BOSTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:
"The wool market has been generally quiet and quite uncertain as to what are fair values for wool. The price trend has favored the buyer, slightly."
Foreign markets are gradually yielding to the pressure of wool and values favor the buyer, with draws are heavy in London and the colonial markets. The American sale has been indifferently responded to on account of the unsettled condition of the wool market. The London Colonial sales are expected to be shortened materially. with milk and honey, with giant Sequoias, hardwoods and fruit bearing trees."
In Cascadia, Le Baron believes the Chinese written language had its beginning. "Carved on imperishable stone are the characters which determine these people to be the fathers of the Mongoloid race and perhaps the father of all people," he declares and holds that the migration was from this continent to Asia and not the reverse.
As for the cause of the migration and subsequent settlement of Asia Le Baron's theory is that:
Destroyed by Mountains
"This land of Cascadia was destroyed when the growth of the Sierra Nevada range shut off forever the warm winds from the Pacific. It was a progressive drying up of a land, a process which endured for ages and in the end forced all living things to migrate or perish."
"The same growth of the Sierras which shifted the moisture laden winds far to the north brought a warmer climate to Alaska and provided food for the migrating animals. And man followed his food supply."
Most of Le Baron's investigations have been on behalf of the Hoxe Foundation of New York. Inclement weather has interrupted his research work but he expects to resume it in the spring.

ATTREHENSIVE

A little La Grande youngster was eating his supper of milk toast recently when his mother swung into the nursery in a new evening gown—one of these 1929 evening gowns—a revelation, so to speak. "When are you going, mummy?" the youngster asked. "To the opera, dear," said she. He looked worried. "But, mummy," he said, "somebody might see you."
Lady to urchin: "Never heard of the Ten Commandments? Good gracious! What's your name?" Urchin: "Moses, mum."
Speaking of the good old days, do you remember the old-fashioned girl who used to make ash trays out of cigar bands? Well, she now has a daughter who makes one out of the parlor rug.
Young Lady Motorist—"It's raining and sleeting and I'd like to buy some chaus for my tires."
"I'm sorry—we keep only groceries."
"How annoying! I understood this was a chain store."
"O, yes," added the new bride. "I want some pepper."
"Black or red?" asked the grocer.
"Black wouldn't harmonize so well with my blue tablecloth."
"Mama," said little Dora at the breakfast table, "does God know everything?"
"Certainly."
"Does he know that I am now calling bread with jam on it?"
"Of course, child."
"Then, mama, does he know there isn't much jam on it?"
"What have you in the shape of tomatoes this morning?" asked the customer of the new grocery clerk.
"Nothing but apples, ma'am," came the reply.
Pete: "Mad, you are a lucky man."
Father: "How is that?"
Pete: "You won't have to buy me any school books this year. I have been in the same class."

Lions, Buckaroos Top Hockey Loop

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 31 (AP)—Leadership of the Pacific coast ice hockey league again stood divided today between the Vancouver Lions and the Portland Buckaroos, each with 23 points.
The Seattle Eskimos were largely responsible for the local standstill in preliminary in the standings. Against a Portland team seriously handicapped by the enforced absence of Jack Pratt, husky defenseman, who was under suspension for slugging an official at Seattle against the homeless Victoria Cubs Tuesday night, the Eskimos were unable to break through her last night. Neither was Portland able to score, however, and the game went through three periods and an overtime session to a 0 to 0 tie.

PURDUE WINS BUT LOYOLA'S STAR IS HIGH

CHICAGO, Jan. 31 (AP)—Charles Murphy of Loyola today had a mathematical decision over Charlie Murphy of Purdue, but his team's respectable string of basketball triumphs was broken.
Although all advances before the contest last night at Lafayette Ind. was the hottest of struggles and resulted in a 23 to 22 victory for Purdue, with an overtime period necessary to bring a verdict. The defeat was Loyola's first in 22 years, ending the winning streak started late in the 1923 season.
Loyola's Charlie Murphy scored 16 points and basketball from Purdue also points to give, but his mark failed to produce as conclusively as the stars of Purdue made the Murphy win the
