

Pageant Unfolds In Carthage As Catholics Meet

CARTHAGE, Tunisia, May 8 (AP)—A brilliant pageant began to unfold itself here in this ancient city as 16,000 pilgrims to the Roman Catholic Eucharistic congress gathered for their five days' ceremonies.

A first glimpse of the splendor of the occasion was had yesterday when Cardinal Lepicier, the papal delegate, with a retinue of high ecclesiastical attendants, went to pay his respects to the Bey of Tunis.

Eleven more great ships arrived at Tunis bearing their quotas of pilgrims. Among them was the Aragona with a large party of Americans.

When these delegates, among the last to come, had completed their journey, the scene was prepared for the formal opening of the world-wide congress at which Cardinal Lepicier will read the Paoli Bull.

HATPINS ON HORIZON AS SAILOR HATS LOOM
PARIS (AP)—The return of long hair, hairpins and chinons has brought sailor hats back on the march waves.

Farsching stylists say that hats are inevitably going upward and it is only a matter of time until they give up their present grip on the base of the skull and return to their prewar perch aloft.

When that happens, and here's the catch, some form of hatpin is inevitable.

SOVIETS TO MAKE RUBBER OUT OF PETROLEUM WASTE

Chats With Parents

SEEING THINGS DONE
By Alice Judson Peate
The child who is allowed to run wild without supervision from the time he is able to walk out of the front gate has at least one advantage over the youngster who is closely supervised and shepherded to school and back, and who otherwise lives in the protected environs of his own and the immediate neighbor's back yards.

He early discovers the resources of his neighborhood. He takes himself to the playground to which his mother perhaps seldom finds time to take him.

He watches a house being built near blocks away. He sees vans unloading goods for the local department store. He perhaps discovers a lumber mill or a machine shop and finds out a good deal of what happens in them.

Through such experiences he begins to learn something of the world that men do and of the processes that he back of the things which he uses and enjoys every day of his life.

Progressive schools everywhere realize the value of this sort of experience and take their children quite regularly on excursions where they will see just such things.

Any mother who wishes to provide such experience for her child need not be about discovering what places of interest there are in her immediate vicinity. She can plan little excursions for her own child and a few of his friends.

It is impossible to suggest definitely just what sort of places it would be well to visit. The age of the children, their particular interests and the available resources will naturally determine these.

It is well, however, to make the trips short ones and to see too little rather than too much of anything.

Peculiarities of Echoes
Echo effects are often different when a hall is full. It has been found that an echo which may be there if a hall is filled with women may be entirely absent when the audience is a male one. The silk of women's garments absorbs sound far less than the thicker (wired) and woolen clothing of men.

Snow And Hail Storms Occur At Kamela, Ore.

By Mrs. C. E. Thornburg (Observer Correspondent) KAMELA, Ore. (Special)—

Slight snow and hail storms are quite usual in Kamela at present, and it is still quite cold especially at nights. The ground was covered with snow on Saturday morning and again on Tuesday, but by noon each day it had disappeared.

New residents in Kamela are Mr. and Mrs. H. Hood and family, Harvey Raymond and Celia. Mr. Hood is the new O-W foreman in place of Mr. Heath. Mrs. Hood has sister, Mrs. Mountain Home, Idaho, to take care of her aged father, O. Must, who is sick. Before returning to Kamela, she may go to visit friends in Mountain. Mr. and Mrs. Hood are former Pendleton residents. Raymond and Celia being the school total to 16 here. Raymond is in the sixth grade and Celia is in the fifth.

At present Mrs. J. Heath left Kamela on Friday to make their home in Pendleton. The name of Agnes Nellie Briggs, of Island City, was omitted from the list of those attending the farewell gathering for Mr. and Mrs. Heath last week.

Visiting in Kamela on Sunday at the G. Pines home were Mrs. Fina, mother, Mrs. C. E. McHood, her sister, Mrs. Klyde McDaniel, also Mr. McDaniel, of Walla Walla, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. Mart Phillips and their daughter, Elizabeth, of Free-water, Oregon, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Pylan, of Springfield, Mo. Mr. and Mrs. Pylan are visiting in Walla Walla at the McDaniel home on their return journey to Missouri after a trip through California and the southern states.

Mrs. C. O. Schubert and daughter, Lillian, were in La Grande on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Brome drove to Pendleton on Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. A. Hawn and family, of Pendleton, were visitors in Kamela on Saturday. They spent the day visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. Lockert, Mrs. Hawn and Mr. Lockert are sister and brother.

Mrs. D. Blackburn, of Portland, arrived on Sunday morning to visit for a short time at the home of her sister, Mrs. F. Barnes.

Mrs. Barnes and daughters, Betty and Melody, also Mrs. E. Chelf accompanied Mrs. Blackburn.

Repaint Your Automobile Yourself

6% AND SAFETY

You can save yourself a lot of money and make your car look almost like new by refinishing it with FLEX, the new brushing color finish. Use FLEX and do the job yourself. Oh, yes you can. It doesn't require any technical skill or experience to apply this wonderful new color finish. It flows on so smoothly without a lapora brush-mark showing; it can be brushed in any direction and it dries so quickly that even a child can use FLEX successfully.

When the automobile is finished the result is a hard, tough, durable surface that gleams like satin. It laughs at rain and repeated washings and comes through with its luster unimpaired. There are twenty FLEX colors all of which are desirable for automobile use.

FLEX is also the first practical, quick-drying color finish for the home. Used on furniture or wood-work it transforms them in a jiffy. Women like to use FLEX because it has no offensive odor and is perfectly safe at all times. For interior use, there are twenty colors. FLEX adheres perfectly. It neither chips nor peels. Your own FLEX dealer carries all the FLEX colors.

First Iceland Settler
Traditionally the first settler in Iceland was the Norwegian chieftain, Ingolf, who named the place where he landed Reykjavik—i. e., Smoky Bay, from the steam rising out of the nearby hot springs. After him came many Norwegian viking chieftains and their followers, who fled, mainly from the west coast of Norway, to escape King Harold Fairhair's oppression.
