TO PRESERVE RELICS

JACKSONVILLE, Ore., (AP)—The Jackson county central civic council announces that plans are under way to preserve for Southern Oregon the historic relics of the Jacksonville museums. Funds for better housing the collection and for hire of a caretaker are required. The museum includes the old Deekman banking building and contents intact, the first bank established in Oregon, as well as a large collection exhibited in the famous old-time U. S. hotel building and another collection housed in the first brick building erected in Jacksonville in 1854, still intact.

FALK'S LA GRANDE STORE

Announce A MODART STYLE SHOWING FRIDAY 25

In Our Corset Dept.

The new silhouette demands new figure lines and these delightful garments interpret the mode. Higher waistlines, youthfully curved, molded hiplines, long and unbroken, and the accented feminine bust lines, are featured in charming variation achieving style and confidence as only correct corsetry can. Beautiful silks, fine laces and supple elastic, in a variety of styles, fashion these foundations, many unboned and extremely flexible, others more firmly reinforced for additional control, but all attaining smartness and comfort for their wearers.

Miss Eva Williams, Modart stylist will be in the corset department during the showing for figure analysis and expert fitting and will assist you to select those models which enhance the charm of your particular figure.
