"Mother of Echo" Is Called Beyond

PENDLETON, Ore., April 12 (AP)—Mrs. Cynthia A. Kootz, 92, known as "The Mother of Echo," died at Echo, Ore., yesterday after a long illness. She came from Unadilla with her husband 48 years ago and founded the town of Echo, naming it after her daughter.

Oregon Apples Are Sold In Calcutta

PORTLAND, Ore., April 12 (AP)—It's a far cry from the Rogue River valley to Calcutta, India, but the fame of apples from Oregon's famous valley had reached that far.

Shakespeare named seven ages of man. We don't set ourselves up as an authority, so we copy the following for the six ages of woman:
Six—New mane.
Nine—Carry my books.
Sixteen—I'll ask mother.
Twenty—Drive faster.
Twenty-five—Do call me up.
Forty—Nice mane.

Patient (crying)—Twenty-four.

Doctor—H'm! Loss of memory, too.

The publisher of a small town newspaper was trying to get the general store owner to advertise. Merchant—Say, I've been in this town 30 years and every man, woman and child knows where I am and what I sell. I don't need to advertise.

Publisher—Is that so? Tell me, how long has the Methodist church been here?
Merchant—Fifty years, I guess. Why?

Publisher—Well, don't they still ring the bell every Sunday morning?

The story is told that during the war a patriotic old lady was driving in the country and saw a young man milking a cow. She thought the young man was old enough to enlist, so she stopped and said to him: "Young man, why are you not at the front?" He went right on milking as he replied: "Cause there ain't no milk at that end."

Just About the Same

An eastern physician predicts that in 50 years there will be no bald-headed men. Pairing him off with the other doctor who, in 50 weeks ago, declared that in 50 years we'd all be bald, we come to the conclusion that in 50 years there will be some bald and some hairy.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Up-to-Date Lament

"Twas the night before pay day, and all through my jeans I hunted in vain for the price of some beans. Not a quarter was stirring. Not even a jlt; the bale was off duty, milled edges had quit. Forward, turn forward. Oh time, in thy flight—make it tomorrow, just for tonight—Pacific Power and Light Bulletin.
