Mr. and Mrs. Taal were away from home during the fire and returned to find the house burned down and only a few small things saved through the efforts of their neighbors who tried to save what they could. It is not known how the fire started and after gaining headway, it destroyed everything, as there are no water facilities in that vicinity to quench fires. Cochran in Portland—Our experiment with daylight saving was abandoned chiefly because of the conflicts produced in working hours, remarked George T. Cochran, attorney of La Grande, as he was chatting with friends yesterday in the lobby of a Portland hotel. "If it had been possible to change everything to accord with the clock, the plan would have proved very popular. However, the railroad were unable to change their time schedules to conform, and La Grande being a division point, it meant that railroad workers were going to work at one time and mill workers at another. I heard of one woman who kept a boarding house at which both mill and railroad workers stayed. When the new time was adopted she was forced to get two breakfasts and two lunches, making five meals a day. This is but one example of the confusion that was occasioned. Mill workers, merchants and professional men were very much pleased with the idea of having one hour longer of daylight, but, of course, we saw the disadvantages of the plan to many." Mr. Cochran returned home last night.—The Oregonian.

Golfers Advance In St. Andrews' Tourney Today

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 27 (AP)—Two members of the American Walker cup team, Dr. O. P. Willing and Donald K. Moo, both of Portland, Oregon, were eliminated in the second round of the British amateur golf championship this morning. Two other Walker cup players, Francis Quimet and George Von Elm, advanced to the third round after comparatively easy matches while a third, Roland McCulloch, advanced without playing when his scheduled opponent scratched his entry. Other Americans to advance today were J. B. Gwaltney, New York, and Walter G. Fovargue, Aberdeen, Wash., the latter by default. Other Americans defeated included Howard C. Davis, Salem, Me., and Eric H. Chambers, Portland, Ore. Frank C. Stevens Jr., Hollywood, Cal., won a third round match from E. P. McConnell, Portrush, 5 up and 4 to play. George Volght, New York, won his way into the fourth round of the championship by defeating J. H. A. A. Sandingdale, 6 up and 4 to play.

MRS. L. K. KINZEL IN GOLF TOURNEY

(Continued from Page One) through a field of 42 women yesterday with an 80 in the 18-hole medal round. The young Waverly country club star led her nearest competitor, Miss Jean Flaegeman, Multnomah club, by only one stroke. Mrs. Edmund Shea, Columbia country club, was third with an 89. A hundred and thirty five golfing stars of Oregon and two other states started their gruelling 36 hole qualifying rounds in the Oregon state amateur tournament at the Eugene country club at 7 o'clock this morning. Twelve of the 135 had completed the first 18 holes by 10:30 o'clock. Robert Neighbor, Eugene, with an 87, was the only man to be considered in this round. Frank Dolp took straight pars on the first four holes with Eudie Wilhelm, his partner, doing the same. Vincent Dolp, intercollegiate champion, sank a 12 foot putt to take a 2 on hole 2. Play was slow because of waits in each hole. Vincent Dolp, low man on the turn with 35, stood two under par on the qualifying round. Dick Near, Eugene, Oregon, junior champion, and George Will, captain of the university golfers, both were even with a par 37 on the turn. Roy Mae had a 40 and Frank Dolp came through with a 38. Eudie Wilhelm was 40 on the turn.

Normal School Folk Game Fete To Be Tomorrow

A Folk Game fete or a May Folk dancing fete will be given tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the north court of the Eastern Oregon Normal school campus by the normal education department and the J. H. Acterman Training school. Seats will be provided for the audience and the public is cordially invited to attend. Following is the program to be presented: 1. "The Chimes of Dunkirk" and "The Danish Dance of Greeting," given by the first grade. (The little folks not only give you two beautiful folk games of Denmark but also usher in spring with their beautiful costumes representing spring rains and sunshine.) 2. "The Wooden Shoe," Elizabeth Hesse and Irma Beck. (A folk dance of Holland, the land of tulips in the springtime.) 3. "Today is the First of May" and "The Shoemaker's Dance." (Here we find a May game of Sweden and German also, gull games played with our little folks representing beautiful spring flowers.) 4. "The Highland Fling," Miss Elsie Yock. (Program would not be complete without a Scotch contribution garbed in a thistle costume denoting spring time on the hillside.) 5. "The Oriental," Mrs. Vivian Puett. (Mingled in our flower program we have this number from the Oriental countries for spring comes to all continents alike.) 6. "The Norwegian Mountain March and Stunts" by the sixth grade boys. (The Highlanders of Norway enjoying springtime.) 7. "The Raging Flood," Miss Elliott and Miss Beardon. (Springtime gaily in a clog dance.) 8. "The Ribbon Dance," sixth grade girls. (Picturing England's stately Maytime fete, where again flowers mingle emmasse.) 9. Rhythmic interpretations of McDowell's "To a Wild Rose," fourth grade. (With this we find our national flower portrayed in our program. This number is outstanding for the interpretation given it not by adults but by the children themselves.) 10. "Oregon State Song" rendered by the Training school.

Continuing Rioting in Rangoon Area

(Continued on Page Eight) It appeared were armed, wielded daggers with such telling effect that the number treated for lacerations far exceeded that of the firing by police, or those belabored with staves. The center of the conflict was between Burmans and Hindus. Strict Regime Instituted Many of the injured had retreated to hiding places among the wharves and in boats. Early today the police instituted a regime of the strictest nature. Assembly of more than four persons and carrying of weapons were forbidden. The outbreaks began early yesterday when striking Burman coolies and their Andhra replacements clashed on the docks. The coolies had been on strike without violence until the impatient workmen appeared on the scene. The flare-up was so sudden that before the police could reach the scene large numbers had been wounded.

WARM DAY BRINGS OUT STRAW HATS

(Continued from Page One) Merchants throughout the city report a large number of sales yesterday and today, and are continuing in setting aside tomorrow as the time for the formal debut of the summery headgear. Stores are well stocked with practically every type of straws, of every color and shape that the wearer will demand. There is an even greater variety of styles to select from this year than in former seasons, with nearly as many types. In La Grande, the arrival of the straw hat season is a sure sign of summer and from now on—at least in casual conversation—it will be "last spring" instead of "this spring," even though the calendar does not officially begin the summer into existence until after the first three weeks of June.

TWO DIRECTORS TO BE ELECTED MONDAY, JUNE 16

(Continued from Page One) —whose terms do not expire this year—are F. A. Epling, W. C. Perkins and Dr. J. J. Lusk. Mr. Eberhard has served on the school board for 17 years and Mr. Brink has served for six years.
