LOCAL BRIEFS

Funeral Services Held—

Funeral services were conducted in Langdon, N. D., on Feb. 5 for Mrs. Al Vessey, mother of Byron F. Underwood, of this city, according to word received from relatives. She died Feb. 3 following a stroke of paralysis suffered a few days previous. The services were at the Methodist Episcopal church with the pastor, the Rev. C. T. Ensign, in charge. Mrs. Vessey was born Sept. 27, 1862 in Orleans county, New York, coming to Minnesota when a little girl. Her parents were among the pioneers of Stearns county. At Sauk Centre she married Underwood, who passed away in 1894, and in 1896 she was married to Mr. Vessey, four years later moving to Langdon. Mrs. Vessey had been in failing health for several years and in 1927 she suffered a stroke. From that time until her death she was in an almost helpless condition. Besides her husband and her son, in La Grande, she leaves three other children, a brother, and one sister, Mrs. Jennie Coleman, of Medford, Ore.

NORBLAD TO BE GUEST OF LIONS CLUB

Thompson, district deputy governor, are in Corvallis today attending the convention of the Oregon Retail Merchants association. They expect to invite the merchants to hold their 1931 convention in La Grande.

A. W. Nelson presided at the luncheon today, introducing Mr. Rosenbaum who spoke briefly. He in turn introduced Fred Henning who presented Miss Barbara Hiatt and Miss Edith Mosier, who sang several blues songs, after which the former played some piano numbers, which were vigorously applauded.

The nominations committee reports through J. S. Jenkins, members, that 25 men were nominated for directors of the Union county chamber of commerce in a ballot counted last evening. The 25 men will be voted upon by the membership in the near future, with the 12 polling the highest vote to make up the 1930 chamber directorate. The election is being conducted by a committee consisting of Lot Snodgrass, Mr. Jenkins and H. L. Hull.

Those Nominated

The men nominated are: Oscar Warnock, Chet Thompson, R. F. Tyler, Max Sarvis, Lot Snodgrass, F. L. Ralston, Charles Reynolds, W. C. Perkins, W. T. Phy, A. W. Nelson, Ray Murphy, J. L. Ingle, M. M. Hunt, Henry Hess, A. T. Hill, Fred Henning, R. J. Green, F. A. Epling, Robert Eakin, George H. Currey, H. E. Coolidge, E. S. Burnett, H. E. Brady, L. H. Bramwell and F. B. Appleby.

Mr. Brady announced that the annual banquet would be held on Mar. 4 at 6:30 p. m. Other details are being worked out.

Mr. Nelson then introduced Walter Pierce, former governor, whose speech is carried elsewhere in today's issue of The Observer.

SCOUT COURT OF HONOR IS HELD

Frank Tyler, Linn Pierson and Robert Eakin received star scout badges, being first class scouts qualifying for five merit badges. Charles Reynolds awarded the badges. Mr. Reynolds also presented Wilford Stitt and Claire Thomas with bronze palms.

The March court of honor will include several entertainment features by the scouts, in addition to the awarding of merits. A scout rally has been scheduled for the last of March. Some of the contests will be both semaphore and Morse signalling, first aid, knot tying, fire by friction, dressing race, fireman's lift race, skin the snake; also a contest on bird houses and paper knives.

In connection with anniversary week troop three has an exhibit in Gilbert's hardware window showing various scouting accomplishments. Anniversary week is being nationally observed by boy scouts, with this schedule followed: Feb. 7, Sponsors day; Feb. 8, Anniversary day and Mobilization day; Feb. 9, Scout sermon; Feb. 10, School day; Feb. 11, Home day; Feb. 12, Patriots and Outdoor day; Feb. 13, Citizens day.

MAURICE HINDUS WELL ACQUAINTED WITH RUSSIANS

etc. A keen interpreter, an imaginative observer, and accomplished linguist, he is also an excellent speaker, fluent, lucid, witty, impassioned and above all, fair minded, it is said.

In early May of 1927, Mr. Hindus made a four months' tour of Europe and Asia, with China as his ultimate destination. He arrived in Moscow on the day that England broke off diplomatic relations with the soviet government. From there he went into Siberia, then through the Buryat country, crossing into Mongolia. His mission was to get an accurate appraisal of actual conditions in Russia and China during the summer months of 1927. In 1928 he again went to Russia, spending the months of June, July, August and September, obtaining an up-to-the-minute picture of affairs in Russia. Again in 1929 he visited Russia. His latest book, "Uprooted Humanity," is attracting wide attention and will be the subject of his lecture here.

First Ward Wins First Game In M. I. A. Tourney

The first three games of the M. I. A. tournament were played at Union last night with a large crowd in attendance. The first game between La Grande's First and Second Ward teams ended with a score of 55 to 2 in favor of the First Ward. Killpack made a shot from the center of the floor just as the final whistle blew which kept the score from being all on one side.

