Among the citations which will comprise the lesson-sermon will be the following from the Bible: "The letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life. . . . Now the Lord is that Spirit; and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty." (II Cor. 3:6-17).

The lesson-sermon will also include the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The baptism of Spirit, washing the body of all the impurities of flesh, signifies that the pure in heart see God and are approaching spiritual life and its demonstration. . . . Denial of the claims of matter is a great step towards the joys of Spirit, towards human freedom and the final triumph over the body." (pp. 244, 245).

INCOME TAX FACTS

No. 5
Recognizing that single persons, by reason of the care and support of others, are entitled to consideration, the law provides that the "head of a family" shall be allowed the same personal exemption granted a married person, $3500.

The head of a family is defined by regulations relating to the income tax as "an individual who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more individuals who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage, or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for these dependent individuals is based upon some moral or legal obligation."

Several factors are involved in determining whether a taxpayer is to be thus classified. In maintaining the home and providing for the dependent individual or individuals, the taxpayer's right to exercise family control must be based on some moral or legal obligation.

The element of either legal or financial dependency must exist. A taxpayer who has minor children is locally liable for their support. If he supports and exercises family control over them, even though they have an income of their own sufficient for their support and maintenance, he is classified as the head of a family. If he does not support them, however, but does exercise family control, the common home being maintained, he can not be classified as the head of a family.

If by reason of illness or absence on account of business the taxpayer and dependents are separated, the common home being maintained and the taxpayer furnishing the support, the exemption as head of a family is allowed. Moreover, if a taxpayer does not maintain a common home but the dependents are at school or supported with relatives, or in a boarding house, while he lives elsewhere, the exemption is still allowed. If, however, without necessity, the dependent continually makes his home elsewhere, his benefactor is not the head of a family.

For income-tax purposes, there can be only one head of a family. The exemption can not be divided.

DAIRYMENTO MEET FEB. 25 ON COOS BAY

MAINSHTREED, Ore. (AP)—Oregon dairymen will have an opportunity to see cattle grazing in green meadows in February when more than 200 members of the Oregon Dairy association gather in Coos county February 25 and 26 for their annual convention. Announcement of the dates for the meeting were made here this week.

The decision to hold the meeting on Coos bay was made at the Medford convention last year. The exact dates being left to the executive board, P. M. Brandt, head of the state college dairy department at Corvallis, is secretary of the association.

The program as tentatively outlined will include talks by prominent state and local dairymen, including C. C. Dixon of Sheel; N. C. Jamison of Marshfield; Alton Kay of Riverport and Harvey Hale of Coquille. The program also calls for visits by the association to prominent dairy ranches in this district.

In announcing the dates here, Coos County Agent Harvel Hale said: "This should be a most interesting meeting in more ways than one. State dairymen will have a chance to see local dairy herds on green grass in February, a sight unusual in America. Many of the Coos county dairymen keep their herds grazing outside through the entire year, adding to their grazing only a moderate amount of hay and other feed."

When he did Mr. Henry captured him.

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Clarence J. Buck, who will assume the office of United States district forester here on March 1, succeeding C. M. Granger, will foster and encourage cooperative relationship between federal, state and private forest agencies, he announces.

CANNERY PACK $1,000,000
SALEM, Ore. (AP)—The cannery pack in this district for the year 1929 aggregated about $4,000,000 against a prospective pack of $5,000,000 for the current year. Indications are that the berry acreage will be increased materially during 1930.

KING GEORGE'S EMPLOYEES GET BEER AT A CUT PRICE

SANDRINGHAM, England (AP)—King George is the ideal employer—at least from the point of view of Englishmen looking for jobs.

Seldom does anyone employed on the king's estate here quit his job, for:

He gets a nice house with a garden.

He and his family are looked after by the king's physician at a fixed rate of two pence a week.

He can look forward to an old-age pension and, if he dies, his widow gets a rent-free cottage.

He gets milk from the king's prize cows, wood from the king's forests and an occasional brace of rabbits or fowl from the royal barnyard.

He has the use of a club house with library, billiards and games rooms and a concert hall where concerts cost him one penny, half price for children.

He gets his beer at a penny a glass cheaper than anyone else in England.

RENO'S DIVORCE REVENUE ESTIMATED AT $1,500,000

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Matrimonial entanglements enriched Reno by more than $1,500,000 in 1929, according to an estimate by the county clerk, E. H. Beemer.

He said the figure was conservative. Fifty dollars each was paid by 2,196 applicants for divorce as court fees and their attorneys charged $250 as a minimum retainer, while several paid between $10,000 and $25,000 for their de-such person had to reside within the county at least 30 days. With the 4,219 permits to wed issued during the same period, Beemer said newlyweds spent about $20,000 for the permits and fees to the ministers of the city.
