Beehive Girls Of Stake In Contest Saturday Evening

The first event of its kind, a beehive girls contest sponsored by the Stake M. L. A. board of the L. D. S. church was held Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the Revereational hall. This contest has been so successful that it is planned to hold a similar one every year. Beehive girls are from 14 to 16 years old and their organization is similar to other groups for girls of this age.

Competition in dancing, stories, individual and group notebooks was held. About 50 girls were present from Baker, Union, Imbler and La Grande First and Second Wards, with six carloads of girls attending from Baker, whose representation won most of the honors.

Mrs. Jack Hiatt, stake beehive-er was in charge during the evening. Six girls participated in the recitation contest with Gene Baum, of Union, winning first and Alberta Hunt, of Baker, second.

A lovely vocal solo was presented by Miss Westenslow, of Imbler, who responded to an encore.

A group of six girls from Baker won first in the dancing contest when a French folk dance was presented. The La Grande First Ward took second place.

Cash prizes were given for the individual scrapbook awards with Miss Calder, of Baker, winning first; Another Baker girl, Miss Means, received honorable mention. The Imbler Ward won the prize for the best group of scrapbooks. The Imbler girls also made an exhibit of cakes that they had baked. Art work was also displayed by the beehive girls.

After the contests a delightful social hour was enjoyed.

Social Activities Are Being Planned

Now that the Lenten season is over, and Easter with its religious significance for the elders, and its lunny and brightly-colored eggs for the children is past, many folk are planning afternoon and evening affairs for the remainder of the spring season.

First of the larger parties is the one planned by the La Grande country club for this evening at the La Grande hotel. Many other smaller organizations are arranging benefit card parties for the following weeks.

There is a spirit of finality about everything, society is gathered into one last whirl before the summer vacations and pleasure trips. Spring is also reeling with the girls' winter's study music pupils present delightful programs for parents and friends.

Easter Breakfast At Melancon Home

A delightful no-hostess Easter breakfast was enjoyed yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Melancon. Yellow and pink tulips formed a pretty decoration. Breakfast was served about 9:30 o'clock with covers laid for seventeen.

Easter favors and candies delighted the children. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Beck and children, of Cove; Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lytle and Mrs. Lytle's father, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Parsons and children and Mr. and Mrs. Melancon and children.

Birthday Party Is Given

In honor of Billie Jr.'s third birthday, Mrs. William G. Bailey entertained a number of little folk recently at a jolly birthday Easter party. Many gifts were received in compliment of the honor guest. Orchid and yellow formed a pretty color scheme. Games and an Easter egg hunt were enjoyed. Mrs. Arthur Kirby, Mrs. George Herr, Miss Eunice Herr and Mrs. V. Post assisted the hostess in serving dainty refreshments.

The following were guests: Lois Kirby, Susan and Sally Knight, Phillip and Dorothy Bergen, Mary Jane Howe, Lois and Arrian Rasmussen, Imogene, Irma and Willard Schilling, Othella and Rexa Fols, Patsy and Donna Jean Knight, Bernadine and Marjorie Lester, Margaret Snook and Milton Daugherty.

Entertain Bridge Club Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Richardson were host and hostess to the Mowhawk Bridge club Saturday night at their home with three tables at play. Mrs. Jack Brandt and James Oneal won honors for high tally. Guest prize was presented to Mr. and Mrs. George Richardson. Spring flowers were an attractive decoration.

C. E. Society Gives Easter Breakfast

About thirty members of the Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church enjoyed an Easter breakfast at 7 o'clock yesterday morning in the church basement. The tables were arranged in the shape of a cross and were attractively decorated with roses and spring flowers. Mildred Stoddard was in charge of arrangements with the following assisting her: Miss Frances Kelly, Miss Margaret McAllister, Miss Mildred Cade, Miss Frances May, Miss Juanita Crawford, Miss Dora Hunt and Miss Kathryn Moran.

Following breakfast Miss Harriet Glenn led a usual C. E. meeting dispensing with the evening session.

Birthday Party At Howell Home

A birthday party honoring the eighth anniversary of Lawrence Richard Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Howell, was given Friday afternoon at the Howell home with Mrs. Ray Buell assisting Mrs. Howell. A number of gifts were received by the honor guest.

Arrangements were in an Easter color scheme of pink and yellow. Games were played and a peanut hunt enjoyed, which was won by Bobby Johnson. The little guests were seated at a long table centered with a birthday cake and dainty refreshments were served.

Those present were: Burel Anderson, Bobby Lyman, Delbert Lyman, Bobby Johnson, Melvin Huff, Clifford Crawley, Floyd Kinsley and Lawrence Howell.

Children Enjoy Saturday Event

A jolly Easter party was enjoyed by the first, second and third grades of the Methodist Sunday school Saturday afternoon in the church with about 35 present. Games were played and a peanut hunt held.

Miss Rose Sherman, superintendent of this department, Mrs. E. B. Kendrick, Miss Bernetha Plerson and Mrs. R. F. Tyler, teachers, were in charge of the affair.

Announcements

Neighbors of Woodcraft will meet Tuesday night in regular session at 7:30 o'clock instead of the usual 8 o'clock as a social will be held following the lodge session.

The Community Women's Bible class will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:15 o'clock in the gold room of the La Grande hotel. Members of the class are requested to bring their Bibles and notebooks. As this is the last meeting of the year a complete attendance is desired.

The anniversary celebration of the Rebekah and Odd Fellows lodges will be held Wednesday night at the Odd Fellows temple. Following a short business session a program will be presented.

Union Churches Observe Easter; Cantata Given

By W. V. Connor (Observer Correspondent)

UNION (Special)—Easter was fittingly observed at the Methodist church here. Following a series of evening services during the week which ended with a holy communion Friday morning, the Sunday services all had an Easter atmosphere. Several special numbers were given at the morning services, including songs and the baptism of three children. In the evening the junior choir rendered an Easter cantata, "Life Eternal."

OF NO VALUE TO OTHERS — OF GREAT VALUE TO YOU

It's hardly possible that some of your most valued possessions would ever be stolen—those that are of value to others. But the importance of them in your own affairs argues that they be protected as perfectly as possible.

Private papers, insurance policies, notes and mortgages, deeds and abstracts, registered bonds and stock certificates, keepstakes—these things aren't likely to be stolen, but they can all be destroyed by fire.

In one of our safety deposit boxes they are protected from any probable loss. They are always accessible and you cease to worry about them.

The cost of a box is a very small item—and there are several sizes to suit your needs. We would be glad to show you our modern safety deposit vault.