The line-up of the First Ward was center, Clifton Baxter; forwards, Floyd Baxter and Marion Stoddard, and guards, Melvin Baxter and Ross Anderson. Lester Stoddard was sub for Anderson. The Second Ward line-up was F. T. Hendrickson and Tabor; C. Killpack; G. Price and Fuller. Coalwell and S. Hendrickson were subs. Floyd Baxter was high point man for the game with 27 points.

The second game between Mt. Glen and Baker was not so one sided ending with a score of 22 to 15 in favor of Mt. Glen. Mt. Glen's line-up consisted of E. Hibbert and F. Felk, forwards; V. Waite, center; L. Waite and C. Berry, guards. F. Berry and L. Felk were substitutes. Hibbert was high point man with seven points. Baker's line-up was R. Haslam and J. Fossum, forwards; P. Haslam, center; P. Wood and T. Hunie, guards.

The third game between Imbler and Union had for its final scoring 30 to 17 in favor of Imbler. Their lineup was E. Keown and G. Perry, forwards; L. Westonskow, center, and R. Martin and J. Clegg, guards. Leo Westenskow was high point man. The second series of games of the tournament will be played at the M. I. A. amusement hall in La Grande Thursday night of this week. A large crowd is expected from interest that was shown in the games last night at Union.

Lincoln Befriended Man Now In Seattle

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 11 (AP)—A man who befriended Charles Boynton of Seattle when he was 15 years old will be remembered throughout the country tomorrow.

Boynto, who has lived here forty years, claims to be the last survivor of Troop M, Eleventh New York cavalry, the crack, hard riding outfit taken from battle scenes in 1862 to be the bodyguard of Abraham Lincoln.

"It's hard to see boys like you going to war," Boynton said Lincoln once told him.

"I was only 15 and President Lincoln took an interest in me."

CURIO HUNTERS IMPERIL VALUABLE INDIAN RELICS

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Priceless records of former human life are being destroyed "at a rate incredible to those not in touch with the situation," says Dr. Carl E. Guthe, director of the museum of anthropology, University of Michigan.

These records are Indian relics which Dr. Guthe says become almost valueless to tell the story of tribes, nations and customs now extinct, unless they are studied in the original mounds where unearthed.

He lays the destruction both to curio hunters and to amateur archaeologists.

He suggests that vandalism may be checked by correcting an erroneous impression that archeological objects have an intrinsic financial value.

SEVERAL NATIONS PRESS ITALY IN MAKING SILK

ROME (AP)—Italy ranks next to the United States in the production of artificial silk, but three other countries, England, Germany and France, are threatening to supplant her in second place.

Last year the United States produced 90,200,000 pounds of artificial silk, Italy, 55,000,000 pounds; England, 52,800,000, and Germany 44,000,000.

Several years ago Italy had extensive exportation markets in England, Germany and the United States; but these countries rapidly developed their own silk.

Italy now has turned to India, China and South America.

KENTUCKY SOLAR ROOM TO STUDY SUN'S RAYS

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—A laboratory of life and light that looks like a combination zoo and conservatory has been completed at the University of Kentucky.

In it will be studied secrets of temperature and sunlight that make for health or illness.

Endowed by Percy H. Johnson of New York, the solar laboratory is an eight-room steel building with a glass roof.

It is equipped with large ultra-violet ray lamps and apparatus for air conditioning so as to provide any degree of temperature, humidity and air motion.

Not a Committee, Nor Even an Athletic Team, But Students Who Made Straight "A" at O.S.C.

In the midst of solemn protests that athletes and activity students are lauded while scholastic honor men are ignored, the photographer managed to round up 9 of the 14 students who made straight "A" or perfect averages at Oregon State college last term. They are, front row from left, Raymond Scott, Portland, electrical engineering; Margaret Atwood, Corvallis, vocational education; Wilfred Johnson, Astoria, mechanical engineering; rear, Charles Peters, Redmond, commerce; George Beebe, Multnomah, commerce; Philip Ekstrand, Albany, electrical engineering; Earnest Sears, Rickreall, agriculture; and Lowell Hollingsworth, Albany, electrical engineering. Those not in the picture are Ruby Owsley, Huntington, pharmacy; Walter Kidd, Eugene and Sinclair Wilson, Portland, graduate school; Don C. Pearl, Corvallis, engineering; and Albert Arnst, Portland, forestry.

Thomas Edison Celebrates His 83rd Birthday Anniversary In Florida

FORT MYERS, Fla., Feb. 11 (AP) — Thomas A. Edison, celebrating his 83rd birthday here today, declared that the biggest thing the American people can accomplish during the next year is to "pay more attention to engineers than to politicians."

