GRAIN MARKETS ARE UNSETTLED

Feed Grains in Better Demand; Wheat Sales Mostly at Loan Values.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 — Domestic grain markets continued unsettled during the week ending February 8. Wheat in the future markets fluctuated rather sharply, but closed practically the same as a week ago at the principal markets. Sales on cash wheat were mostly at the loan values established by the federal farm board. Feed grains were in better demand and the larger offerings of corn were readily absorbed, according to the weekly grain market review of the United States bureau of agricultural economics. Lack of export inquiry for North American wheat continues to be the principal weakening factor in the market for that grain, but this has been somewhat offset recently by smaller offerings from Argentina and diminishing supplies of native wheats in some European deficit areas.

Argentine shipments have shown a moderate decrease during the past few weeks and totaled only about 2,340,000 bushels during the week. Australian shipments continued of good volume and totaled slightly over 2,000,000 bushels. Russian shipments during the past two weeks have totaled approximately 960,000 bushels, and have constituted the bulk of Black Sea shipments. Offerings of native wheat in France continue large and the market in that country is reported very weak. United Kingdom port stocks at the first of February totaled 15,120,000 bushels, with Liverpool port stocks showing a slight increase during the current week. Stocks on ocean passage were increased to 27,632,000 bushels. Argentine wheat is still underselling wheat from other ex-European exporting countries, and 63½ lb. rosafe was quoted in Liverpool February 7 at $1.22¼, compared with quotations of $1.35½ for United States No. 2 hard winter, $1.40 for Canadian No. 2 Manitoba, $1.24⅝ for Canadian No. 5 Manitoba, and $1.23⅝ per bushel for Australian wheat afloat. Canadian market stocks were reduced about 2,000,000 bushels during the week, but are now about 8,000,000 bushels larger than a year ago. United States commercial stocks of wheat have been decreasing at the rate of about 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 bushels per week, but at the first of February were still nearly 40,000,000 bushels larger than at the corresponding time last year. World exports of wheat and flour since the first of August have totaled only 325,000,000 bushels compared with 454,000,000 bushels for the corresponding period last year. Most of this decrease is accounted for by the smaller North American shipments.

Wheat

Cash wheat markets continued to hold relatively firmer than futures, with fluctuations less marked. Moderate sales of spring and winter wheats on the basis of the farm board loan values had a steadying influence on the cash market. Protein premiums were relatively unimportant, although mills were bidding above the loan basis for desirable milling types. Increased offerings were reported at most markets.

Soft winter wheat was in active demand but offerings of good quality grain were very limited. Mills were urgent buyers at St. Louis but orders were difficult to fill from the current arrivals because of the generally poor quality.

Country marketings of spring wheat increased materially with country elevators reported shipping more freely. Receipts at Minneapolis totaled 1,374 cars. Demand, however, was active and elevator stocks were further decreased.

Durum wheat markets turned slightly weaker, influenced by a lack of export inquiry and some slowing up in domestic demand.

Pacific coast wheat markets continued dull with prices holding about unchanged from a week ago. Offerings at San Francisco were light, but mills were also buying only small amounts and utilizing stocks accumulated earlier in the season. Flour demand continues of only moderate volume because of the curtailment of Oriental takings by unfavorable exchange rates.

Trading in the Portland and Seattle district was limited principally to domestic sales, as no export business to either Europe or the Orient was reported. The market was weak and prices declined about 1c per bushel. Big Bend bluestem hard white was quoted at both Portland and Seattle February 7 at $1.27. No. 1 soft and western white wheats were quoted at Portland at $1.15, and at Seattle at $1.17 per bushel. No. 1 hard winter, northern spring and western red were quoted at Portland at $1.13 and at Seattle $1.14. 14 per cent protein wheat from Montana was quoted at $1.26 in bulk. Farmers were not selling freely at current quotations and warehouse stocks are unusually large for this time of the year. Offerings of Argentine wheat in European markets at relatively low prices have been principally responsible for the small export sales from Pacific coast markets, while unfavorable foreign exchange has restricted takings by the Orient. United States shipments to Japan, however, have been larger than in 1928. Japanese imports for the six months period ending January 31 were 1,632,000 bushels larger than during the corresponding period in 1928.

Egg And Butter Prices Unchanged

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 10 (AP)—Egg and butter prices began the new week without change. Liberal supplies of both products reached the market for the week end trade, but a brisk demand kept prices steady, especially in butter. The egg movement appears to be in excess of the demand for the time being, and if this continues a reduction would not be surprising. The fruit and vegetable market held steady also, with the supply increasing with the advent of warmer weather.

Chicago Market Firm As Result Of Crop Report

CHICAGO, Feb. 10 (AP)—Influenced by announcement of 2,411,000 bushels decrease of the United States wheat visible supply total, the Chicago wheat market showed considerable firmness today. Especially during the late transactions, wheat prices tended upward, notwithstanding that export demand today for wheat from North America remained slow. Much notice was taken that the falling off in domestic visible stocks of wheat was more than 1,500,000 bushels greater than the shrinkage at this time last year.

Wheat closed strong ⅝ to 1¼c a bushel higher than Saturday's finish. Corn closed ⅜ to ⅞c advance, oats ⅛ to ⅜c up, and provisions 5c to 12c down.

STOCK MARKET BOTH HOT AND COLD TODAY

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (AP)—The stock market alternately blew hot and cold today with neither "bulls" nor "bears" able to gain any decided advantage. A rally of about an hour's duration was followed by a renewal of selling pressure against some of the recent speculative favorites, particularly in the merchandising and copper groups, but the general market stiffened again in the early afternoon when fresh buying operations developed in radio and some of the public utility shares.

Active buying of radio, Allegheny Corporation, New Haven and Missouri, Kansas and Texas, failed to offset the effect of continued pressure against U. S. Steel, Fox and American Can. J. I. Case rebounded from a low of 219 to 239 where it was up 7 points above Saturday's close. The close was irregular. Sales approximated 3,200,000 shares.

ON WITH THE DANCE
A True Story of the Younger Set

THE Friday evening dancing party was the week's high spot for the young folks of a certain small country club. A four-piece orchestra always supplied the rhythm until older members conceived the idea that mechanical music would serve the youngsters just as well—and cost less.

Accordingly, a music machine was installed. The plan worked once, but the next Friday the little band triumphantly returned to the job.

"What's wrong with your new music box?" a father asked. "Wouldn't you rather dance to Whiteman and Vallee records than to a tin-pan band?"

Junior shook his head: "Mechanical music is fine at home but it hasn't the right kick for a dance!"

What is true of dancing must be equally true of the theatre. Are YOU getting YOUR money's worth in the theatre?
