ST. PATRICK'S DAY
An Englishman was watching a parade on Fifth avenue in New York City.
Approaching an Irish officer he
said:
Englishman—And who are all
these people?
Irish Officer—Oh! that's the Irish parade.
Englishman—Irish parade!
Really? And what makes their face so red?
Irish Officer—Oh, that's the iron
in their blood.
Englishman—Iron in their blood!
My word! What kind of iron, I say?
Irish Officer—Scamp-iron.

A man with a little black bag knocked at the front door.
Father of 11 children—Come in,
sit, come in, and I hope to go into a piano tuner.

Golf Widow—You think so much of your old golf game that you don't even remember when we were married.
Hug—Of course I do, my dear, it was the day I said that 20-foot putt.

Immanuel (the brave Torador)
—Ah, Senoria, tonight I will steal beneath your balcony and sing you a sweet serenade.
Consuelo (the beautiful Senor-ita)—Oh, And I will drop you a flower.

Immanuel—Ah, in a moment of mad love.
Consuelo—No, in a poi.

Grace—I don't like Bob. Last night I wanted to show him how well I could whistle, and when I puckered my lips real nice -

Uncle Hezekiah had a neighbor who was in the habit of working on Sunday, but after a while he joined the church. One day, he met the minister to whose church the man belonged.

Minister—Well, Uncle Hezekiah, do you see any change in Mr. Jones since he joined the church?
Uncle Hezekiah—Well, before, when he went to mend the fences on Sunday, he carried his axe on his shoulder. Now he carries it under his overcoat.

Clarebelle—Auntie, were you ever proposed to?
Auntie—Once, dear, a gentleman asked me to marry him over the telephone—but he had the wrong number.

Father was sitting in the armchair one evening when his little son came in and showed him a new pen knife which, he said, he had found in the street.
Father—Are you sure it was lost?
Youngster—Of course it was lost,
I saw a man looking for it.

M. M.—See that man? He's a gunman, and he's wanted in Chicago.

Certified Cremo protects you against this abomination! Every tobacco leaf entering the clean, sunny Certified Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods developed during the war. And its purity is safeguarded along every step of the way by amazing inventions that foil, wrap and tip
