Both Win Games.

MOSCOW, Idaho, Feb. 18 (AP)—In a fast basketball game, featuring accurate passing, University of Oregon's quintet defeated Idaho, 22 to 26, here last night. The Vandals made a good start, and the game was tied up frequently in the first period. The half ended 22 to 18 in Oregon's favor and they were never headed after that. Fast floor work by Keenan, midshipman forward, in the first half gave the visitors four field goals in the last eight minutes and started the team on its victorious march. Ellsworth started in the second half for Oregon. The victory placed Oregon in third place in the northern division of the emod conference standings. The teams play again tonight.

OREGON STATE LOSER:
WALLA WALLA Wash., Feb. 18 (AP)—Tied by the brilliant shooting of Art McElroy, guard, Washington State's basketball team turned back the Oregon States, 25 to 25, here last night. "DOSING"

Back in the old "horse and buggy" days, it was the custom to give large doses of internal medicines for almost every human ailment. Then a North Carolina pharmacist originated Vicks VapoRub, the better method of treating colds externally.

Mothers appreciate Vicks, because it checks children's colds without the risk of upsetting delicate little stomachs.

Adults, too, have found Vicks just as good for their own colds. Today, the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing."

George Simpson
Trails Daley In Sixty-Yard Race

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—Jimmy Daley of Italy Cross stole the honors of the eastern debut of the "fastest human," George Simpson of Ohio State, at the New York A. C. indoor track meet. Simpson trailed Daley by over a yard at the finish of the 60-yard dash. The time was 6.25, two-tenths of a second behind the record and just what Simpson made in his winning heat.

Stanislaw Petrkiewicz, of Poland, beaten over the two mile route at the Millrose meet, came back to defeat his conqueror, Paul Rekow, of Penn State, by five yards in the 5000 meter race.

Northwestern's slight vaulting star, Tammy Warne, kept on going right up after Fred Sturdy of Yale and the Los Angeles A. C. and Harvey Berlinger of Pennsylvania, rivals for indoor honors for two years, had stopped. Warne cleared 13 feet 6 inches and barely failed in an attempt to go four inches higher. Berlinger took second with 13 feet while Sturdy failed to show his usual form and made but 12.

Phil Edwards scored his first major victory of the season in the Breffny half mile, defeating Dr. Paul Martin of Switzerland and Fred Veit, a former teammate.

Ray Sommer of Illinois A. C. ran the fastest mile of the season to win the Baxter mile trophy. He was timed in 4:12.5 to best Joey Hickox of N. Y. U.

Holy Cross beat Georgetown in the mile relay in 3:28.24, the best performance of the year.

27 Conventions In Portland In 1930

PORLTAND, Ore., (AP)—At least 23 organizations will hold their annual conventions here during the remainder of 1930. The marching is out for florists and gardeners, bankers and butchers and egg men, and members of half a dozen lodges who will gather together to exchange secret handshakes and celebrate mystic rites of their respective orders. Portland, in short, is in for a busy year as host city.

Attendance at the various conventions, as estimated by the conventions committee of the chamber of commerce, will range from a handful at some of the trade meetings to several thousand. Two national meetings are scheduled for October, those of the National Association of State Foresters and the American Gladiolus society.

SUMMER BEAUTY FROZEN FOR WINTER CLASS WORK

FARGO, N. D. (AP)—Mechanical refrigerators have become important aids to education, says a report to the American Association for the Advancement of Science by A. F. Yeager of North Dakota Agricultural college.

Fruits, flowers and vegetables that tourists, in the summer, when there is no school are thrust in their full bloom into ice boxes at below zero temperatures and kept frozen solid for classroom analysis the following winter.

The results are remarkable, says Dr. Yeager, the samples remaining in the most part in perfect condition so far as appearance is concerned. Most of the material had been dried at some of the trade meetings to several thousand. Two national meetings are scheduled for October, those of the National Association of State Foresters and the American Gladiolus society.

We were particularly impressed by the appearance of frozen yellow sweet corn, so much so that we took it home and cooked it. It was excellent and in our opinion fully equal to corn bought at the average market in summer time," says Dr. Yeager.

GRANGE HALL (Special)—Mrs. Sam Anson has leased her farm to the Bork brothers and she and her son, Charlie, will move to Haines as soon as the condition of the roads is sufficiently improved. Members of the O. C. Fleshman family are able to be out again after having been sick with the flu. There are eight in the family and seven of them—all but Mrs. Fleshman—were sick about the same time. She says that after she had them all launched on the road to recovery she became ill and the worst of it was she did not have the consolation the others had—that feeling of "misery likes company."

Lon Ludgate recently left for Baker where he intends to reside. Mr. Ludgate located in this community about 19 years ago when he purchased the farm which is a small portion of the place originally owned by Merritt Reynolds, father of J. D. Reynolds.

A reading "The New Carpet" by Mrs. Orland Anson, contesting games and a valentine box were features of the afternoon. Mrs. E. B. Kendrik received first prize and Mrs. O. C. Fleshman, second in the bird contest.

In the rivalry to see who could recognize the most advertisements on display without the names of the manufacturers in sight, Mrs. Tom Maagom won first and Mrs. McFleshman, the consolation prize. When the women contested their skill as blindfolded artists in the left-handed class, the judges decided that Mrs. Mattie Golden could draw a heart better than her competitors and that Mrs. John Haman would make a good artist to illustrate "how the heart should look if not properly developed." Mrs. H. Rohland, who had charge of the valentine box which had been arranged by the hostesses early in the afternoon, presented a valentine to each guest. Miss Vandear's home is in Durkee where she is affiliated with the Durkee grange—the organization that has the distinction of being the first standard grange in the state. There are only two such granges in Oregon, the other being located in Lang county.

JAPAN'S SUPERWOMAN SUCCESSFUL AUTHOR

OSAKA, Japan (AP)—Miss Kinuyo Tanaka, Japan's superwoman athlete, has just published two books which the Japanese critics say show real literary ability.

"Spiky-no-Ats" ("The Marks of the Spikes") is autotherapy, recounting her career in international athletics.

"Taishan-Made" ("Until the Starting Signal is Fired") is a handbook and manual for women athletes, dealing with form, training methods, etc.

Miss Hitomi, a wonder at the sprints, jumps and weight events, makes her living as a reporter for the Osaka Mainichi, one of Japan's largest dailies.

Her colleagues say she is a competent sports writer.

OLD STONE PILE STILL AN INDIAN "POSTOFFICE"

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP)—An ancient Indian "postoffice," where modern era men still post their "letters" is just off the Lewis and Clark trail in the Sawtooth national forest.

The "postoffice" is as large as a city lot, and looks much like a city lot with various collections of rubbish and rocks. Indians passing by have piled up strange little mounds of stones and pebbles, the significance of which is understood by no white man.

Others "letters" are formed by combinations of flat stones, each meaning something to a red man who reads the sign language of the northwest tribes.

There is also a "he-he" stick at the "postoffice." No white man knows what the stick means, but no northwest Indian ever passes one without stopping to leave some token.
