Four Boys Are Facing Charges In Wallowa Co.

By Edna Hunter
(Observer Correspondent)

WALLOWA, Ore. (Special) — The mystery of last Saturday night's robbery was believed cleaned up this week, when an attempt was made to sell pocket knives to a second hand dealer in La Grande by four youths of that city and in a short time Arla Twidwell, Loyd Rand, Ted Knight and Donald Butcher were on their way to the Wallowa county jail at Enterprise with Sheriff Miller and Marshal Crawford, who have been busy following clues and working on the case since the H. B. Halstin Co., Inc. store was robbed of several hundred dollars worth of hardware. The boys will be given a preliminary hearing in Enterprise Saturday.

E. H. Weinhard, of Lower Valley, was called to Dayton Thursday by the serious illness of his mother.

Mrs. D. McLean and son, Jack, went to Portland on a short business trip Wednesday.

"Around The Corner" Comedy At the State

"Around the Corner," Columbia's all-talking comedy coming to the State theater on Sunday, is an excellent example of well constructed comedy. First there are excellent characterizations. The plot revolves around a Jewish pawnbroker and an Irish cop. These characters have long been objects for farce. Added to this surefire recipe for merriment so far as characterizations are concerned, are situations that will make the most hardened grouch rock with laughter. From the moment the pawnbroker and the policeman adopt a six-months' old foundling, there is no let-up in hilarity of situation.

The humor is made still more potent through the fact that George Sidney and Charlie Murray, those two inimitable funsters, are entrusted with the featured roles. These two comedians have battled their way through numerous comedies and always with the same results—they invariably bring down the house. The supporting cast includes the following roster of stars: Joan Peers, who made a sensational success as Helen Morgan's daughter in "Applause," Larry Kent, Charles Delancy, Jess De Vorska and Fred Sullivan.

Menus Of The Day

EGGS BENEDICT FOR DINNER
Eggs Benedict Buttered Peas
Rolls Currant Jam
Fresh Vegetable Salad
Cherry Cobbler Coffee

Eggs Benedict
(Serving 6)

Six pieces hot buttered toast.
Six slices, cold baked or boiled ham.
Six poached eggs.
Three tablespoons butter.
Four tablespoons flour.
One-fourth teaspoon salt.
One-third teaspoon paprika.
Two cups milk.
One-third cup grated or finely cut cheese.

Melt butter and add flour, salt, paprika. Blend carefully, add milk, cook until creamy sauce forms. Stir often. Add cheese, cook slowly and stir constantly until cheese has melted. Pour over eggs which have been placed on the slices of ham which have been arranged on toast slices. Garnish with parsley and serve at once.

Fresh Vegetable Salad, Serving 6

Six slices tomatoes.
One-half cup diced celery.
One-half cup cooked diced beets.
One-fourth cup chopped green peppers.
One-fourth cup sliced radishes.
Two tablespoons chopped onions or chives.
One-half teaspoon salt.
Mix and chill ingredients. Serve with French dressing.

French Dressing

One teaspoon salt.
Two teaspoons sugar.
One-fourth teaspoon dry mustard.
One-fourth teaspoon paprika.
Four tablespoons lemon juice.
One-half cup salad oil.
Mix and beat ingredients. Chill. Beat 1 minute and serve on salads.

Cherry Cobbler

Two cups flour.
Three teaspoons baking powder.
One-half teaspoon salt.
Four teaspoons fat.
Two-thirds cup milk.
Mix flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in fat with knife. Mixing with knife, add milk until soft dough forms. Pat it out on floured board to fit over cherry mixture.

Cherry Mixture

(Fresh or canned cherries can be used)
Two and one-half cups seeded cherries.
Two-thirds cup sugar.
Three tablespoons flour.
One-eighth teaspoon salt.
1 cup water.
Two tablespoons butter.
Mix sugar, flour, salt. Add cherries and water and pour in shallow, buttered baking dish. Dot with butter and add dough mixture. Make 4 holes in top to allow steam to escape. Bake 25 minutes in moderate oven. Serve warm.

Library Chats

By Mabel E. Doty
Librarian

Marc Connelly's play, "The Green Pastures" is much in demand at the library. So much so in fact that the librarian has not been able to get it long enough to read it herself. Proclaimed by many to be the finest play of the season, it is esentially the Bible story sympathetically translated into terms of the negroes experience in the deep South. The May Theatre magazine devotes considerable space to a review of it.

We like Kowtow so much by Princess Der Ling that we immediately sent for Old Buddha by the same author. Princess Der Ling who was at one time lady-in-waiting and especial favorite of the empress writes the life story of the great Manchu Empress who is known to the world as Old Buddha. Both of these books make fascinating reading.

Two books about Russia we can also promise that you will enjoy. A Girl in Soviet Russia by Andree Viollis we reviewed in an earlier Library Chats. Red Star in Samarkand by Anna Louise Strong has been recently placed into circulation. Samarkand, among other countries in Central Asia, has come under Bolshevik control and the country, as Miss Strong describes it, is undergoing the change from Eastern to Western customs. Chief among the new movements is the emancipation of women. These two books give an excellent picture of Russia as it is today.

The library will be glad to reserve any of these books for you and call you when they come in.

The Literary Editor—That young fellow Scribbler sent in a paper this morning entitled, "Why do I Live?"

The Editor—What did you do with it?

The Literary Editor—Returned it with an enclosed slip saying: "Because you mailed this instead of bringing it personally."

"WHAT'S THE NEWS?"

WHEN COLUMBUS and his caravels returned from the New World, the first question shouted from the shore was, "What's the news?"

That's always the question of paramount importance. Years ago folks asked it of the post rider, the soldier returned from the wars, the man who had been down to the settlements, or the neighbor back from the general store.

Today, you find the answer in your newspaper. Through the newspapers the news of the world and of the community quickly becomes public knowledge. And remember this — it takes two kinds of news to make a modern paper complete.

The first tells of happenings near and far — of fires, sports, elections, accidents, marriages, deaths, great men, great events.

The second tells of things you eat, wear and use—things you buy, things being sold to your friends and neighbors. This news is advertising.

It's just as important to keep up to date on the advertising in this paper as it is to read about what's doing in the world of events.
