OREGON HOST TO O. S. C. SATURDAY

Annual Basketball Feud to Begin—Teams are Closely Matched.

With the first game of the annual Oregon-Oregon State basketball feud scheduled for Saturday night at McArthur court Coach Bill Heinert is dividing his charges the better part of two hours every night this week in an effort to push them beyond the form they displayed in the unfortunate two game series with the Washington Huskies last weekend.

Since then the States have taken a clean sweep in their second series with Washington, winning both games in Corvallis, each by a two point margin.

QUAKERS TO HAVE FACILITIES

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (AP)—Quakers are to have facilities for worship in the $4,000,000 Riverside church being built by the Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick and his congregation, including John D. Rockefeller Jr. Announcement is made by the Friends Intelligence, organ of the Hicksite branch of the Society of Friends.

FASTING PROVES FATAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29 (AP)—Attempts to cure himself of a chronic illness by fasting proved fatal to Fred W. Lewis, 35, salesman, who died at a hospital here from starvation. Mrs. Lewis said her husband had eaten no substantial food for 52 days.

Leave out three steps and have a better cake!

When you use Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate in making Chocolate Cake, you can omit these three steps: (1) Grating; (2) Melting; (3) An extra mixing. Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate goes right into the sifter with the other dry ingredients. And, also—your cake will have a finer full-chocolate flavor! Try it!

Jack Elder Beaten In Newark Race

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 29 (AP)—Jack Elder, hero of many exploits in football and track for Notre Dame, has tasted defeat for the first time this season, but he did not allow the taste to linger. Making his second appearance of the eastern indoor season at St. Joseph's Catholic club games here last night, Elder lost the first race of the night, the 1/4 mile memorial sprint which he won in 1929. Former Princeton star now wearing the colors of the Newark A. C. Pappan won the 50 yard event, but Elder came back to win at 60 and 70 yards and capture the series prize.

Weather Warmer Now at The Park

By Elve C. Vanorder (Observer Correspondent) THE PARK (Special)—The weather is much warmer now in this vicinity and many are hoping that The Park will have no more cold weather.

B. A. Swan hauled a load of straw from Mrs. Eva Vanorder's ranch Sunday. George Melrow was a Medical Springs visitor Saturday. The Misses Beulah and Dora Mae Kline were Sunday guests of Miss Kay Lay.

Charence Vanorder was a Ponderosa business visitor Saturday. Angie McPhee returned to Baker Saturday. Elmer Stoddard spent Monday visiting at the Stoddard brothers logging camp.

Roy Kumsawa returned to Hines Monday after visiting for several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kumsawa. Mrs. Charence Moore accompanied by the Misses Beulah and Dora Mae Kline were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charence Vanorder and family Saturday. Frank L. Wigglesworth was a chopper at Ponderosa Saturday. Mrs. Glenda Vanorder returned to her home after a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Wankler of Ponderosa.

Headlocks, Injury Defeat Sarpolis

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 29 (AP)—What promised to be one of the greatest heavyweight wrestling matches ever seen here had an unfortunate ending last night when Ed Carl Sarpolis, wrestling champion of Cleveland, succumbed to an endless number of Ed (Strangler) Lewis' vicious headlocks and rabbit punches after suffering injuries when he went through the ropes while trying for his flying body seizure specialty. Sarpolis finally succumbed, lying prone on the mat and had to be carried from the ring. After an examination, an ambulance was summoned and he was taken to a hospital for an X-ray examination.

Sarpolis had taken the first fall with his flying seizure and it seemed as if nothing could stop him from being returned the winner. After 20 minutes wrestling for the second fall, Sarpolis attempted a flying seizure, but Lewis sidestepped and the doctor crashed heavily on the boards. He was stunned but gamely came back. He was an easy victim for Lewis, but in spite of his weakened condition, wriggled out of it least a dozen headlocks before he collapsed.

Sarpolis was the aggressor throughout and forced the wrestling at every turn. He used his flying body seizure to good advantage as well as a standing wristlock.

O.-W. TEAMS WILL GO TO PORTLAND

Bowlers and Basketball Men to Take Part—Telegraphic Match Sunday

The O.-W. bowling and basketball teams are making preparations to take part in an elimination tournament to be held in Portland on Sunday, Feb. 9, and La Grande will have a team entered in both sports.

The basketball team will play Portland and the winner will play Spokane for the title.

The bowling team will not only participate in Portland, but will also hold a telegraphic match with the Walla Walla team next Sunday, the local men to bowl at War's at 6 o'clock. The bowling team consists of Ainsworth, Buckwater, Chadwick, Cook and Hodgenc.

