Bess Foster Smith Is Honor Guest Of Neighborhood Club

When the La Grande Neighborhood club met Tuesday afternoon in the ballroom of the La Grande hotel Bess Foster Smith continued the unusual La Grande poetry lovers have been enjoying the past two days in the poems read so charmingly by the Idaho poetess.

Mrs. Smith was presented most entertainingly by Mrs. E. E. Hurley, chairman of the literature committee which was instrumental in bringing this program before the members. Poems read by Mrs. Smith were: "Simplicity," "Kitchen Magic," "To Gertrude," "Motherhood," "The Dream Child," "Honey-Ties," "The Checkered Tablecloth," "The Little Strange Town," "The Roads," "Social Requirements," "Easter Road," "The Stranger," "Proof," "My Spectrum," "When Sally Smiles," "Tusko," "Where Do You Live?" "The Party," "Mother Things," "I Have Lived in Cities," "Pretending to be Happy," "Happy Little House," "Books Versus Knowledge," "To One Who Loves Me," "To La Grande," written especially for the people here in appreciation of the delightful plans made for her visit.

Proceeding the reading of her own poems Bess Foster Smith read a group of the best poems submitted in the poetry contest in which the children from all parts of the city competed. The poems were surprisingly good achievements and were most interesting to club members. Those Mrs. Smith chose earlier in the day for reading were: two poems by all the first grade pupils in the room of Mrs. Beatrice Young, teacher at Greenwood school, "Little Lanny," and "A Little Red Rose"; "Spring is Here," by Ruth Kumasawa, fourth grade, Greenwood school; "Spring," by James K. Bryant, eighth grade, Riveria; "Not Mentioned in a Book," by Ethel Evans, eighth grade, Riveria; "My First Poem," by Beth H. Keller, seventh A, Central; "In Spring," by Lillie Biecher, eighth grade, Riveria; "The Breeze," by John Almsworth, sixth A, Greenwood; "The Pretty Tulip," by Lorene Robertson, seventh A, Central; "Clouds," by Jean Devine, eighth A, Central; "Vacation," by Opal Conner, eighth A, Central; and "A Poem," by Joanna Leslie, eighth A, Central.

During the afternoon a quartet, the home of Miss Black's sister, Mrs. Lual Russell. The wedding will be an event of June 1.

Bride was enjoyed during the evening with the announcement of the score cards. Mrs. William Heughan won first award, and Mrs. Jack Fern received consolation prize.

Guests were: Mrs. Winona Lyman, Miss Ponda Hanks, Miss Lillian Sims, of Seattle; Mrs. Boyce Zimmerman, Mrs. Audine Playle, Mrs. Heughan, Mrs. John Larson, Mrs. M. L. Larson, Mrs. Clark Fitzgerald, Mrs. Foster Sims, Mrs. Ferris, Mrs. Lester Stoddard, Mrs. C. J. Black, Mrs. David Fitzgerald, Mrs. Ruth Palmer, M. S. A. Moore and the honor guest.

Members of which were: Mrs. Showwood Williams, Mrs. W. W. Nisbaum, Miss Mabel Norton, and Mrs. A. W. Nelson, sang "The Son of God in Mortal Love" and "Sweet and Low." The words of both were written by the English poet, Lord Alfred Tennyson. Later two vocal numbers were given by Mrs. Lual Russell, the words of which were written by the American Negro poet, Paul Lawrence Dunbar. Mrs. H. N. Ashby was accompanist for each group.

During the brief business session the Neighborhood Literature Club, through the chairman Mrs. E. E. Hurley and Miss Mable Doy, announced that this organization had discontinued meetings for the year with plans already made for some of the fall meeting days.

Music week programs, May 5-11, will be announced soon by the chairman, Mrs. Ashby.

The Neighborhood Art club meets Thursday afternoon at 2:15 with Mrs. Thompson at 1502 Sixth street. The subject is "Renaissance Architecture." The chairman, Mrs. E. E. Hurley, will be especially discussed.

Mrs. R. E. Tyler, chairman of the girls committee, reported progress made, especially with the Camp Fire work which is sponsored by the club. Those serving on this busy committee are: Mrs. H. S. Brownlow, Mrs. W. H. Renner, Mrs. Walter Guild, Mrs. George Birnie, Mrs. H. E. Coolidge, Mrs. H. R. Hatina.

A farewell dinner was given in honor of Bess Foster Smith by the Neighborhood club at the La Grande hotel yesterday. The honor guest was presented with a lovely bouquet of spring flowers in appreciation of her kindness in coming to La Grande to read her poems. One member present described them as "rhythmic melodies from the heart." Mrs. Smith and her poems will always be a warm memory to those who have met her during the busy hours of her brief stay in La Grande.

Bess Foster Smith returned to her home in Weiser, Idaho this morning.
