dent presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Emma Blockland who is ill. Mrs. O. O. Shaffer had charge of the devotional. The business was of a routine nature, but considerable time was devoted to the community dinner which was held this evening at the church. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. A. Holman.

Out For a Day—Miss Frances DeLong of the Grande hall neighborhood was ill this week and out of school for a day.

Club Meet—The meeting of the Women's club of Imber Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. Hansen is reported to have been a most interesting one. There was a splendid attendance with one guest from La Grande, Mrs. J. A. Gaskill. A health talk, which included studies and suggestions along a number of different lines, general health, diet, etc. It was very practical and brought out much discussion by those present. In her discussion Mrs. Gaskill referred to a number of books, which she advised her hearers to read as being quite timely. They are: "Trance and Pancares" by Ours, "Keeping in Condition" by H. H. Moore and "Why The Blues" by Kellough. Mrs. Hansen served a nice lunch at the close of the program.

Her Social—The Epworth League of the church at Island City had a nice social Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Blockland with a fine attendance of young people there. At the business meeting initial plans were laid for a party which is to be given at the church next Friday evening, March 7, to which all the young folks of the Island are to be invited.

Concluded Visit—Mr. and Mrs. Ed Tuttle have been visiting relatives and friends in Elgin and Willow creek but have now returned to their home at Elgin.

Dinner Club Meets—Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Kate Redhead, her mother, Mrs. Edith Geisler, entertained the ladies of the Birthday Dinner club. There were nine of the members present and one guest. These enjoyed a very happy day at the Redhead home, with the dinner at noon, one which, rather beggars description, being the big event of the day. This club is composed of a group of women who live in the Grande hall neighborhood.

Home From Trip—Mrs. Jeanette Tuttle of Willow Creek who has been having a lovely visit up in Washington state with her son, Gerald, and her daughter, Blanche, has returned to her home in this valley.

Sunday Guests—Mr. and Mrs. Homer Bidwell of North Passer, and S. L. Brooks of La Grande were Sunday guests at the old S. L. Brooks home near Elgin.

Remains to Portland—Mrs. Robert Earl who has been a guest of her mother, Mrs. Emma Kiddle of Island City, returned last evening to her home in Portland. Mrs. Earl, until recently, lived in Eugene.

Visits Brother—Willie Carney, of Hood River, is making a visit in the Grande Ronde valley, being a guest at the home of his brother, George Carney and family of the Sandridge.

Sister's Meet—The Pythian Sisters of Imber had another social meeting at their hall Wednesday evening, with cards and dancing as the diversions of the evening. They are laying plans for their annual dancing party which is to be held some time in March, the exact date not having been set yet. It will probably be held around the 14th.

Visit—Mr. and Mrs. Vern Hog of Pumpkin Ridge were guests Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim McKinis. Mr. and Mrs. Hog have recently come back to the Ridge from Elgin where they lived for several months.

Return Home—Mrs. Gus Mohl left last evening for her home at Glenn's Ferry, Idaho. Mrs. Mohl has been visiting at the home of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Hansen at Island City.

Visits Daughter—Mrs. E. Sanderson of Sammerville has been spending the last three weeks at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Woodell. This was butchering week at Woodell's, six big fat hogs having been taken care of in a variety of ways the first of the week.

Misfortune—It happened in January, but it hasn't been forgotten yet. Some animal, its identity not exactly known, visited Mrs. Ed Hughes' poultry yards and pens and broke the neck of every chicken she had on the place, amount 52. It was rather breath-taking to Mrs.

Crop, Weather Notes Are Of Great Interest

WALLOWA, Ore. (Special)—A large amount of snow has been saved by the extremely mild weather of the past few weeks. Some of the farmers who are milking their cows are not getting much hay at this time, where they are allowed to range in the fields and pastures during the day. In parts of the hill sections where the snow has all been gone for the past ten days, much of the stock is on the grass and said to be doing well. The weather has been warm enough to allow the new grass to make a fairly good growth on the south slopes. L. W. Minor who has his herd of about 300 ewes on pasture, in the hills east of town reports the grass getting well started along the hills on the north edge of the valley. Some hay is being fed night and morning.

Attend Meeting—Jim McKinis and Reid Hibbard of Willow Creek were among those of the valley who went to Elgin Tuesday evening to attend the Knights of Pythias lodge.

Spent Day—Mrs. Oscar Pouch of La Grande spent yesterday in the valley, a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Stein where she attended the Island City aid.

