Value of Jellies and Jams Often Overlooked

The continuous appearance of fresh fruit in the markets during the summer season gives every housewife the opportunity to put up those which appeal to her family at most reasonable cost. However, if it is not convenient to do preserving at home, there is always a delicious variety offered in grocery stores everywhere.

They Make Balanced Meals More Appealing to the Appetite

Jellies, jams and canned fruits, whether put up at home or purchased, should be included in the diet. Their flavor appeals to the appetite and their fruit content is healthful. Aside from eating jelly or jam with bread or toast, they are a delicious accompaniment for roast meats. And a spoonful used to top rice or bread puddings makes these nourishing desserts more taste-appealing. Of course, canned fruits by themselves, are a most appropriate dessert for young and old.

As sugar plays an important part in preserving, so can it be equally essential in the preparation of every-day meals. Sugar when used to season canned or fresh vegetables improves their flavor, thereby making them more enjoyable to the taste. Doctors and dietitians approve this use of sugar as a flavor. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

done as a result of the tragedy. Inquest Scheduled Monday an inquest will be held. Sheriff Jernigan said apparently Mrs. Post was stricken with remorse after shooting Mrs. Palmer. During the two hours she walked about the house she attempted to stop the flow of blood from the wound in her friend's heart. Afterward she washed her hands, leaving blood stains on the bowl, and towel, he said.

The sheriff said he believed the slaying of Mrs. Palmer was unpremeditated, and followed a hasty quarrel during which Mrs. Post was in a frenzy of rage. Mrs. Post was born in Philadelphia of French-Quaker parents. She was the step-daughter of Ben-cliff Pultz, who until his death four years ago, was head of the J. H. Pultz company, eastern representatives of Armour and Company of Chicago.

Her first stage appearance was in light opera "The Algerian," which ran in New York in 1892. Later she headed the troupe. She played leading roles in De Koven's "Mandarin," in Victor Herbert's "Wizard of the Nile," and in "The Runaway Girl." Then she starred in vaudeville for a few seasons. In 1910, despite her success behind the footlights, she filed a petition in bankruptcy, listing liabilities of $15,249 and no assets.

She married in Greenwich, Conn., in 1910 Charles Nelson Bell, whom she divorced three years later in Philadelphia. She announced before the marriage "I am marrying for money."

She met Guy Bates Post, whose roles in "The Masquerader," "The Virginian," "The Bird of Paradise," and "Omar the Tentmaker," have made him famous, in Toronto, Canada, in 1916. They separated in Los Angeles in 1926. Eventually she sued him for divorce charging cruelty.

Post is in Honolulu appearing in a great star in a stock company. As far as is known he has not been notified of the tragedy. Mrs. Pultz, however, was informed. She did not break down.

WOOD REPORT BOSTON, Apr. 25 (AP) — The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow: "The seaboard markets continue quiet. With prices steady on low but easier on medium to fine woods."

"In the west there is a slightly broader movement, which probably will be general in another two weeks at prices fully on parity with eastern markets."

"The pigmeat markets are responding slowly and are not especially encouraging. The advent of warmer weather may help the movement of goods."

"With the passage of the tariff expected early in May, the future course of the farm board programs is the problem of chief import to the best of the trade."

"Foreign markets are quiet but steady."

"Mohair is dull and nominal."

The Commercial Bulletin will publish the following quotations tomorrow: Scoured basis: Oregon. Fine and f. m. staple 74-75; fine and f. m. Fr. combing 70-73; fine and f. m. clothing 65-67; valley No. 1, 68-70; Mohair: Oregon 46-48; domestic grading: First combing 57-58; good grading 53-49.

ing stage sets, came here two years ago after divorcing Dr. Clinton Foster Palmer of Albert Lea, Minn. The two were drawn together by a mutual interest in the playhouse, and soon were reputed to be very close friends. The annual Boy Scout benefit play, a principal beneficiary of the colony, for several years had been directed and staged by Mrs. Post. This year, however, due to her work on the sets, Mrs. Palmer was selected to direct the show. Friends of the couple said the selection brought on a quarrel between them and at the dress rehearsal Wednesday night while Mrs. Palmer was sending the cast through its paces, Mrs. Post sat in the rear of the auditorium and was heard to say "I'd like to shoot that woman."

Another Sighting Yesterday Mrs. Post called upon Mrs. Palmer. At 2 p. m. Mrs. Francis Berie, socially prominent here, dropped in. She extended an invitation to a luncheon to Mrs. Palmer, but did not invite Mrs. Post.

Until four p. m. Vernon Rush and Mrs. Kenneth Browne, friends of both the women arrived here. They were returning Mrs. Palmer's pet dog, which they had found at the beach and knew to be missing.

They knocked and no one answered. Rush opened the door to let the dog in and discovered the bodies. The benefit play, scheduled to open last night, was abandoned.
