JONES CONQUERS TOLLY AT 19TH

centers saw the spectacular finish of the match of the champions. All St. Andrews was packed about the home green and hanging from windows of the hotels and buildings nearby. After the 17th was halved with birds foung and the home hole developed a pair of par fours, the crowd followed Jones and Tolley across the swill-can burn to the 19th. At the extra hole Tolley was stymied and barely missed when he attempted to jump Jones' ball with a maulie. Jones holed a three-foot putt for a par four and the match was over. With medal scores of 75 each, the two players, who are old friends, battled through every hole and every shot to the finish. They were never more than one hole apart and from the 11th through the 16th they exchanged holes with not one halved. It required five minutes to clear the fairway in front of the royal and ancient club so that they could hit their tee shots on the extra hole. Flagmen frantically waved the galloping crowd back and were run down for their efforts. With the fairway lined solidly from tee to green and people blackening every knoll and hummock for vantage points the American star and his big British opponent drove almost level, nearly 300 yards. Jones was outdriven by the long hitting Tolley on the most of the holes on the second nine but he offset Tolley's superior length from the tee by his putting. Roland MacKenzie, Wilmington, Del., was eliminated by Kenneth Grieg, St. Andrews, four up and three to play in the fourth round. The defeat of MacKenzie marked the first Walker cup team casualty of the day and third of the week. Dr. O. F. Willing and Donald K. Moe losing yesterday.

Methodist Board Favors Transfer

organization ought "to go slow" in opposing the president. "Mussolini would be happy with that situation," Senator Caraway commented. Tells of Card Index: Pickett testified his organization keeps a card index of the votes of the members of congress in prohibition and of their religious affiliations. A report by Wilson, placed in the record, said in part: "It is a happy circumstance that the government is to fall into the hands of a consistent Quaker and a Methodist vice president. "It was very interesting to watch the schemes of the wets and the nullifiers as they sought to bow the preacher out of politics and bring in a set of trustees and advocates of the church that has taken no part in politics or religion but got the consent of its popes for all sisters of charity, all nurses, all the inmates of nunneries to register and to vote with the expectation that they would make it unanimous for a son of the church and a ruler of Tammany Hall and a man whose unbroken advocacy of the saloon, the brothel, and the gambling hall, cannot be questioned by any act of his in 30 years." The report added: "We did use all the energy in the planning that we were capable of in bringing about the election of Herbert Hoover as president and Charles Curtis as vice president. We had to do this or permit the wet nullifier to imperil prohibition and all future moral standards for our country. "We have no apology to make to anybody. "We were up against the worst combination that ever fought together in the United States. . . I think some of the leaders of this group will be spending the balance of their lives trying to explain away their speeches in the last campaign, the Carter Glass's, the Robinsons, etc." The committee adjourned until Tuesday when Bishop James Cannon will be the witness.