The aged inventor scribbled this with a stub of a pencil as he gave written answers to a questionnaire from newspapermen who were accorded their annual birthday interview.

Despite that he walked blithely to his workshop for his audience with the reporters and quickly wrote his answers to the questions, Mr. Edison declared he felt older than he really is.

"How old do you feel?" he was asked.

Feels About 85

"Generally about 50 but lately some microbe has bothered me and done some experimenting with my internal machinery and I feel about 85 years."

Mr. Edison believes that absolute prohibition can be accomplished in the United States and asserted this with a vigorous "yes," to a query about it.

Asked if he believed proposed modification of the Volstead act to permit the home manufacture of light wines and beer would help the cause of temperance, the inventor replied "No."

He asserted his belief that the London arms conference would arrive at a "sane pact to limit future trouble."

Queried as usual on his attitude toward aviation, Mr. Edison said he believed "more experimenting to increase safety" should be made before "commercializing too much."

He Favors Business

"Do you think a young man graduated from high school will derive greater benefit by spending four years in a modern university or by entering business immediately," he was asked.

"The way things are today," Mr. Edison replied, "I should say enter business."

"At what age do you consider the electrical development is today? Childhood, adolescence, maturity, or old age?"

"Childhood," was the laconic answer.

"What will become of the common laborer when the full automatic machine eliminates hand work?"

"He will own a home and a lot of things providing alcohol doesn't intervene."

"What is your attitude toward commercial aviation?"

"Do more experimenting to increase safety before commercializing too much."

"Can you tell of the greatest disappointment you encountered in your work, also the greatest satisfaction?"

"I am always disappointed until the problem is solved. Not more than one out of 20 of the details work at first."

Attends Ceremony

Following the questionnaire Mr. Edison went home and made ready for the unveiling of the Edison memorial plaque in city park. He motored to the scene of the unveiling where he was joined by his old friends, Henry Ford and Harvey Firestone. Together with them and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Edison walked to a seat in front of the speakers stand.

They were given a round of applause by the crowd which viewed the unveiling.

Edison was characterized as a "living immortal" by Dr. Hamilton Holt, president of Rollins college, speaking at the dedication of the memorial tablet.

"I direct your attention to this striking fact. We are at this moment privileged to be in the presence of one of the immortals of all time.

"There may be two or three living Americans for whom we can thus anticipate the verdict of history. Certainly one of them is Thomas A. Edison."

Taft Continues To Show Improvement

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (AP)—Attendants at the home of William Howard Taft said today that he continued to show the improvement that has marked his illness for several days.

The former chief justice was said to have spent a very restful night, awakening only twice for short intervals. Those at his bedside were optimistic and said they expected further improvement during the day.

adian country, etc., as well as opening new territory for the Eastern Oregon Normal school to draw students from.

La Grande, with such a road, could offer much to the tourist he said, pointing out that roads from this city would open the way to Wallowa lake, possibly to a skyline drive over the Blue mountains, to the Yellowstone and Canada by the way of the Old Oregon Trail highway, etc.

"La Grande cannot afford to let this opportunity pass," he declared, adding that it would probably cost in the neighborhood of $200,000 or $300,000. The road also would pass through the Mt. Emily lumber camp, where a payroll of $1000 a day exists. As this camp works closer to Pendleton, much of this money would go into Umatilla county, he said, unless a good road to La Grande could be available.

Mr. Pierce opened his talk with a tribute to A. W. Nelson and A. B. Hunter, president and secretary of the chamber, stating that under their administration the chamber and valley sections are closer together than ever before. He also spoke of the present market road system, which he fathered when a legislator, and of the progress made by the state highway commission including the successful oiling of macadam, which originated in La Grande through the efforts of R. H. Baldock, then engineer here.

YOUTHS ACCUSED OF RIOTING

WATSONVILLE, Cal., Feb. 11 (AP)—Charged with participating in the recent race riots against Filipinos here, eight Watsonville youths were bound over to the superior court to face trial.

the submarine but would flatly refuse to accept abolition.

Then came George Laygues, French minister of marine, and there was a shifting in the seats by the other delegates to get a full view of France's spokesman.

In rapid staccato sentences, M. Laygues declares that France declined to abandon submarines. She considered them necessary defensive weapons. They are not offensive. He left no doubt that his country was adamant in this stand but he tendered an olive branch in proposing that the committee study the proposition for humanizing not only submarine warfare, but the activities of all classes of warships.

The speech of Dino Grandi, Italian foreign minister, was a diplomatic reiteration of her standpoint which since the beginning of the conference has been for naval equality with France. Premier Mussolini's spokesman stated that Italy did not object in principle to abolishment, but if submarines were done away with all the powers must participate and there also must be reduction in other categories of ships.

Japan Favors Subs.

