

LOCAL BRIEFS

Arrived Yesterday— Mrs. A. H. Coleman and little daughter, Constance, of El Paso, Tex., arrived in La Grande yesterday to spend the summer visiting the home of her sister, Mrs. E. Westenhaver.

Portland— Mrs. J. W. Shirley left last night for Portland and is expected to return to La Grande tomorrow.

At Home— Mrs. Frank Barbee, of Bala, Pa., returned to her home this morning after spending the past week in La Grande visiting at the home of Mrs. Lee Reynolds and Mrs. E. L. Evans. Mrs. Barbee is Mrs. Reynolds' cousin.

Returns Home— John Beckels returned home from Portland yesterday. While in Portland he underwent several examinations at the Veteran's hospital and Mr. Beckels expects to return to Portland in a few days, where he will enter the hospital for treatment.

From Union— Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Winterton, of Union, were shopping in La Grande today.

The Meeting— The Elks lodge will meet tonight at 8 o'clock (standard time) according to an announcement by Chester L. Thompson, excited member.

Visiting Here— Mrs. Mahel Robbins, of Milford, Mich., is visiting at the home of relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Williams. Mrs. Robbins plans to visit a number of the schools while they are still in session.

Auto Accident— A collision occurred today that resulted in a standard time tomorrow morning.

Auto Accident— Cars driven by Mrs. Clarence Carter and W. A. Buntin figured in an automobile collision on the Grand City road near the M. E. Family member company mills this morning. No one was hurt. Both cars were damaged to some extent.

Slowly Improving— The condition of Mrs. Charles Dingfield is said to be better today and she is making progress slowly after a major operation performed a week ago.

Unable to be Up— John Snodgrass, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Snodgrass, who underwent an operation for infection of the knee about a week ago, is now home from the hospital and able to be up and around with the aid of crutches.

To Seattle— Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Murphy left for Seattle yesterday by car. They expect to be away about ten days.

To Perry— Mr. M. Greenough was a business visitor at Perry Tuesday.

Business Visitor— Opal Deibel went to Elgin yesterday on business.

Visiting Here— Mr. and Mrs. John W. Shirley, of Emeryville, Wyo., father and mother of E. W. Shirley, of this city, are visiting their son. They arrived Monday and plan to have an extended visit here. John Shirley has been in poor health and hopes for complete recovery while in La Grande.

Wins High Rating— Miss Clea McKennon, a graduate of La Grande High school and formerly of this city received special mention in the Edison-Marshall short story contest held at the University of Oregon for her story "The Last Days of the Grand Old Woman." Miss McKennon is junior in English.

At the Hotel— The following are registered at local hotels: M. A. Whitney, Lewiston; M. L. Langley, and wife, Denver; J. Johnson, Spokane; Gust Berg, Spokane; Mr. and Mrs. Collette, Los Angeles; R. Dunnean, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Harvey, Salmon; Dale D. Pettibone, Seattle; Mrs. M. J. Hanfield, Portland; Mrs. H. C. Hearings, Lewiston; M. L. L. Lewis, Lewiston; F. Lysett, Portland; Don Rogers, Auburn; E. P. Dunbar, Auburn; R. E. Brossard, Twin Falls; Charles Beckwith, Portland; P. H. Peck, Portland; H. W. Roberts, C. J. Bennett, Portland; James Buck, Nampa; C. H. Hendry, Pendleton; J. M. Stewart, Walla Walla; Mr. and Mrs. Hal Goodale, Eugene; E. W. Lindquist, Portland; Earl S. Young, Boise; Charles Thompson, Spokane; D. B. McDroid, Kootenai, Ia.; H. A. Buekirk, Pendleton; Mrs. P. L. Harter, Seattle; M. B. Christoferson, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Jordan, Enterprise.

Revised Classes Tonight— The successful Packard & Neely revival at the Christian church closes tonight with a farewell message and reception to the new converts. While Dr. Packard plans his closing service, especially for the church and new converts, everyone is welcome and will enjoy the service. He urges especially that every member of the church be present. Dr. Paul Henry Packard, evangelist, leaves La Grande tonight for Wichita Falls, Texas, in order to arrive home in time to witness his boy's graduation from high school. Prof. Claude Neely and family are returning to their home in Eugene, Oregon, today. They will be present for the commencement of Eugene Bible University, in which Bible college Prof. Neely is director of singing evangelism. He has been granted a leave of absence to conduct meetings the past two months.

Concludes Visit— Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Shrook who have been in La Grande visiting for a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Left, returned to their home at Taft, California. Mr. Shrook who is a graduate of the La Grande High school will be better remembered by his classmates here as "Shrookie." After finishing school here, Mr. Shrook attended O. S. C. latter going to Taft, where he has a position with the Standard Oil Co. On May 13, he was married to Miss Zella Benson, a Colston of Pelham, Cal., and their first night was their honeymoon. While on their trip they also visited with relatives in Portland.

Injunction Case— The hearing of the application of the La Grande Filling company against the West Coast Telephone company for a temporary injunction was held yesterday before Judge C. F. J. W. Knowles. The telephone company was proceeding to install a guy wire and anchor near the filling station of the plaintiff on Hemlock street to which the plaintiff objected. Judge Knowles called a temporary restraining order until the final hearing, which it is understood will be held soon.

Drum Corps Dinner— The American Legion drum and bugle corps will have a dinner at the Sackway Inn at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening. It was announced today.

Social Friday Evening— The Willowdale P. P. A. will hold a benefit social and auction sale tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at the school house. There will also be a program. It is announced. The public is invited.

