conventional pitching strength. This is especially true of the Browns, who are handicapped by a distinct weakness at bat. The Indians, third last year, have some heavy hitters but a shaky infield. The White Sox, pepped up by Danie Bush, also have infield problems but expect Harold Jolley to help furnish the needed punch. This leaves Washington and Boston for final consideration. Walter Johnson's seniors, without the hitting of Goose Goslin or its equivalent, and with an uncertain infield, do not figure as serious contenders. The Red Sox appear improved but no more than enough to make a vigorous scrap to escape last place. Four new managers—Danie Bush at Chicago, Hedgie Wagner, Boston, Bob Killifer at St. Louis and Bob Shawkey at New York, will join the concerted attempt to "stun" the ancient Mr. Mack and his A's. About the best they can hope for, however, is that it won't be so lop-sided as the pennant race of 1929. Only the "bravos" it appears, ran upon the house of McGillicuddy.

Frank Farmer Takes His Last Count Of Ten

TACOMA, Wash., Mar. 25 (AP)—Preparations were being made today for a coroner's inquest which will place the blame for the sudden death of Frank Farmer, widely known northwest heavy-weight boxing veteran, who died suddenly during the fifth round of a main boxing bout at a local athletic club here last night.

Stark Plug Joe Boyd of Aberdeen, his opponent is being held in custody by police pending the outcome of the inquiry which will likely be held this morning.

The 25-year-old veteran of almost a score of years of championship and two world titles was counted out by the referee after he had slumped to the floor—the last and one of the very few times that the 18 toll was ever sounded over him. Efforts to revive him were futile and Dr. T. H. Lane was summoned and he pronounced the veteran dead.

V. S. Lodge, deputy coroner, said after an examination last night that death was caused by a blow to the stomach striking on what he described as a "heart block."

Eddie Ashing, the referee; D. Richter, who was in Farmer's corner, and others declared that on the fatal termination of the bout they had observed nothing that would indicate anything was wrong with Farmer.

Lodge's investigation indicated that all the blows struck during the match were fair and that none were particularly hard, and as heavy as Farmer had received many times during his career. In the fifth round Boyd is said to have connected with a blow to the stomach and later with two jabs to the heart region. Farmer was backed against the ropes, then, apparently trying to clinch, reached for Boyd and slumped to the floor where he was counted out.

JOHNNY RIKKO WINS DECISION FROM CAMPOLO

NEW YORK, Mar. 25 (AP)—Whether or not he ever climbs very high on the heavyweight championship ladder, Johnny Rikko still is the giant-killer of the prize ring. Nevertheless, in the main event of a benefit card at Madison Square Garden last night, the gaudy Cleveland backer-boy needed some assistance from the charitable spirit of the occasion to take a close decision from his big Argentine rival, Victoria Campolo.

ber of changes over the Bremen designed to make her speedier and more comfortable.

The generation of steam is by oil-fired water-tube boilers. The electric power is created by four large Diesel-driven dynamos supplying current to 426 electric motors and an equal number of auxiliary machines. On the sun deck are two large Diesel-driven dynamos to supplement the electric driven machinery should the main station cease to function.

To reduce the vibration caused by her great engines, two of her four propellers revolve inward, while all four of the Bremen revolve outward. The speed of the Europa's turbines also is greater than those of the Bremen.

Another change is a device on the two squat funnels designed to force the smoke upward, thus eliminating the danger of it being blown upon the decks to the inconvenience of the passengers. The ship has an overall length of 326 feet and a breadth of 161 feet. She has accommodations for 2200 passengers and a crew of 975 men. On her maiden voyage, however, she carried only 1940 passengers. The lifeboats are all motorized and equipped with radio apparatus. They can accommodate 4100 persons, 25 per cent more than the combined number of passengers and crew.

The Commander is Captain Niels Jørgen Johansen, commander of the Lloyd fleet. He has been in the service of the company for more than 20 years and until recently commanded the Columbus. He is 61 years old and went to sea at the age of 16.

ATHLETICS DOPED TO WIN PENNANT

Philadelphia Favorite at Present—Yankees and Tigers Dangerous.

Associated Press Sports Editor NEW YORK, Mar. 25 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics have moved their camp. They cannot win the 1929 pennant on their 1929 record but on past performance alone, regardless of the prospect that they will be even better, Connie Mack's young men will start the American league pennant chase April 15 as overwhelming favorites.

So far as training camp dope and chatter may point the way, the chief obstacles to a second straight victory by the A's are the revamped New York Yankees and rebuilt Detroit Tigers, each packing sufficient punch to make any opposing pitcher groggy.

Two Other Thrills As for the others, Cleveland and St. Louis figure principally as threats, involved mainly in a fight for a first division berth; Chicago and Washington as "dark horses" difficult to rate in advance. Boston, improved but still a rank outsider.

The Athletics finished the 1929 race 15 games ahead of the Yankees, 24 in front of Cleveland, 25 better than St. Louis, 33 ahead of Washington and 24 beyond Detroit. This left not the slightest room for argument. Since the boys who turned the trick for the vets.

eran Connie Mack are all back on the firing line, there is not the slightest reason to discount the strength of the world's champions. Mack, with better reserves and at least one fine new pitching prospect in Leroy Mabaffey, is the only manager in the league to stand fast on his regular lineup.

Yankees Uncertain The hopes of the Yankees, under the new leadership of Max Baer, depend chiefly on how the pitching staff develops, and whether two rookies, Ben Chapman at third and Ducey Cooke in left, measure up to big league standards as regulars. The former champion has the punch with Babe Ruth apparently in shape to earn his $30,000 salary as the club's pace-setter.

The Tigers, under Buckey Harris, rely on pitching acquisitions to make a pennant-contender out of a team that has developed speed and a better defense to go along with its terrific batting power.

Both the Yankees and Tigers can match the A's hit for hit, but neither has yet developed a terrific staff able to hold its own with Grove, Walberg, Earnshaw, Quinn, Hommel, Shores and the other Mackian curvers and snake-balls.

Strong Pitchers Cleveland, St. Louis and Chicago, on the other hand, have ex-
