Expect Railroad Decision From Supreme Court

PORTLAND, Ore., (AP) — If the United States supreme court hands down a decision barring railroads from obtaining from federal courts restraining orders or injunctions in rates cases before such cases have been decided by the interestate commerce commission it will have a salutary effect in Oregon and every other state concerned.

This was the opinion expressed by Portland rate experts in respect to dispatches from Washington, D. C., indicating that such a decision would be forthcoming from the supreme court.

Oregon is particularly interested because just such an injunction is still in effect against the public service commission's order on grain rates from Eastern Oregon to Portland over the Oregon and Washington Railroad and Navigation company's line. The state commission maintained that such grain rates are intrastate and were subject to the jurisdiction of the commission.

The railroads, on the other hand contended that most of the wheat coming into Portland over the O. W. R. & N. line was destined eventually for export, either as grain or flour and as such was subject to intrastate rates. The interstate rates in question were higher than the intrastate rates set by the state commission and therefore were naturally favored by the railroads. The state maintained that when ultimate disposition was not indicated intrastate rates should apply.

An injunction was sought by the railroads from the federal court here. The order was granted and is still in effect tying the hands of the public service commission until a decision is handed down by the supreme court or the interstate commerce commission which has had the case in hand for more than a year.

W. C. McCulloch, Portland lawyer, who has represented the public service commission as special counsel in numerous rate cases was one of those who saw far reaching and favorable results from the supreme court's attitude and expected decision.

"Railroads and public utilities all over the country," he said, "have successfully tied the hands of public service commissions by obtaining injunctions or temporary restraining orders from federal courts on the grounds that orders of state commissions discriminated against the interstate commerce commission."

BABY CASE IN PORTLAND IS NEARING END

PORTLAND, Ore., May 7 (AP)—Conclusion of the court hearing in Portland's "mystery baby" case was expected to day as attorneys for both sides wound up their cases. The action is to determine parentage of a five-month old girl claimed by both Mrs. George F. Schaefer of Portland and Miss Geraldine Watson of Phoenix and Los Angeles. Each says she is the mother of the child. Direct testimony was concluded for Miss Watson's side this morning.

Miss Watson says the baby was born to her in Los Angeles last December, that she left it in a hotel room until she could get a job, and returned to find it had been given to another woman.

Mrs. Schaefer contends the baby was born to her in a hospital here through a caesarian operation.

the pupils reached the lower floor when the storm struck, tearing off the school house roof and scattering it over the country side.

One Church Spared

Of three churches in the town, one remained, the Presbyterian. The Baptist and Methodist churches were destroyed.

Employes and customers in the two Frost banks saved themselves when they ran into an open vault and closed the door. Both buildings were wrecked.

Of Frost's population of 600, half were homeless. Streets were blocked with debris torn from buildings. Automobiles were tossed about like toys. One street almost was blocked with automobiles that had been in a dealer's display room.

Bodies Laid in Rows

Most of the white dead at Frost were taken to Hillsboro and Corsicana as fast as ambulances could reach them over muddy roads. One wrecked building was cleared, and bodies of negroes, wrapped in sheets, were laid in rows to await burial.

Throughout the night, the Corsicana Salvation Army and women from that city served coffee and sandwiches to the rescue workers.

Many of the dead in the southern part of the state were believed to be Mexican farmers. The twister struck a rich farming country midway between Nordheim and Runge and cut a path only 150 yards wide but ten miles long. At the edge of Goliad county it lifted and passed out into the Gulf of Mexico.

The Death List

The revised known death list in Texas towns struck by tornadoes yesterday follows:

At Frost: Leroy Bagley, 9 months, E. A. Patterson, 50, J. E. Lee, 65, John Flew, 17, Prentice Flew, 21, R. L. Bell, 50, and his child, Mrs. League Wooley, 35, and a child, 12, Wm. H. Bowman, 7, Mrs. W. H. Bowman, 60, Geo. Bogan, 35, Tom Bogan, John Fly, 50, Mary Currie, negress, 50, and son, Jones, 35, chilo of Jesse Satchel, negro, four unidentified negroes, three unidentified negroes, three unidentified Mexicans.