Admiral Takarabe, minister of marines, speaking in meticulous Japanese, reiterated Japan's contention for her need of submarines.

Prime Minister MacDonald, speaking to newspaper men after the session, declared that the greatest achievement of the conference thus far was that five nations with separate natural needs had conferred for three weeks and had emerged at the end more harmonious than when they started.

During the discussions today Sir Atul Chatterjee, delegate from India, J. L. Ralston of Canada, J. E. Fenton of Australia, together with Prof. Timothy Smiddy of the Irish Free State, all supported the British and American points of view urging the abolition of the submarine.

U. P. Taking Up Search for Flier

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11 (AP)—The Union Pacific railroad today is sending a ground crew from Caliente, Nev., into the mountains in an effort to run down the latest clue to develop in the search for Maurice Graham, Western Air Express airmail pilot who has been missing for more than a month.

J. S. Burke, heading one of the ground searching crews working out of Caliente, reported to J. C. Stoyell, station agent at Caliente, late last night, that he had seen a rocket and a flare in the hills ten miles from Caliente, to the east.

SUBMARINES WILL REMAIN WAR WEAPON

Secretary of State Stimson, followed and began his address with one of those crisp statements for which he has become famous among the naval conferees.

"The American delegation is in favor of the abolition of the submarine."

Briefly he amplified this declaration and later handed in a resolution calling for the committee to study three questions:

1—Abolition of the submarine.

2—Regulation of use in war time.

3—Regulation of unit and size of undersea craft.

Way Open for Compromise

In other words he, like Mr. Alexander, opened the road for a compromise with France who, it was thus it would agree to humanizing

Reappoint Smith Postmaster For Office at Union

Mrs. L. Z. Terrall

UNION (Special)—T. D. Smith received news this week of his reappointment as postmaster. He has held this position for the past eight years.

Captain Ely and Major Huron came over from La Grande on Tuesday evening to attend the meeting of the national guard. The members have taken steps to enlarge their meeting quarters.

Mrs. Effie Worsham returned to her home in Union Friday after spending the past few months in Baker and Haines.

Ephraim Cameron was taken to Hot Lake Friday for medical attention.

Mrs. Nettie Rich was called to the bedside of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Jim Nelson, north of Union, Friday evening. She is reported very low.

J. F. Hutchinson is driving a fine new Dodge sedan this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stevens entertained the bridge club and several other guests at their home Wednesday evening. After a jolly evening during which five tables were at play prizes were awarded. Miss Erla Clark won the guest prize, Mrs. George Winship, club prize, L. Z. Terrall, the one for men and T. T. Cook the consolation. Delicious refreshments brought a most pleasant evening to an end.

T. N. Baird took a vacation from his duties at the Thrift grocery the first of the week to attend to business matters in Baker.

The attendance at the Woman's club, scholarship loan fund day on Thursday was very good and added a few dollars to the fund. The program was changed some due to the fact that Miss Williams was unable to be present to make her Mrs. Adrain Goodbred had charge of the program with the following numbers:

Piano Solo—Mrs. Orvel Jensen.

Playlet entitled "Modern Paintings" by three grade girls.

Violin solo—Jean Baum.

Vocal music by the high school quartette—the Miss Erla Clark, Leona Spray, Nellie and Valley Geertsen.

Dance, "Little Boy in the Alley" —Mrs. Murray Jensen.

After the program the crowd enjoyed a social hour and dainty refreshments served by the hostesses—Mesdames S. E. Miller, Frank Hall, Mabel Gale and Whit Langford.

A very delightful party was given at the Union hotel Friday afternoon by Mrs. J. F. Hutchinson. Nearly thirty guests were present to enjoy the delicious luncheon at one o'clock. The table was most attractive carrying out a red and green color scheme with Valentines as score cards. Seven tables of bridge followed with Mrs. Geo. Baird winning the club prize, Mrs. Walter Cock the guest and Mrs. Willis Phillips the consolation prizes. Out of town guests were Mrs. Harry McClay and Mrs. Ruby Knight, of La Grande, and Mrs. Forrest Scroggins and Mrs. C. E. Lawson from the valley.

Mrs. A. I. Bideler who went to La Grande early last week to visit her daughter, Mrs. Helene Stearns, became very ill and was unable to return home. She is expected home soon.

A thrilling basketball game was staged at the local gym Friday evening between the Baker M. I. A. team and the Union M. I. A. quintet. The resulting score 12 to 5 was a victory for the Union boys. After the game the teams were entertained at the L. D. S. church with games and light refreshments. On Monday evening the M. I. A. tournament will be held at the gym with several teams participating. Three games will be played.

Pennsylvania has perfected a new brick 20 feet long and 5 feet wide. Just the thing for some of those Philadelphia politicians to throw at one another.
