Baking Insurance

"If you find any fault whatever in this Baking Powder, or think you do, your grocer will return your money and also pay for the eggs, butter, flour, etc., you have used."

You will find that statement printed on the Schilling Baking Powder label. Look for it. Read it carefully. It is far more than a mere gesture of good will. Unusual as it is, it means just what it says. Only a Baking Powder, sure and pure, could carry such an offer. Because it is made from Cream of Tartar, and no substitutes.

SEATTLE VOTE GIVEN TO CASE IN MAYOR RACE

SEATTLE, Wash., Mar. 12 (AP)—Municipal elections in Seattle and Tacoma yesterday ran true to prediction prognostications, with Mayor Edwards winning in Seattle over Otto A. Case by a majority of more than 18,000 in the basis of unofficial returns while Melvin G. Tennent defeated Fred Shoemaker by a majority of 5,000 in the race for chief executive in Tacoma. Tennent resigned as mayor a year ago, charging lack of cooperation on the part by the city council. Elections in both cities were non-partisan.

The race for the three positions in the city council in Seattle resulted in the election of Frank J. Laube, James Scavotto and John E. Carroll, incumbent, over A. Lou Cohen and William Hickman Moore, incumbents, and Frank Hill Laube, who was removed from the faculty of the University of Washington in 1927 for participating in municipal politics and Scavotto are comparatively new in city politics, but Cohen and Moore have long been prominent figures around the city hall. Hill was also a beginner in city affairs.

In Tacoma, where the commission system maintains, Dyer Dymont, incumbent, was re-elected public safety commissioner and Val Pawcett, son of the late Anglo V. Pawcett, three times mayor, defeated J. A. Ives for the post of finance commissioner. Tom Swayze, a newcomer in politics, defeated Hugh McGavik for controller, polling the largest vote in the election.

ONTARIO, Ore., Mar. 12 (AP)—With total bids reaching $3,082,261.20 T. E. Connolly company, San Francisco; J. F. Shea and company, Portland, and S. S. Maczoffin and company, Vancouver, B. C., were the low bidders Tuesday for construction of tunnels of distribution of the Owyhee irrigation project.

The bids on the large tunnel and branches proved lower than others and was well beneath the estimates of the government engineers. Shea and company for schedules six and seven being the lower end of the big tunnel and the upper end tunnel number five was the lowest and totalled $1,569,001.20.
