Wool Clips Are Being Received At Warehouses

By G. C. Meek (Observer's Correspondent)
WALLA, Ore. (Special)—Some of the first of this season's wool clip is beginning to reach the warehouses. Lee W. Bell, manager of the Warehouse Service corporation's warehouse here, reports the arrival of seven smaller lots of wool during the past week. Shearing of some of the smaller flocks is starting somewhat earlier this season, because of the earlier weather and trouble which some of the flock owners have experienced from maggot. Roy Schaeffer, of Lower valley, has been getting a small shearing outfit rigged up and expects to do a considerable amount of shearing of the smaller flocks in this community. E. E. Johnson and some of the others who own large bands of sheep do not expect to shear for a couple of weeks yet.

H. A. Downing, who lives in the Leap community, reports good success in getting an excellent stand of sweet clover on some 40 or 50 acres of land which he seeded to this crop last fall. Mr. Downing also seeded some of the clover this spring and reports a fairly good stand on a large portion of this. A number of other farmers, some living in the valley and others in the dry sections, report good success in getting stands of dry land alfalfa on some small tracts which they seeded last fall. G. E. Epley of Middle valley, seeded several acres of Cossack alfalfa last year and reports an excellent stand on most of the ground. J. W. Hight, who lives in the valley a few miles east of town, also has a small acreage of this variety of alfalfa at his farm and is highly pleased with the showing it has made. He says it makes a very vigorous start in early spring and is nearly ready for cutting now.

L. W. Minor has been rebuilding several miles of fence around the McDonald pasture which he has leased for sheep grazing. He has his sheep on range in the Whiskey creek section and reports the early lambing have attained a good size. He has experienced a considerable amount of trouble from ticks during the past few weeks.

L. V. Lathrop, of Leap, delivered some fat hogs to the stock yards here the latter part of the week for shipment to market by the Wallowa county stock marketing association.

H. C. Hearing and wife, of Evans, were Sunday visitors at L. W. Minor's.

Progress of farming operations have been somewhat delayed in this section of the country during the past ten days. The recent rains which were very heavy in parts of the county, have wet the soil to a much deeper depth than that reached in plowing and some of the fields have remained very wet. Farmers say they will be able to work most of the spots this week. The first severe frost of the season was in evidence on Wednesday morning of last week and lighter frosts have occurred on a number of nights since. The severity of the frost appears to have shown considerable variation in different parts of the community. From Prineas comes the report that a very hard freeze occurred there Wednesday night doing a considerable amount of damage to alfalfa and fruit crops. While but little investigation of the damage to fruit in this community has been made, it is the opinion of many that more or less damage has been done to the fruit which was in full blossom. In places throughout the irrigated parts of the valley alfalfa has been damaged to some extent. While the winter wheat crops of this section are much further along than usual at this season of the year, wheat growers say they do not believe the grain is at a stage yet where it would be easily damaged from freezing. Some of the early sowed fields are starting to joint. Much of the spring seedings of Federation wheat and other varieties of spring grain lie up in nice shape but no reports are heard of where the spring sown grain has been damaged to any great extent from the freeze, some of the who had seeded Boarders barley report that they have noticed spots through some of the fields where the tops of part of the young grain have been turned out, brown from freezing, but did not appear to be severe enough to cause any great setback in growth. Reports from some of the farmers in the valley indicate that a considerable amount of seedling of barley and oats is to be done yet. Some of the fields which were prepared for seeding a couple of weeks ago and which became very wet from the rains of last week are being reworked again in order to get rid of the heavy crop of weeds which have started up since the ground was plowed and worked into condition. A considerable amount of alfalfa is being seeded in the irrigated areas of the county this year and in several instances farmers report that a very nice stand is being secured. Some fear that freezing has done some damage to some of the newly seeded alfalfa.

A considerable amount of logging activities are going on in the Whiskey creek district. Wilby & Skilling have been busy these logging for the Bowman-Hicks Lumber Co. during the past several weeks and since the roads up Whiskey creek have been in shape for heavy hauling a number of large trucks have been engaged in hauling logs to the mill pond here. The roads up Whiskey creek were recently smoothed with the county graders and all loose rocks removed and are now reported to be in a very good shape for heavy hauling. The trucks are able to make several trips daily bringing in large loads.

Sam Meek has been suffering for the past several days with a badly ulcerated eye but it is considerably improved now.

A. W. Harmon, of Leap, was an Enterprise business visitor this week.

Thomas Scott and family, of Middle valley, were visiting relatives in the Elgin community Sunday.

Dozens of fishermen lined the river through the Wallowa canyon and at many other points which were near the highway on Sunday. Fishing is reported to be quite good in the most of the local streams and in a few instances some exceptionally large trout have been hauled.

Sam and G. C. Meek and Earl Borenfield were visiting at the Guy Parker and Mrs. Lillie Hill home in La Grande Sunday.

P. R. English and some of the other farmers of this community are finishing up the plowing of summerfallow. Plowing is just getting well started on some of the large tracts in the hill section. Oscar Maxwell, who operates the U. G. Couch ranch in the hills east of town, was busy the last of the week moving his "machinery" there from his home in the valley and expects to commence plowing the first of the week. Elvin Reed and wife, who are working for Mr. Maxwell, moved to the Couch place the latter part of the week and expect to live there during the greater part of the summer.

Mrs. T. M. Gastin and Mrs. Mina Littlefield and two children, of Wallowa, were visiting Sunday at Mrs. Katie Gastin's.
