Primo Carnera
Flattens Cop In Second Stanza

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 12 (AP)—Primo Carnera, Italy's man of magnitude, for the fourth time showed his punching ability to an American ring audience when he sent a swift right to the jaw of Buster Martin, Tulsa, Okla., policeman, and ended a scheduled 10-round contest after 56 seconds of the second stanza had elapsed at the arena last night. Martin was on his feet during the nearly four minutes of the two rounds but had to be carried out after Carnera made an effective contact.

The behemoth came out slowly for the first round and Martin apparently started with the attitude of staying with the Alpine goliath as long as possible. Primo attempted to add another first round K. O. to his string but the policeman kept at a distance, when possible. Carnera failed to display a great amount of effective timing of punches and missed frequently. Martin diving for the big boy's abdomen and hanging on, until Primo wrestled free.

Carnera landed a few left hooks which made Martin wobble on his feet and instead of dancing out of range, the Tulsa staggered away. The crowd cheered as Martin went to his corner at the bell.

Buster made a costly mistake in the second, after clinching a few times, when he tried to deal with a right to Carnera's head, only to have the big one's right collide with his jaw. Martin's head hit the canvas with a thump and he lay perfectly still during the count. Carnera helped Buster's seconds carry the conquered gladiator into the corner.

Joyce Wethered
Quits Competition

LONDON, Feb. 12 (AP)—Joyce Wethered, holder of the British woman's golf championship, today stated that she will not defend her title at Formby in May and furthermore that she has finished with championship play altogether.

The retirement of this five-time holder of the British championship comes at the comparatively early age of 23, but it is known that for some time she felt she was faced with too difficult a task in keeping up the standard of play expected of her by the golfing public.

RUTH GOING GOOD

CHICAGO, Feb. 12 (AP)—Take it from President Ernest S. Barnard of the American league, Babe Ruth is going to worry a lot of pitchers next season if he comes to terms with the Yankees.

"Babe is in such great trim that he is certain to have another banner year and a big crop of home runs," Barnard said following his return from Florida. "He is in prime condition because of his faithful and rigorous training."

There is one place in the United States where four states come together—Arizona, Utah, Colorado and New Mexico. As yet there is no town at this intersection.

HACK WILSON IS GIVEN VERDICT

Fighting Cock of the Cubs
Free From Trouble
His Fists Brought.

CHICAGO, Feb. 12 (AP)—Lewis (Hack) Wilson, fighting cock of the Chicago Cubs, is free at last from all the trouble his swinging fists have stirred up on and off the baseball field.

The final case against him was decided in his favor yesterday by a superior court jury, which acquitted him on charges of assaulting Edward Young, a Chicago mil-man, and rejected Young's suit for $20,000 damages.

Planked by seven witnesses, Wilson won his case in short order against the milkman, who charged that the pudgy Cub outfielder beat him severely during the Cub-St. Louis Cardinal game, June 21, 1928. The jury deliberated only 25 minutes.

Young testified he went to the game sober and joined other fans in booing Wilson for failing to get a hit. Toward the end of the game, he said, Wilson vaulted into the box seats, knocked him down and then threw him over a seat. As a result, he claimed, his lip was bruised and his back wrenched so severely that he was incapacitated for weeks.

Denied striking Young, Wilson admitted starting after Young with intent to silence his taunts, but denied striking him, friends with Young.

He said he fell while en route to Young's seat and that Young bounced upon and struck him.

"The vile names he shouted at me were unbearable and my fighting blood naturally reached a boiling point," Wilson said. "But I did not hit him."

Wilson's witnesses corroborated his testimony, whereas Young's only witness was a physician, who said he treated him for a wrenched back and bruised lip.

The park policeman, who took me away at the time refused to let me get the names and addresses of my witnesses," Young said.

The Cub outfielder, who was brought before President John Freyer of the National league last summer for fighting with Pete Dunahoo and Ray Kip of the Cincinnati Reds, was elated with the verdict. He shook hands with the jurors and even wanted to be bedded to go into the infantry instead of the air service.

The Scott-Sharkey match is the first international heavyweight battle of importance to be held in Florida since Jim Corbett, then world's champion, knocked out Charley Mitchell of England at Jacksonville in 1894.

Scott and Sharkey, working on percentage, each may draw down from $75,000 to $100,000 for ten rounds or less at Miami. Corbett and Mitchell fought for a purse of $20,000, winner to take all.

The American won on a knock-out in the third round of a fight marked by unusual display of fierceness. Mitchell kept Corbett waiting in the ring until the latter became chilled, also enraged. In the second round, Corbett hit Mitchell as the Englishman was coming up from a knockdown. At the end of the round, Mitchell suddenly walked over to Corbett's corner and belted the American behind the ear, whereupon they sluggered each other merrily until pried apart. A right-hander to the jaw put Mitchell out "cold" in the third round.
