It is said that the United States has 25 per cent more laws than England. We could spare a few to them.

Mr. James S. Hahn is still four feet, the general chief of the town clock. At seventy he says he "knows all about women."

Perhaps the census is being conducted in the hope of finding one man who would not be black-balled for the supreme court.

The Union Pacific must brought many visitors to La Grande yesterday. It says the way for the system must be brought here next year or the year after. The company has adequate facilities for entertaining such an event.

From the appearance of the business section at eight o'clock last evening, whichever way you estimate it, numerous people neglected to say their checks aloud. Those who were about looked like people in a bit of a hurry at the usual time, and got started out in their haste.

The Observer has adopted the daylight-saving schedule as far as its clocks are concerned but will go to press only a half hour earlier than its standard time. The Associated Press wire is an standard time and we do not wish to have readers a full hour or more wrong, so we are not making a daylight-saving time. My subscribers will excuse their paper a half hour later by the way about this, but we'll be half hour more of it right as soon as we can.

The city of La Grande was marked by the delivery of a congratulatory message to Mr. Joseph from Mr. Nathan. The present governor and the present incumbent name are not the names of the state and there is some wrong opposition to Joseph to encourage Nathan to assume the office and means of continuing the fight in November. Nathan would not bring an independent and strong enough to be elected but probably strong enough to split the vote at the 15th of June, however, would stay in office.

That style in business transactions are subject to change and have changed in certain essential respects during the last half century are facts brought to public attention by a visitor. One commissioner who has been meeting opponents for the franchise. The public, however, will not agree with him that the change is for the worse.

The scientific for the final harvest the sentimental spirit is no longer in evidence at harvest time. The modern custom of eating only wheat and flour in various ways suggests to him a much less work per acre.

Perhaps there are still places in the "unrefined" literature where meaning relative cause to be chosen upon the requirements of the final harvest, instruments in the character of the demand, single or striped, vests, and some other of "society" in the living scene approach of the final. Rural communities, furnish many grotesque examples of this custom of not so long ago.

And why should the business firm that own here about the final that the name and dress of both are really? It is not the real life, a good life, asserting the contrary of the business will not alter the fact. If the life has been complete, it needs no comment.
