statements, to examine favorably the complete abolition of capital ships.

Italy will agree, the statement added, to hold her fleet strength equal to that of any continental power but will agree to reduce her navy to the lowest level that continental powers can agree upon.

Willing to Do Her Part

Grandi's declaration restated Italy's willingness to consider abolition of submarines in connection with real reductions in other forms of naval armament.

It also restated the Italian naval position as being, at present, practically at parity with France if capital ships are excluded from the calculations.

Grandi characterized the Italian statement as one of "faith, hope, parity and reduction."

Grandi concluded with the declaration that Italy firmly believes the London conference will achieve naval reductions.

Pondosa People Home After Trip Into Old Mexico

By Mrs. M. F. Raymond (Observer Correspondent)

PONDOSA, Ore. (Special)—Mrs. Clara Johansen and her daughter, Elizabeth, and son Herman returned Tuesday after a six weeks auto trip to Columbia, Dubuque, Old Mexico. They report a delightful trip with no trouble. Traveling in Old Mexico is somewhat slower than in this country due to the dirt or rather mud roads. Highways are unknown and according to Mrs. Johansen one must be good at guessing one's way since no road signs are to be seen anywhere. The party left here just after Christmas and the first snow they encountered was after they crossed the border, although they say it was warm all the time they were there. Mrs. Henry Hess, of La Grande, daughter of Mrs. Johansen, came out with her mother Tuesday and visited a few days.

An interesting essay on the life of Lincoln written by Dunham Wright was read to the members of the Medical Springs Women's club by Mrs. P. J. Powers Thursday when the club met at her home. The meeting was unusually interesting and was well attended. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Powers, Mrs. J. M. July and Mrs. Edgar Pratt.

The pupils of the intermediate grades surprised their teacher, Mrs. Annanda McQueen, with a peanut shower Thursday afternoon. After several minutes of showering in their room the teacher and pupils went into the primary room and surprised Miss Conlogue likewise after which the pupils of both rooms played games for the rest of the afternoon.

Mrs. Ed Lark returned from La Grande Saturday evening where she had been visiting relatives since Thursday.

Loren Nelson who moved to La

Grande about a month ago has had pneumonia twice in the hospital for eight days. His many friends here will be glad to know he has recovered to the extent that he was able to be taken home from the hospital Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Thompson, of Baker, visited at the homes of their parents Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thompson are his parents and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Robinson are her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Litting and daughter La Vaughn, of Baker, visited on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Raymond.

Warren Metcalf went to Elgin Wednesday to be gone several days on business.

Mrs. W. G. Bussard, of Halfway, who spent three weeks at Medical Springs left Wednesday and will spend a day in Baker before returning home Friday.

A very jolly dancing party was held at the school house Saturday evening. The recreation room was prettily decorated with red hearts and strips of red crepe paper in honor of St. Valentine. The party was sponsored by the Medical Springs Women's club. Refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served at a late hour. Music for the affair was furnished by Mrs. W. H. Duncan, Mrs. Leslie Robinson and S. A. Robinson.

Several mothers of the primary pupils enjoyed a valentine program Friday afternoon at the school house. The children arranged and presented the program, after which valentines were distributed. Mrs. Marie Conlogue is the primary teacher.

An issue of the New York Herald of April 15, 1865 telling of the assassination of President Lincoln is framed and hangs in the home of Dunham Wright at Medical Springs. The paper is yellow with age and quite different from the dailies of today.

Mrs. Edgar Pratt and children returned from Baker valley Monday evening after spending several days with her husband who is feeding cattle there.

Mrs. S. A. Robinson has entertained all the school children this week. Wednesday was her son Neel's eighth birthday so all the little folk in his room were entertained after school at the Robinson home. Games were played and refreshments were served. Monday being Donald's twelfth birthday another party was held with the pupils of the two upper rooms present. This was a dancing party held at the school house. Mrs. Leslie Robinson and S. A. Robinson furnishing music. Both boys received many nice gifts.

James Wade secured employment in La Grande and left Wednesday. Mrs. Wade will stay here for the present.

E. G. Murray, George Robertson and C. D. Wilson returned Monday evening from an auto trip to Bend, Klamath Falls, Grants Pass and Coquille.

Elmer Beckle and family moved to La Grande Sunday where Mr. Beckle has employment with the O.-W. railroad.

Mrs. Ralph York was the honor guest at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. C. E. Lawler and Mrs. J. W. Lockhart at the home of Mrs. Lockhart Friday afternoon. The rooms were prettily decorated in valentine colors. Refreshments of fruit salad, heart shaped cakes and tea were served. Twenty-five guests were present.

and many pretty and useful gifts were received by the honor guest.

C. C. Pyle Down But Not Out, Is Writer's Belief

By Russell J. Newland (Associated Press Sports Writer)

SAN FRANCISCO—C. C. Pyle who introduced Suzanne Lenglen to the professional tennis world and Red Grange to pro football ranks and made a barrel of money out of the ventures, is temporarily down but a long ways from out. He dropped plenty on his two attempts to make transcontinental foot racing popular. While living in seclusion in Los Angeles he is planning a comeback in a promotional role and talks of an enclosed sports palace seating 100,000 persons. "Cash and Carry" says such a project could be supported by four cities, namely, New York, Chicago, Detroit and Los Angeles.

The 1930 West Coast Relays at Fresno in May will rival any athletic competition of its kind in the country. There is a possibility George Simpson, Ohio State's great sprinter, will be on hand to host the short stretches with Charley Paddock, Frank Wykoff, et al.

Wherever chin thumping draws the customers through the turnstiles, you won't find any more capable ring seconds than Lonnie Austin, Seattle; Dolph Thomas and "Moose" Tausig, San Francisco veteran and Gig Reaney, Los Angeles. Tausig once worked behind Jack Dempsey and Rooney is the present manager of Jackie Fields, welterweight champion.

Day in and day out a chap called Joe Aporopolis picks 'em up close as any other habitue of the Agua Caliente track. He knows more about some of the nags than the owners do themselves. His name isn't Aporopolis and he is not a Greek. He's a newspaperman of Italian extraction.

The Brawley (Cal.) growers and shippers annual golf tourney is a big town event in a small town setting and of many parts and parties. Presidents of half a dozen railroads show up and fudge on their handicaps along with the lesser-knowns. Ten thousand dollars or more are raised to buy prizes with some of the players but carloads of lettuce or cantaloupes on matches.

Wille Hunefield, good lightweight ten years ago, now is promoting fights in Phoenix, Arizona, and reports have it he is doing a bangup job of it.

The California amateur golf championship, which is equivalent to the Pacific coast championship, should be won by an entrant from the Pacific northwest, that is, if Tom Moe of Portland is on the job next September.