From Walla Walla— Val Jensen and son Dean, of Walla Walla, were business visitors in La Grande yesterday.

Attending Convention— Those from La Grande who are attending the state meeting of the P. E. O. at the state meeting at Klammath Falls this week are Delegates Mrs. J. T. Richardson, Mrs. Colon Eberhard and Mrs. Iels Blokland, of Island City. Mrs. C. N. Miller, of Enterprise, is also in attendance. They are expected home the last of this week.

From Los Angeles— William H. Finn, of Los Angeles, was in La Grande yesterday on business. His father was C. H. Finn, an attorney who practiced for many years in La Grande and who was one of the first mayors of this city.

From Union— Mrs. Forest Scroggin, of Union, was a business visitor in La Grande today.

Improving— Miss Lillian Carter, who recently underwent an appendix operation at the Grande Ronde hospital, is improving. Miss Carter is a sister of Mrs. Curtis Lindsey.

On Business— Miss Edna Celler, of Union, called in La Grande yesterday on business.

From North Powder— Frank Tenbrook, of North Powder, was in La Grande the first of the week on business.

At Hotel— Harry L. Hess, local attorney, is at Hot Lake recovering from a recent illness.

Improving— Mrs. Sam Evans, of Flora, who is spending the week in La Grande receiving treatment for her eye, is improving but will probably be here for several days yet.

Drive Here— K. Z. McCormick, of Pendleton.

drove here last weekend, spending Sunday visiting friends.

From Lewiston— Mrs. Walter Parker, formerly of this city but whose home is now in Lewiston, is visiting friends in La Grande.

Improving— Miss Lillian Parker is improving at the Grande Ronde hospital following an operation.

Leave Tomorrow— Miss Dorothy Rose, who recently underwent an appendix operation at the Grande Ronde hospital, is improving and will go home in the morning.

Going to Corvallis— Mr. and Mrs. Audmer Playle and Harry Snodgrass were to leave this afternoon for Corvallis to spend the weekend. The men will attend an initiation of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

Returned Home— Misses Gladie and Elizabeth Pambrum, of Athena, Ore., have returned to their home after visiting here with their aunt, Mrs. Ed. R. Taylor. While here Miss Sadie Pambrum took a cosmetic examination.

In Pendleton— Mr. and Mrs. Hardie Taylor spent last Saturday and Sunday in Pendleton on a pleasure trip.

Choir Practice— The Ladies' Triad choir will not meet this evening but will hold a practice tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock according to an announcement made by Mrs. A. L. Richardson, director.

Install Permanent Flagpoles— A permanent flagpole has recently been installed by the school board of both Greenwood and Riveria schools. These poles are set in the school yards in appropriate places. Flags, displayed in accordance with the law, on the staffs on the buildings have worn out quicker than those on poles. The board has found from experience.

Visited Parents— Miss Marie Peetz, of Pendleton, spent the weekend visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Peetz.

Returned Home— Mrs. H. M. Bay returned home Wednesday after spending two weeks in Portland and Eugene. She spent the weekend and Mother's day with her son, Lawrence, at the University of Oregon, where he is president of the freshman class. While in Portland Mrs. Bay was a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Clark.

From Enterprise— Mrs. J. E. Ward, of Enterprise, is a business visitor in La Grande today. She arrived last night and is remaining here this afternoon. Mrs. Ward is also visiting friends and relatives.

In Wallowa County— L. F. Ward is in Wallowa county this week on business. He expects to return home Saturday.

Business Trip— T. K. Bellamy is leaving today for Walla Walla where he will spend the weekend on business.

GERMANS SALUTE AMERICAN GOLD STAR MOTHERS (Continued from Page One)

and happy" report sent to Paris today at every one of the five groups of American war mothers visiting various cemeteries in France.

Officials of the pilgrimage said one fear they had was that the mothers might find the change to French cooking would cause indigestion. This had proved unfounded and the mothers have shown themselves thoroughly adaptable in this respect.

Today was a quiet one, the mothers again visiting the graves of their sons. In addition the Ober-Alse group at Soissons made a special pilgrimage to place flowers on the tomb of Quentin Roosevelt. The Surenes group at Paris today visited the tomb of Napoleon.

PORTLAND CASH (Continued from Page One)

PORTLAND, Ore., May 22 (AP)—Cash wheat: 10c Head blueblend hard white $1.17 1/2. Soft white $1.04 1/2. Western white $1.04 1/2. Hard winter $1.02 1/2. Northern spring $1.02 1/2. Western red $1.02 1/2.

DRY LEAGUE NOT CERTAIN AS TO HOOVER SUPPORT (Continued from Page One)

Pennsylvania, the league would support Davis. If a dry democrat were nominated, he said the league would not take sides.

Caraway asked if there is not "a greater war being made on the 13th amendment now than ever before."

"The vets are fighting harder now," McElrath replied. "But one reason is that they are against the wall and fighting for their lives. A few more elections like the one in Pennsylvania will discourage them."

Questioned by Caraway the witness said:

"I was all 'Nerves' couldn't sleep or eat until I took Tanlac"

Tanlac

Tanlac

Tanlac

Tanlac

"We like a dry democrat, just as well, or a little better, than a dry republican."

"I should think that anyone would," Caraway, a democrat, commented.

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges.

The dry league superintendent expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey who had advocated repeal of prohibition.

He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Records of the anti-saloon league showed the committee today that it has been pledged for contributions of $18,705,522.

McElrath informed the senators that his organization collected an