	L	T
1917	James Phelan	7	1	0
1918	Peter Behan	6	1	0
1919	Peter Behan	9	0	0
1920	Frank Conklin	10	0	0
1921	Eddie Anderson	16	1	0
1922	Glenn Garberry	5	1	1
1923	Harvey Brown	5	1	0
1924	Adam Walsh	10	0	0
1925	Jim Crowe	7	2	1
1926	G. Edwards

1927	John Smith	7	1	1
1928	Fred Miller	5	4	0
