Expect His Resignation— The republican chairman who was on the stand for four days declared that he deposited the $36,100 with a brokerage firm be- cause he wished to use it as an "emergency account." He also emphatically asserted that he had given $36,100 to J. W. Worthing- ton, executive chairman of the Tennessee River Improvement as- sociation. Reports that Huston would re- sign his post as republican chair- man have persisted since his ques- tioning by the lobby committee last week. His withdrawal at some later date, however, would cause no surprise in political circles. Two Aviators Killed— SUGAR CITY, Colo., March 21 (AP)— Two men were burned to death near here today when their airplane crashed in landing and caught fire. The plane was piloted by H. Ray Stodolsen, 35, and carried Harry Abel, 45. Both were burned to death before assistance could reach them. HUSTON USED $36,100 FOR SPECULATION (Continued from Page One) stocks, added that he received two checks, one for $22,000 and the other for $14,100 from a messenger who said they were from the republican chairman. The witness added that he did not know the messenger and did not know where the money came from. He was questioned sharply about this, but replied that he would take money without ques- tion if informed that it came from Huston. Expect His Resignation— The republican chairman who was on the stand for four days declared that he deposited the $36,100 with a brokerage firm be- cause he wished to use it as an "emergency account." He also emphatically asserted that he had given $36,100 to J. W. Worthing- ton, executive chairman of the Tennessee River Improvement as- sociation. Reports that Huston would re- sign his post as republican chair- man have persisted since his ques- tioning by the lobby committee last week. His withdrawal at some later date, however, would cause no surprise in political circles. Thousands of Engineers— NEW YORK (AP)— Member- ship of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers totals 19,000. It was founded in 1889. Tax Collections— STILL LEAD 1929 (Continued from Page One) of the 4,164 increase in the returns on incomes exceeding $5000. This group totaled 18,250 returns with 15,959 the figure last year. PENDLETON HIGH IN SEMI-FINALS IN TOURNAMENT (Continued from Page One) ten went to the rest room with a 16 to 7 lead. The third period found the teams checking fiercely. Eugene had the advantage as far as scoring was concerned, adding four points to two for Pendleton. At one time during the closing minutes Eugene went up to within three points of Pendleton, but a burst of speed put the game away for the winners. Salem Eliminates Baker— Salem won its way into the semi- finals when it eliminated Baker, 39 to 19. The locals took a 19 to 5 lead during the first quarter and despite the fact that Kitchin, Sa- lem's star sharpshooter, was benched shortly after the start of the second half for too much per- sonal contact, the red and black continued to function in cham- pionship style. At half time Salem was leading 21 to 12. This advantage was increased to 28 to 15 at the end of the third period. Crawford, guard, played a good game for Baker until he, too, was benched. Lincoln Eliminated— Lincoln High of Portland, was eliminated from further competi- tion in the tournament Friday af- ternoon, when North Bend covered itself with glory to oust the Rose City ball chasers 19 to 12. North Bend will meet Dallas this afternoon in an effort to gain a place in the consolation semi-finals. Tillamook threw a scare into Commerce Thursday night when the Cheesemakers held the Port- landers to an 8 to 8 tie at the half and then latched them on virtually even terms through the third period. Superior physical condition finally won the game for Com- merce, 21 to 17. EUGENE WINS TODAY SALEM, Ore., Mar. 21 (AP)— Eugene defeated Tillamook 21 to 19 in the first game this morning in the consolation series of the state high school basketball tourna- ment. WINTER HERE TODAY; MILD WINTER ENDS (Continued from Page One) at the municipal building, where government weather re- cords are kept for this city. WORLD GREET'S SPRING By the Associated Press Spring descended today upon one-half the world—from the north pole to the equator. Careless of whether the ground was covered with snow or blossoms, the vernal season came, bringing its usual influences. Generally speaking, she got a somewhat cool reception in New England, the middle Atlantic region and the northern portion of the middle west. The west, south and south-west warmed up to the occasion a bit. She brought her usual gifts, spring lambs, pussy willows and puppy love; marbles, flares and spring sales; sulphur and melas- ses, liniment and Jamaica ginger. In the south and on the Pacific coast the blossoms break out as if the sun were staging a popcorn party. Everything turns green. Hills turn green, fields turn green, early plants and bushes turn green. The automobile speed record seekers are out and the astron- omers are measuring the new planet for its first set of figures. The senate years for a week's vacation and the naval conference shows symptoms of keeping with the spirit of the season. Spring's in the air. PIERCE MAY ENTER RACE; WEST PEEVED (Continued from Page One) legally serve both as a member of the board of horticulture and as a member of the state legislature. The opinion was given in response to an inquiry by Mr. Witherspoon, who recently filed his decla- ration of candidacy for re- election to the state legislature. McNary Opposition Ends— According to the Associated Press, a sudden and complete col- lapse of the movement of revolv- ing lumber men to bring out a can- didate against United States Sen- ator Charles L. McNary, republic- an of Oregon, followed yester- day's one vote margin passage of the soft woods tariff measure in the U. S. senate. Although the tariff does not become a law un- til the house and President Hoover approves it, leading lumber men in the movement said that the $150 per thousand board feet tariff ap- provedly appeared the majority of Oregon lumber men. "With this tariff in hand," they said, "the revolving lumbermen do not care to undertake to seek a candidate to run against Senator McNary." The biggest flurry in the political situation followed a statement made today by Oswald West, for- mer Oregon governor and democ- ratic national committee man, who said that if Pierce and George W. Joseph, Portland attorney, are nominated for governor in the democratic and republican pri- maries, "I will resign my national committee position and run for governor as an independent." West's announcement followed what he claimed was a discovery of a "plot" to draft Pierce for the democratic nomination as gov- ernor, the Associated Press said. Although West refused to com- ment directly, he said he believed the movement to draft Pierce was started by a handful of republi- cans with a view to the general election in November when Pierce could be used as a revenge can- didate by disappointed republicans. Ground Work Laid— Ground work for the Pierce-for- Governor boom was laid a few days ago, West said, when 13 democrats were invited to a luncheon at a hotel here. A mo- tion, West said, was put to the meeting which read: "It is the sense of this meeting that Pierce will run for governor," and the motion was carried, although W. A. Dabell, who was secretary to Pierce when he was governor, is said to have doubted the wisdom of starting the boom behind closed doors. This luncheon meeting, West said, was held a short time after democratic leaders met in unity and attempted to agree on wheth- er Edward F. Bailey, Eugene; George R. Willbur, Hood River, or others should be given support. West said he thought the meeting was in accord throughout, but said he "had a hunch" and dropped in on the luncheon meeting just when the motion to draft Pierce was being made. With that democratic politics in Oregon has remained stationary. Pierce is returning to La Grande from Salem and Portland and is expected to announce within a few days whether he will be a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor. Senator Charles Hall, who will be in La Grande next Tuesday, has accepted an invitation to speak at the chamber of commerce forum luncheon that day. Hall will spend next week in Eastern Oregon in his campaign for the republican gubernatorial nomina- tion. Pierce will preside at the luncheon as second vice president, during the absence of President George H. Currey.
