Pheasant Eggs Are Received At Union Hatchery

By Mrs. L. Z. Terrall
(Observer Correspondent)

UNION, Ore. (Special) — The first shipment of pheasant eggs have arrived at the hatchery and the 160 have been set under hens. On the tenth of May another shipment of 320 will be received and on the 11th sportsmen will gather from far and wide to help construct the pens for the young birds. Things have been very pressing at the hatchery the past week. A shipment of one-half million Rainbow trout eggs came in the first of the week and R. H. Bonney took a load of young trout to Eagle creek early in the week.

Taking census is not all work and worry for there are many fine folks throughout the valley and in almost every instance splendid cooperation was shown. In spite of the urge to be in the fields busy farmers left their work and cheerfully waded through the long list of questions on the farm schedules. The balmy days of early April had caused grain and alfalfa fields to make an unusually rapid growth and fruit trees were at least two weeks earlier in blossoming than usual. Everything has grown profusely with the abundant sunshine followed up by heavy rainfall.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bonney moved on Monday to Enterprise where they will have charge of the game commission interests there. Arrangements have been made to incubate eggs in the salmon hatchery at Enterprise.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Jensen and little Barbara Nan left Sunday morning for Blackfoot, Ida., where they will visit Mrs. Jensen's parents. Before returning to Union they will visit at the George Larsen home in Rexburg. The latter is an uncle of Mr. Jensen.

J. R. Jones and son Neil and Jas. Webb left early Tuesday morning for the Seven Devils country in Idaho. They plan to spend the summer on their mining claims.

L. Z. Terrall and Adrian Goodbrod returned Wednesday evening from Portland where they had been looking after business matters since Sunday.

Miss Edna Levy went to Portland last week and will visit friends and relatives for about three weeks.

Mrs. Jean Moran and John Hug drove over from Elgin on Tuesday and called on Mrs. Viola Parker.

The Esther chapter of Eastern Star at Baker entertained members from Sumpter, Halfway, North Powder and Union Monday evening in their new chapter room. A large crowd including nearly 30 from Union and North Powder enjoyed the beautiful work put on by the Baker corps of officers. Visiting matrons were presented lovely bouquets by the team exemplifying the floral degree, and the patrons were not forgotten for each received a rosebud. Following the meeting a delicious two-course supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Hess, Mae Shanks and Elwyn Davis miraculously escaped serious injury Sunday when their car ran off the grade and overturned near the S. E. Miller place at the end of Main street. The car continued to plow forward on its side for about 100 feet doing much damage to the car and shaking up the occupants quite severely. Elwyn Davis was thrown through the windshield and sustained two broken ribs, but the others escaped with only minor cuts and bruises.

The Monett family, who moved to La Grande some time ago, has returned to Union and is occupying Mrs. Casper's house.

Vivian Joey, who has been visiting her mother at Umatilla, returned to Union Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Conklin went to Baker Monday evening to take the girls who were to take part in the recital given by the pupils of Mrs. Mabel Laughlin. Those who took part were Ethel Conklin, Frieda Brown and Thelma Van Houten.

The high school girls baseball team went to Enterprise Wednesday for a game. They had a good time even though they met with defeat.

Mrs. James Webb, who for many years operated the Cozy theater, has recently sold it to Reginald Meneyar, of Lakeside, Ore. The latter will take possession about May 20 and plans to remodel the interior and install talkies. He hopes to have it ready to reopen by June 1.

Mrs. Burnettie Wilson and the Lyle and Clive Wilson families, of Imbler, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Fox.

Thos. Baird, new district manager of the MacMarr stores, will leave soon for La Grande where he will have his headquarters. Ralph Smith will take charge of the store here and will be assisted by Clark Martens.

Mrs. Mary Hutchinson and Mrs. Wm. Tobbin visited on Wednesday with Mrs. Hutchinson's sister, Mrs. Ellen Mann at Baker.

Rod La Rocque In "Beau Bandit" At the State

Rod La Rocque, who plays a suave, picturesque "bad man" in Radio Pictures' "Beau Bandit," opening today at the State theater, has become famous in Hollywood for his dialectic ability.

In both "Beau Bandit" and "The Delightful Rogue," his previous RKO production, his parts demanded broken English of the Latin-American type. Although La Rocque is a native-born American, he mastered the dialect with little difficulty.

"The formula, according to the picture, is: 'Latinize the vowels.' Accent the syllable following the one accented in English. Color your remarks with a few 'Esta Buenos,' 'Senors,' and 'Senoritas' and punctuate often with shoulder shrugs and gestures."

The line, "The draw is very important, Senor Perkins," becomes "The draw ees veree important, Senor Perkeens! Esta bueno!"

Strangely enough, Mitchell Lewis, who plays in practically every scene with La Rocque, and is represented as the same racial type, did not have to learn a line of dialect. For Lewis, in "Beau Bandit," is one talking picture actor who doesn't talk. His role is that of a vicious Mexican deaf mute and he does not deliver a line of dialog. His pantomime and "business," however, are said to be exacting and eloquent.

Doris Kenyon plays the leading feminine role.