Improve—Mrs. Charles Grandy of Ladd Canyon who has been ill at her home of the flu is better, we are glad to report.

Begin Early—Work will begin early on the road from Summerville to Sanderson Springs, according to county authorities. With the exception of two or three wet spots, the strip of road to be graded was about ready for work the first of the last few days will retard the work a while. Residents of the entire north end of the county are watching this particular piece of road improvement quite eagerly as it comes in a district which is handicapped by road conditions for a good part of the winter season.

Directors Tonight—Tonight at the Union hotel there will be a meeting of the directors of the Wool-growers association.

Dinner Tonight—The annual community dinner sponsored by the Ladies Aid is being held this evening at the Island City community church. Dinner is to be served cafeteria style at seven o'clock. After the dinner Miss Mabel E. Doty, librarian of La Grande and a group of her helpers are putting on a program given recently before the Neighborhood club.

Is Better—Word from Mrs. Charles Gump of May Park, who has been ill at her home, is to the effect that she is improving.

Lambing—Reports from lambing operations at the Hugh Huron farm are in line with those from other lands, larger and smaller in the valley. Like others, Mr. Huron has lost some lambs, but those which he has now are reported to be the nicest lambs which they have ever had. Lambing is nearly two-thirds over with 30 ewes out of a band of 95 yet to lamb.

Grain Expert Here Saturday For Meeting
A meeting of exceptional interest and very great importance to wheat growers of this valley is to be held tomorrow, Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Sanderson Inn, to be addressed by A. J. Shumway, Peoples World Grande Ronde valley wheat growers are discussing among themselves at present are to be handled by a man who, through years of connection with large wheat marketing interests knows whereof he speaks, it is asserted. It will be an open meeting, and the public is urged to attend.
Mr. Shumway is probably best known in this locality on account of his activities in the range organization. From 1922 to 1925 he was connected with the well known northwest organization of wheat growers and has lately swung into the new organization more recently formed. "We have been wanting to do something here," said Mr. Avery, "but we did not know what or how. We are expecting Mr. Shumway to explain the operation of this wheat growers' association to us."
Health Talks
DEADLY BELIEFS
Many persons still believe every child must run the gauntlet of the childhood diseases.
This impression is responsible for the death and crippling of thousands of children.
Measles is a good illustration. Measles is an epidemic disease which appears with marked regularity approximately every two years in the large populous centers and every three years or less in the less populous sections.
Measles in a mild form, in a substantial number, however, because of neglect, the disease is followed by complications which all too often lead to crippling and death. The most common complication of measles is broncho-pneumonia.
Approximately 65 per cent of all cases of broncho-pneumonia occur in children under five years. A vast proportion are due to complications of measles. Most cases of measles also occur in children under five and most of the measles deaths in children under two years.
Measles is a debilitating disease which in some manner still unknown to science lowers the body's resistance to disease. The impairment of eyes, ears and lungs may follow as a consequence.
Cause and prevention of measles has been the active concern of medicine for many a year and substantial progress has been made in this direction.
Serum taken from the blood of individuals who have successfully weathered an attack and injected into weak children suffering from measles has been found of great help.
However, the application of general prevention measures still offers the greater margin of safety.
When measles is about, parents should be on the lookout for the symptoms of its early manifestations.
Measles begins like an ordinary cold involving eyes, nose and throat. Children showing these symptoms should be put to bed and kept isolated.
Measles is most prevalent from February to June.
SNOOK DENIED STAY
COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 27 (AP)—Governor Cooper late today refused Dr. James H. Snook's application for a stay of execution from the death sentence as well as a formal application for clemency. The stay from the death sentence to be executed tomorrow was denied on the ground that there had been nothing presented to justify executive clemency.

Noted Anachronisms

Several anachronisms, or misplacements in time of events or things are present in Shakespeare. For instance, he makes King Lear, an early Anglo-Saxon king, speak of not wanting spectacles, which were not known until the fourteenth century.

The accuracy of Hills Bros' continuous process—Controlled Roasting—lies in the fact that only a few pounds of coffee pass through the roasters at a time. No bulk-roasting method can produce the flavor that this exclusive process gives Hills Bros. Coffee.

London's oldest bank is Hoare's, the age of which cannot be certainly stated; but there is in existence a receipt dated 1625 for money deposited there.

Redundancy Rebuked
