amusement fields of the twentieth century, in one huge parade, with twenty song hits, abundant comedy, tuneful melodies and dialogue that sparkles, to say nothing of the largest dancing chorus of beautiful girls that ever dazzled an audience are features of this entertainment.

Marion Davies gives one of her famous madcap performances, assisted by a chorus of six-footers, and she sings and tap dances.

John Gilbert and Norma Shearer give a version of "Romeo and Juliet."

Conrad Nagel makes his debut as a singer.

Bonnie Love gives generously of her talents.

Jean Crawford ravishes the eye and sings a crooning melody.

William Haines and Gwen Lee are there with one of the famous Haines "gags" to which Karl Dane and George K. Arthur lend a few deft touches.

Marie Dressler and Polly Moran, two famous comedienne, do their stuff.

Charles King of "The Broadway Melody" fame, introduces new songs.

Booth Tarkington Drama Offers New Personality

Leo Carrillo, a star of the speaking stage, will bring a new personality to the screen with his first picture, an all-dialogue production of Booth Tarkington's stage play, "Mister Antonio." The State Theater is presenting this Tiffany-Stahl film, synchronized by RCA Photophone today and Saturday with Virginia Valli co-starring and a splendid cast, including Gareth Hughes, Frank Fletcher, Eugene Bessner, Betty Francisco and others.

"Mister Antonio" tells the story of a lovable Italian who, "when somebody else got the trouble," right away I want to give you the help." And when, with his hearty goodly, his goodly friend Joe, his "jack-o'-the-lantern" and his racketeer "Chris" Columbo, he reaches the holier-than-thou town of Avonlea, he finds a lovely and friendly girl in desperate trouble and gives her help, though it gets him into trouble, too.

Satire and romance are blended with comedy in "Mister Antonio," which was adapted for the screen

Wheat Heavy And Lower at Close

CHICAGO, Jan. 24 (AP)—Increase of wheat shipments from below the equator, together with reports of numerous business failures in continental Europe led to early downturns in wheat values today. Australian and Argentine wheat shipments this week total 2,045,000 bushels more than last week. Starting 1/2 to 1/2 lower, Chicago wheat afterward underwent an additional setback. Corn, oats and provisions also were weak, with corn starting 1/2 to 1/2 off, and subsequently continuing to recede.

Wheat closed heavy 1c to 1 1/2c a bushel under yesterday's finish, corn closed 1 1/2c @ 1 1/2c @ 1 1/2c down, oats 3/4c to 3/4c off, and provisions showing 7c to 45c advance.

Stock Firm Today In Stock Exchange

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (AP)—Heavy week end profit-taking and a renewal of short selling impeded the recovery of stock prices today after scores of issues had been marked up 1 to 1 1/2 to nearly 9 points in the early trading. The early afternoon selling movement carried several issues 1 to 4 points below their earlier high levels. Trading showed a marked expansion in volume, sales in the first two hours running more than half a million shares above those of the same period yesterday.

The close was firm. Sales approximated 3,700,000 shares.

Short Skirts Add Bee's Buzz To City Noise

By Howard W. Hinkley
Science Editor
(Associated Press Feature Service)

NEW YORK (AP)—A swarming sound that goes "oo-oo-oo" is traveling up and down New York streets.

It is made by a phonograph carried on a truck in the city's new campaign to curb noise, and it even measures the short skirts contribution to bellharm.

The soft note comes from a sound-measuring instrument that spells the coming down of a least some of the noise of American cities.

For scientific findings concerning noise indicate that this telltale sound can be taken everywhere.

Its result is announced by the director of the Colgate university psychological laboratory, Dr. Donald A. Laird. These girls are typists, copying only routine records, a mechanical task at piecework pay.

On the first of last year the ceiling of their room was covered with a sound-absorbing material.

There was an immediate upward jump of 12 per cent typing speed.

The reason why is indicated in Dr. Laird's laboratory. He finds that when noise reaches a certain fixed volume there is slightly more than 29 per cent added bodily energy, measured by calories per minutes burned up, than in doing the same typing in the same office with noise reduced.

When a group of women meets nowadays, there is in one respect more noise than 29 years ago. It is due to short skirts. The extra noise chargeable to each skirt ranges probably somewhere between the hum of a mosquito and the buzz of a bee.

The difference is so slight that it has not been measured, yet scientists say it exists definitely. All clothing absorbs a certain amount of sound.

Today it is estimated that an average-sized office with 10 women occupants has approximately 22 less absorption units than formerly.

But the styles of 1929 are not the objective of the little "oo-oo-oo." Instead it is catching, the shrill traffic whistle, the rumble of street cars, elevated and subways, the cough of motors, slam-bang of the ash man, the folly of the motor-horn driver.

The truck apparatus is installed under direction of Dr. Harvey Fletcher, research engineer of the Bell laboratories.

WOOL REPORT

BOSTON, Jan. 24 (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say: "business is quiet on Summer street, although the effect of the London wool decline was largely discounted, through the steady decline which had taken place in the foreign primary markets. Unfortunately, the decline in the primary markets appears not to have run its course and the wool trade as well as the manufacturers are disposed to wait eventualities.

"Opening of the new heavy-weight staples by the American Woolen company show little change in prices from the level of six months ago on medium quality fabrics. Nine grade cloths and woolen filled items were down 5 to 10 cents a yard.

"The national wool marketing corporation is setting up its selling program steadily, although many details are yet to be determined.

"Mohair is dull and hardly changed in price."

The Bulletin will publish the following quotations:

SHORT DAYS MUST BRING LONG ELECTRIC LIGHT BILLS

The average number of hours a day that electric light is needed throughout the year is estimated as follows:

January . . . 6.35 hours	July . . . . . 2.66 hours
February . . 5.38 hours	August . . . 4.00 hours
March . . . . 4.10 hours	September . 4.45 hours
April . . . . . 3.48 hours	October . . . 4.90 hours
May . . . . . 2.95 hours	November . 6.18 hours
June . . . . . 2.55 hours	December . 6.85 hours

In January artificial lighting is needed for more than six hours a day, as compared with only two and a half hours in June, when the days are longest.

Other uses of electricity in the home may remain the same, but the household electric bill is bound to vary from month to month according to the amount of current used for lighting.
