THE OBEYDIENT ONE—For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.—Romans 5:19.

ONE ACT THAT ISN'T GOING OVER SO WELL

SPRINTERS TIE WORLD RECORDS

Three 9.6 Performances Saturday—Baker Boy Breaks Shot Record.

A number of 9.6-10 marks were chalked up over the country Saturday by college sprinters, the accepted world's records in the 100-yard dash being tied with amazing frequency. Wykoff won the indoor meet in California Saturday night in 9.6 after he and Russell Sweet won their heats in the same time.

Back east in the Penn relays, one more 9.6 mark was made by George Simpson.

In the dual meet at Stanford Stadium Saturday, the Cardinals found little trouble in smothering the Washington Huskies 96 to 35. The Huskies ran away with the mile and made a clean sweep in the 880, but the Stanford men were supreme in most of the other events. Doc Dyer made 9.9 in the 100 and won the 220-yard dash. Tothert pushed the shot out 51 feet 4 1/2 inches and Krenz was a

Joslin Makes Record

In high school track circles, two records were broken at the Eugene deLays Saturday, one by Harold Joslin, of Baker High school, who put the shot 46 feet 9 inches for a new state record in the relays. Joslin will compete in the Eastern Oregon meet and is expected to break the district record at Pendleton May 2.

In the Umatilla county meet, Pendleton, had little trouble in taking first place from Mac Hill, leading the Pioneers by over a score points, with smaller schools accounting for a sprinkling of places.

The newest battle cruiser has been named "Chicago" by the navy department. No label could be more appropriate for any gun-totin' craft.

An out-of-town visitor has mistaken the new Observer building for a church. Well, a newspaper is supposed to be one of the greatest forces for good in the community so a building that looks the part ought to help.

Secretary Hyde says that dieting is responsible for agricultural difficulties—under-consumption not over-production. Congress should pass a law prohibiting the notion that a milkshake and lettuce sandwich make a full meal.

The government is exercising great care in preparing for the pilgrimage of Gold Star mothers to the graves of sons who are buried in France. A special group of army officers has been selected to escort them. A trained nurse will accompany each group of twenty-five mothers and widows. "Any officer who drinks will be immediately dismissed from the service." Every precaution is to be taken so that those who make this trip at government expense to the graves of soldier loved ones will remember it as a rare privilege.

WOULD HE THROW HIGHWAYS INTO POLITICS?

Governor Norblad has already been the subject of frequent criticism for acts of doubtful sagacity since he became the states chief executive. Now he is credited with a move in his campaign for re-election that promises anything but an improvement in case he should be successful at the polls.

Yesterday in the Oregon Journal there appeared an article by the Journal's political writer, Ralph Watson, to the effect that the political "contact" expert of the Warren Brothers Roads company had been allocated to the Norblad campaign headquarters. This executive recruit is Fred J. Brady, sales manager of the Warren company, according to Watson, who says:

In compensation for the use of Brady's acumen and his brain, long and exceptionally well trained in political maneuvering—in repayment for this, and other potent assistance rendered and to be rendered by Daley—information which comes too straight to be disregarded or brushed aside bears the story that as soon as may be after the election is past—and Norblad the winner—Roy A. Klein, state highway engineer, will walk the plank; H. B. Van Duzer, chairman of the highway commission, and R. W. Sawyer, his colleague, will be succeeded by other commissioners and that in the selection of these Daley will be "consulted."

It is difficult to believe that such a scheme would be approved by any reputable candidate for governor—but Ralph Watson doesn't write such articles without possessing facts that will substantiate them. So it looks bad for Norblad.

No tie-up by any candidate could carry more political dynamite than this alleged deal between the governor and the paving interests. After many years of freedom from graft and log-rolling politics, the state highway commission holds a high place in the esteem of Oregon citizens. By independent engineering leadership and strict impartiality, the highway department has provided permanent roads throughout the state at minimum cost. The program has been carried forward with far greater speed and far greater economy than would have been possible if the old policy of black-top paving had been continued.

Does Norblad propose to put the highway system back into politics? Does he propose to establish a road policy dictated by the paving interests? If Ralph Watson's intimations are correct, Oregon might well anticipate a sad plight for her highways if Mr. Norblad should be elected. Certainly he will not be elected under such a banner. Oregon voters will not stand for that type of campaign expediency. They will not vote for any man who is likely to pay for support with appointments influenced by special interests.

Salem Pastor Speaks
The Rev. W. H. Hertzog, of Salem, took up his duties as pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of La Grande yesterday. Mr. Hertzog comes to La Grande by the appointment of the district superintendent, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the Rev. Vernon E. Hall, March 2. The pulpit has been filled during the last two months by supplies, especially by the Rev. Judson T. Perkins, of Hyderabad, India and the other departments have been carrying on their work under the proper official supervision.

Mr. Hertzog who is a member of the faculty of the Kimball School of Theology on the campus of Willamette university has been a member of this conference for a good many years but has been on the list for detached service for the last nine or ten years. He is a comparatively young man and will come to La Grande to make this his permanent home at the close of the school year in Salem.

Two Splendid Sermons
With two splendid sermons, good congregations, other departments working enthusiastically, the work of the new pastor opened up quite auspiciously yesterday. Local Methodists and others who attended the services were very well impressed with the new minister on his initial Sunday here. He has a fine pulpit presence, a good speaking voice, an easy and convincing delivery, has years of successful experience back of him, with church organization and work among young people particularly prominent. His two sermons yesterday, each with a stirring practical message were based on the walk to Emmaus, and the experiences of David and Goliath.

The men's dinner, plans for which were started by the late Rev. V. E. Hall, shortly before his sudden death, will be given within the course of the next week or two, it is announced. Dr. H. S. Brown-ton being the general chairman.

"IN SICKNESS IN HEALTH"

Promises the bridegroom. But shortly after comes the deluge of housekeeping bills which staggers most newly-weds. This and that must be added to the new house; "installment plan" becomes a familiar phrase.

As for the resolution to put aside a certain portion of the salary—too often the young couple decides to start saving "tomorrow". It is alright unless sickness comes—then—well, it's an old story to bankers.

The best way—the way pointed out by experience—is to start systematic saving at the start. Then, truly, in sickness or in health, you can provide.

Don't delay—start your savings account today.