High bowlers at the Portland meet will represent the O.-W. at the U. P. winter sports carnival in Rock Springs, Wyo.

Scarlet Fever At Promise Is Nearing an End

By Mrs. Hertia Carper (Observer Correspondent) PROMISE, Ore. (Special)—Little Johnnie Swearingin who has been suffering from scarlet fever, is able to be out again. The Promise school was closed last week and also this week on account of the scarlet fever but no new cases are reported.

Promise has been having some very cold weather but it is growing warmer and Saturday was very pleasant. The coldest night here was Tuesday, Jan. 21 when it fell to about 12 inches of snow which is very loose and fluffy.

C. P. Carper and Obe Swearingin were both delivering wood in Maxville Saturday.

Mrs. Allie Smith visited Sunday with Mrs. Maude Henderson. Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Test and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore spent a few days last week visiting Mrs. Allie Smith.

Charlie Wortman has been hauling hay from the Ula Poulsen place, having bought the hay from Ula Poulsen at $10 a ton.

Arthur Wallace was at L. S. McDonald's place Monday chopping wood.

David Garrett was sawing wood at C. P. Carper's Monday.

Mrs. Nellie Friedman, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Louis Tester, Mrs. Sander, Mrs. Elmer Goret and Miss Lole Goret were at Mrs. Henderson's last Friday and tacked a comforter for her.

Mrs. Pancher, whose husband, George Pancher, was instantly killed near Maxville last Thursday morning while falling timber when a limb struck him on the head. Mrs. Pancher's telephone head, has many friends who extend their sympathy.

Friday Jan. 24 a colored man by the name of Brown was quite seriously hurt at the loader by a cable striking him on the head. He was taken to the Wallowa hospital where it is reported that his recovery is doubtful.

Mrs. Lona Carper has received word from her husband, W. W. Carper, who is at the veterans hospital in Portland that he is not improving very much and that he will be there for an uncertain period of time.

Mrs. Bertha Carper has received word from her son Howard and his wife at Anderson, Cal., that they had a snowfall there of 20 inches. Howard had always thought he would like to spend a winter in sunny California away from the snow but upon going there found more snow than at his old home in Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kenworthy visited Sunday with Leo's father, Charles Kenworthy.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wallace and children visited Sunday at Chester Gorbett's.

Obe Swearingin has the contract to furnish 150 ricks of wood for the Wallowa schools at $2.45 a rick to be delivered next summer.

John Bond drove stage from Promise to Maxville and return last Thursday. The small daughter of Fred Trump was very ill and Fred was compelled to remain at home. The child is much improved at present.

C. P. Carper, who has been working for Jim Crowley, returned to his home Friday. Mr. Crowley was over only part of the time and only a small crew was there owing to the cold weather.

Sadie Carper, who has been staying at the home of her uncle, C. J. Carper and attending the Riverside school, has stopped going to school and returned to her home Tuesday.

Connie Mack Captures The Plum Of The Florida Grapefruit Loop

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—While Florida diamond cutters are snipping off the greenward for the baseball beauties who will eat their early spring vegetables with the winter tourists, Connie Mack just stuck in his thumb and pulled out a plum.

The keeper of the Elephas, who will lead his herd to water at Fort Myers again, has the prize business deal of the grapefruit season on the books, even though actual operations are weeks distant.

Connie has signed up names for every Saturday and Sunday of the preliminary season in Miami, which is the sports mecca of this part and which will turn out sizeable crowds. Other moguls had their eyes on the Miami cash, but the A's boss beat them to it.

Ten of the 18 major league clubs will do their sun bathing and gazing in Florida, which is about the average. In addition to the big boys, six AA league clubs and four Southeastern league outfits will have awaiting crews on Florida premises.

The training camp lineup for Florida and other sunshine sections is:

Club	Camp
Philadelphia	Port Myers, Fla.
New York	St. Petersburg, Fla.
Detroit	Tampa, Fla.
Washington	Biloxi, Miss.
St. Louis	West Palm Beach, Fla.
Cleveland	New Orleans, La.
Chicago	Tallah, Tex.
Boston	Pensacola, Fla.
National League
Chicago	Catalina Island, Cal.
St. Louis	Bradenton, Fla.

Whole Bay State A Fair Grounds For Celebration

By John R. Knox (Associated Press Staff Writer) BOSTON (AP)—Three hundred years of American life will pass in review during 1930 as the old Bay State observes the Massachusetts bay tercentenary.