ATTACK AGAINST BISHOP CANNON IS CONTEMPLATED

as a basis for the effort at prosecution of Bishop Cannon—that he has been an active lobbyist, that he has used the Methodist board of tensperance and social service, of which he is head, in his lobbying; that he hoarded food during the World war; that he had dealings with a Wall street "bucket shop;" and finally, that in 1928 Bishop Warren A. Chandler, of Atlanta, and Bishop Collins Denny, senior member of college, charged that Bishop Cannon had endeavored to form an ecclesias-political combination which might precipitate a split within the church.

Many delegates believed, however, that serious consideration would not be given the charges. If they are preferred on the conference floor, they will be referred to the committee on episcopacy for recommendation.

Other than this affair, interest today was centered upon the address of the bishops, recommending legislation for the law making body to consider during its two or three weeks' session.

Bullet Saves Him But Woman Jailed

CHICAGO, May 7 (AP)—The law has a paradox.

Miss Eva Martinez, 30, shot Fred P. Petmezas, hotel owned, in the abdomen March 28.

The bullet, physicians said, saved his life.

Rushed to the hospital after the shooting doctors found that within an hour or two Petmezas' appendix would have burst and possibly caused his death.

Miss Martinez was arrested at Aurora, and returned to Chicago. She said she did not recall the shooting.

Legal experts have been unable to find any statute covering life saving by gunfire, and Miss Martinez remains in jail.

hand as there were then. Prices will not have to break as badly to effect output reduction, and they haven't done so.

Small Shift Needed

"From all of our studies, it does not seem that industrial goods have been piled up high enough in any staple line to threaten a protracted period before they are moved, and before production and distribution can be resumed at normal pressure. With a steady increase in population in the country, with a permanent disposition in our people to consume—in the long run—individually more goods and services, it does not seem to me that a general appearance of over-production of commodities can be long maintained. Any apparent surplus that now exists, and is affecting prices, can be taken up rather quickly in the United States by a relatively small shift of conditions."

Flurry of Snow Experienced At Cove Yesterday

By Mrs. A. G. Conklin
(Observer Correspondent)

COVE, Ore. (Special) — Cove had a light flurry of snow yesterday morning that looked pretty cold for the fruit but it did not last long when the sun came out.

Robert Laird, of La Grande, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Laird, of Cove, was united in marriage with Miss Jessie Morris, of La Grande, Saturday, May 3. Miss Morris' home is in Baker but she has been employed in a bakery in La Grande. Robert's friends in Cove are much surprised but wish him all the happiness possible. The young couple are spending their honeymoon with the bride's parents in Baker.

Richard Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Miller, was taken to Hot Lake sanatorium Saturday evening. After receiving medical attention, an operation was not necessary. He returned to school Monday.

Mrs. Ed. Mitchell, of Union, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Roberts. Mrs. Mitchell and Mr. Roberts have been friends for many years. When they were children, their homes were in Kansas, both living near Eureka in Greenwood county but their friendship was cemented when they came in the same wagon train to Oregon, spending three months on the road. They crossed the plains in 1881, forty-nine years ago. At that time, Mrs. Mitchell was married and they had one son. Mr. Roberts was a young boy, just growing into manhood. These two are the only ones in Eastern Oregon who made this memorable trip.

Mrs. Minette Sentner came home from La Grande Saturday driving a new car.

Mrs. Harriett Reeves, of Willmer, Minn., is a guest of her niece, Mrs. R. J. Baker. Mrs. Reeves has been spending the winter in California and is visiting Mrs. Baker and another niece, Mrs. A. E. Hartley on her homeward way. She will be here another week or ten days.

The Ladies Aid of the Methodist Episcopal church will go to Baker Wednesday, May 8. The school board is devoting a good deal of time now to planning the new gymnasium. Mr. Anderson, an architect and builder, of Baker, has submitted plans and specifications that are being considered.

At the regular meeting of the school board Monday evening, May 5, the clerk was asked to post notices calling for sealed bids for 60 cords of wood for school use, bids to be closed May 19, 1930.
