

LOCAL BRIEFS

Visiting From Portland—
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hardy, of Portland, arrived last evening to spend a week at the home of Mrs. Hardy's sister, Mrs. J. C. McKarland. They made the trip by car and report the roads are excellent except from the summit on to La Grande, where much repair and widening is being done. After spending a week here, they will drive to Missoula, Mont. to visit with Mrs. Hardy's mother, after which they will return to their home in Portland.

Cameras Given Away—
About 100 La Grande children whose 12th birthday came during 1929 received free cameras and a roll of film this morning, given them by the Eastman Kodak Co. through the Red Cross drug store and Glass Drugs, Inc. A number of other children, who arrived after the local supply had been distributed, could not be supplied. The Eastman company set aside 500,000 cameras over the nation for distribution today and La Grande's quota was only about 100 so that the "first come, first served" rule had to be observed.

In Radio Stunt—
Bob Guild, sophomore at the University of Oregon, presented the fifth episode of "Gullfin and Hills Gal" featured Emerald constantly stunt in the college radio broadcast last night over KORE. Mr. Guild is the author of this feature and is accompanied by Miss Jewel Ellis, who was a La Grande visitor during spring vacation. Another feature of last night's program were musical numbers by Johnny Robinson's Varsity Vagabonds.

To Speak to Youth—
Dr. Packard, evangelist, holding meetings at the Christian church, will speak Friday evening to youth. It is desired that high school students and those interested in youth be present. "Flaming Youth or Flaming Grandpas, Which?" is the evangelist's subject. Another large audience listened to the sermon Wednesday evening. Prof. Neely is directing a chorus of 30 voices each evening and special chorus numbers and solos are features of each meeting.

Light Post Hit—
A light post at Third and Adams was damaged considerably last night when a car, driven by a woman whose name was not ascertained at the police station today, collided with it last night. The woman was unhurt, it is reported.

On Election Board—
Miss Dorothy Elberhard, junior at the University of Oregon, was a member of the election board in charge of the polling at the student body election yesterday. One of the candidates for president, George Cherry, is a brother of Miss Frances Cherry, of Enterprise, former Observer reporter.

Oregon Ends Grid Practice May 10

EUGENE, Ore., May 1 (AP)—The University of Oregon football team, experiencing many changes under its new coach, Dr. Clarence W. Spears of Minnesota, will complete its spring football practice with the last of a series of intramural grid contests here on May 10.

When the Webfoots put away their togs next week, only ten days of actual practice will be available before the team sets out for Chicago to meet Drake University Oct. 2.

Since preliminary work will be so limited next fall, Dr. Spears has given more than ordinary emphasis to spring practice.

Twenty-four states and 15 foreign countries are represented in the University of Virginia student body.
