THEATER ENSEMBLES INCLUDE LITTLE HATS

PARIS (AP)—Theater hats of lace straw or ribbon are generally accepted here as part of the correct evening ensemble.

Most of the evening hats are close fitting models of bonnet type. They have long sides and backs and flowers are sometimes tucked under the brim next the face.

Pink flowers on black hats are an idea of a leading dressmaker who is also a milliner.

Black satin hats with white gardenia clusters at one side are sponsored by important houses.

THREE GIVEN CHANCE FOR NOMINATION

lect the winner of the nomination for the gubernatorial post. All are agreed, however, that since filings closed at the state house, the contest for governor had simmered down to three candidates and possibly four.

Political observers said that from reports received from the populated areas of the state and scattered reports from rural districts, it was indicated the race had boiled down to a tight race between Corbett, Norblad, Joseph and possibly Hall, on the republican side and Bailey and Wilbur in the democratic camp.

In Klamath county, political observers said, Corbett seems to have a safe majority. Norblad and Joseph, they said, were runners-up.

Umatilla Unstable
Conditions in Umatilla county are considered unstable with some quiet but progressive campaigning broadening the scope of Corbett and Norblad. Observers said that Joseph and Hall had made some impressive appearances during their swings under the region. Wilbur and Bailey, with the Hood River man holding a slight advantage, apparently will be the democratic choice.

Electorate indifference in Union and Wasco counties has caused prognosticators to cast a wary eye in that direction. Although they said Corbett will be the favorite with the republicans and Wilbur with the democrats, Joseph may give Norblad a stiff contest for second place.

Marion county, reports indicated, sees Norblad entering the home stretch leading only by a neck with Corbett and Joseph running a close second. Bailey, they said, is an easy Marion county choice of the democrats.

Close Race in Jackson
Jackson county observers predicted a race between Corbett and Norblad with Corbett leading "by a nose." Observers qualified this statement with the possibility of a "surprise" at the eleventh hour. Hall, whose house to house campaign in Medford and Jackson county stood him in good stead, was reported a good second and Extreme care has been taken in the fashioning of these hats—they're not merely manufactured. You'll like the feel as well as the look of them! They have that "something" all men seek in headwear... it's hard to define, but easy to find in every SOLAR straw.

Braids and bodies of these straws are the pick of the world markets. Experts deftly shape them into hats well abreast of the style trend. This year the sweep of the brims is smarter and the crowns mount becomingly higher. Silk bands are in deep shades, either plain or striped.

Inside, as well as out, SOLAR stylists make strict demands. Sweat bands must be soft, yielding easily to the form of the head. Linings and details of finish must never swerve from a superior standard.

All this, because SOLAR straw wearers must know they are smartly correct!

Joseph "no better than fourth."

Support of the various candidates in the rural districts of Douglas county is relatively unknown. Hall has some quiet workers in the field and there is a marked leaning in some sections toward Joseph. How Corbett and Norblad will run in the rural districts, observers said, cannot be predicted, but in the city of Roseburg, Corbett has the most active following. Bailey, it was predicted will be an easy victor.

Hough Hurts His Cause

Observers do not restrict themselves in saying that the contest in Josephine county will be between Corbett, Norblad and Joseph. In the rural sections Joseph has piled up a slight lead, observers said, while Norblad and Corbett run closely in other districts.

Hough, a resident of Grants Pass, is expected to lead the field, but observers said his recent statement regarding the eighteenth amendment, in which he declared for modification, did him no good.

Interest in the election in general in Lane county is low. What little interest is shown apparently is directed somewhat toward Norblad, but Corbett, observers said, has made gains which may give him the county. Other candidates will divide a scattering of votes with Hall and Joseph the leading contenders.

Charles Hall is expected to carry his own county, Coos county, although Corbett and Norblad will give him a close race. Joseph's appearance in Coos county two days before the primary, observers said, had split the vote to a certain extent.

Multnomah County Outlook
Multnomah county, the greatest population center of the state and the stamping grounds for practically all of the gubernatorial candidates since they completed their state pilgrimages, is as much of a middle as the remainder of the state. Some observers give the entire county to Joseph, others to Norblad and Corbett.

It is safe to say that in Multnomah county the greatest fight will be waged, Joseph's open meeting at the auditorium last week brought out a capacity house, while advertisements are being carried in newspapers, signed by prominent citizens, during the support of Corbett. Norblad, as governor, has attended many and has thereby gained some prominence denied other candidates.