From spring until the onset of winter, from the surf-swept rocks of the Atlantic coast to the rolling Berkshire hills, there will be pageants, parades, religious services, conventions, exhibitions, pilgrimages, fairs, music festivals, open house at historic shrines and exhibitions of historical treasures in commemoration of the anniversary.

First among the three leading events to be commemorated is the three hundredth anniversary of the establishment of the Massachusetts bay colony in New England by the Puritans and the setting up of independent civil government in America.

Celebration of the coming of free government, the germ of later American independence, is to be the keynote of the observance.

The arrival of Gov. John Winthrop at Salem, June 12, 1630, with the charter signalled the transfer of independent government to America for the first time in the history of a large colony on this continent.

The charter still is preserved in the statehouse. The scene of Winthrop's coming is to be re-enacted at Salem, and the event has been officially proclaimed by Frank G. Allen, present governor and the fifty-first since the revolution.

The second event to be commemorated is the three hundredth anniversary of the general court—the Massachusetts legislature—which ranks as one of the world's oldest legislative bodies.

The third is a group of anniversaries—the founding of Boston, Charlestown, Medford, Watertown, Roxbury, Newton, Dorchester, Cambridge and Brookline.

The leaders of the tercentenary from the first have planned upon a celebration that would be different from a world's fair, with its artificially created central exposition.

Instead, the entire state and section become the fair grounds and the genuine treasures of the state, historic, scenic and modern, become the exhibits.

Old-time manners and customs will be definitely in evidence, however. New Englanders, quaintly dressed in the garb of three centuries ago, will mingle on the streets with modern throngs. Historic shrines, seldom accessible, may be visited. The ducking stool, stocks and pillory will be resurrected—for exhibition purposes.

Barbutti Is Again In Good Standing

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (AP)—Ray Barbutti, former Syracuse track star who won America's only victory in the flat races at the 1923 Olympic games with a dive into the cinders at the finish of the 400-meter run, is once more an amateur in the good graces of the Amateur Athletic union.

He was suspended nearly a year ago until he "proved or retracted" certain statements that some amateur athletes received excess money for appearing at track meets. He was reinstated last night at a special meeting of the Metropolitan A. A. U. registration committee when he presented a written apology.

Sport Slants by ALAN J. GOULD

When the East takes its annual trimming from the Far Western football talent it has at least the consolation of knowing it is engineering beyond the Rockies by five-figure salaries.

Dr. Spears of Dartmouth, West Virginia and Minnesota joins Howard Jones of Yale and Iowa, Pop Warner of Pittsburgh, and Phelan of Notre Dame and Purdue in the Far West. Only Nibs Price, California's head coach, is an alumnus of the school he serves, but Nibs originally came from Minnesota.

"The prevalent student attitude toward athletics seems essentially sound and sensible," remarks Prof. George H. Nettleton, chairman of Yale's advisory board on athletics. Which recalls the conversation a few years ago between the head coach and the football committee chairman at one of the East's foremost universities during a season in which this college's eleven was suffering a sharp decline.

"The trouble is that the old spirit has gone," said the head coach. "There is not enthusiasm among the under-graduates for the team. Why, clearly a handful turned out for a pep rally before last week's game. How can we expect to develop a good team with such a lack of spirit as that?"

"I don't blame them for not turning out," replied the chairman. "How can you expect the boys to get worked up over a losing team? I think their attitude shows a good deal of common sense and a good idea of proportion. Give them a winning team and then watch the enthusiasm."

Here and there: Speaking of keeping the business in the family, Dick Glendon's younger brother, Hubert, is an assistant coach at Columbia and John Wray, son of Head Coach Jim Wray, is handling the Cornell freshmen oarsmen.

MINNESOTA TO INVESTIGATE (AP)—Appointment of a committee to investigate athletic affairs at the University of Minnesota with a probable view to reorganization was announced today by Louis D. Coffman, president of the university.

200 GOLFERS GATHERED AT SAN ANTONIO

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 29 (AP)—Some 200 golfers, amateur and professional in equal number, were ready to cluster up the Brackenridge Park course here today in the annual pro-amateur 18-hole event, preliminary to the $7500 Texas open tournament starting tomorrow.

Cash prizes totalling $225 will go to the winning professionals in the third best ball event, with gold, silver and bronze medals to third amateur helpers. First place is worth $100.

Wild Bill Mehlforn, winner for the last two years, and Horton Smith, Joplin, Mo., sensation, continued to rule favorites in the 72-hole Texas open. The odds were almost even that one of the pair would add the $1500 first prize to his winter earnings after the last St. Louis shot had been fired Sunday.
