Border Patrolman Wounded In Battle

DETROIT, Mich., Apr. 3 (AP)—Gordon Marsden, 22, customs border patrolman, was wounded slightly last night in a battle between rum runners and federal officers on the Detroit river. A shotgun slug entered Marsden's hand. Marsden and his companion, K. C. Rudd, reported that the rum runners opened fire on the government boat after they were ordered to halt while attempting to dash across the river to the Michigan shore in a speed boat. The officers said they retaliated with ten shots but the smugglers escaped to Canada.

Children's Toys

We will fill the hands and nurseries of our children with all manner of dolls, drums and horses, withdrawing their eyes from the plain face and sufficing objects of nature, the sun and moon, the animals, the water and stones, which should be their toys.—Emerson.

A Harder Job

Jud Tankins says a great financier is to be admired. But the man who has to think hard and work fast is the one who takes care of current bills with a limited income.

Charles HALL Republican
FOR GOVERNOR

A Proven Business Executive and a Leader in the Progress of Oregon.

Such is The Man Charles Hall. Attracted by the country, he came to Oregon when a young man just out of his teens. His first job was with a pick and shovel on the digging of a pipe line. Upon acquiring sufficient funds, he returned East and entered the Univ. of Michigan. Coming back in 1906, he located at Hood River and from then on his progress was rapid....

Write to The Hall Headquarters, Imperial Hotel, Portland, for booklet giving the interesting life story and the platform of the man who as a proven business executive and a leader in the progress of Oregon will give our state the kind of administration it needs.

A quality you would insist upon if you knew all of the FACTS

[FACT] Only a few years ago, Western America introduced vacuum packed coffee to the world—and more recently vacuum packed tea. For fine coffee, the vacuum tin is now the universal practice. For tea, a special process still remains the secret of the originators—Schilling. The flavor of tea evaporates just like coffee, only more slowly and it is months (frequently a year) before tea reaches you from the Oriental gardens. Much as you may have enjoyed your tea, you have missed much of its original rare flavor. But now it is preserved for you.

[FACTS] Both a tea leaf and a coffee bean must be roasted to drive off the moisture, which helps to rob it of flavor. Good coffee is packed in vacuum immediately after roasting. Tea is roasted at the tea gardens, then sealed in large chests, lined with lead. When it arrives in America it is repacked in ordinary tins or even cardboard boxes. And that's where the damage is done! But this is how Schilling does it. As the tea is poured from the lead-lined chests, it is roasted again, and while still hot (just like your coffee) it is sealed in vacuum. Schilling Tea comes to you as fresh and fragrant as it left the Orient—the only tea completely protected from the tea garden to you.
