MEMORIAL DAY

WITH heads bowed, we recall tales of courage and sacrifice, accounts of battles won and lost by a nation that has ever upheld humanity's highest ideals.

We place wreaths of homage at warrior graves, and salute the heroes who live. May our ritual be more than a gesture. May it be a prayer for peace—today and tomorrow.

SEEK LONE GUNMAN
SEATTLE, Wash., May 30—(AP)—Seattle police were searching for a lone gunman who early today shot down Nick Kruger, pool room operator, as he and his partner, John Cvitkovic, alighted from their automobile at Kruger's garage near his home. The thug stepped from the shadows of the garage, ordered the men to stop and then shot Kruger three times, killing him instantly.

LARGE STOCK DISPLAY FOR UNION SHOW

standing cow of the dairy division by the La Grande Evening Observer and $25 offered by the Eastern Oregon Light and Power company for the outstanding bull. To these awards can also be added a generous award made by the United States National bank of La Grande who give $12.50 each for the two grand champions in the dairy division.

"Splendid interest was manifested in the stock show in Pine Valley, Muddy Creek and other sections," declares Tony D. Smith, secretary of the stock show, who has been making a brief tour of the nearby livestock districts. Beef cattle, dairy cattle, horses, and a number of F. F. A. exhibits are expected from Halfway, including stock from the Melhorn farm who thought so well of the stock show in the past that they exhibited when there were no cash prizes. From Muddy Creek district the DeLong Holstein, which captured several blue ribbons and one grand championship last year, will come to Union. The Muddy Creek calf club led by Henry Lemnitz, prominent farmer of that district, will make things interesting for the cow people in Union county as well as the entrants in the 4-H division from other points.

One sheep club in Union county alone is expected to bring 63 head of "woolies" according to the announcement of H. G. Avery, county agricultural agent, who is quite a sheepman on his own. Beef calves and pigs will constitute other exhibits of these club members to whom the stock show is always a goal.

To Show Improvement
The F. F. A. exhibits from six districts of Eastern Oregon having departments of vocational agriculture, are expected to show a great improvement over last year which was their initial exhibit. A liberal share of the premium money is offered to the student farmers, with enough fine specialties to sweeten the prospect. The high school boys are particularly proud of the yearling ewe offered in the sheep class by Carl Whitmore, well known sheep breeder of Joseph, who picked the animal from a flock of purebreds sired by Desert Gold, a ram that never suffered defeat in the showing although shown at three national events.

"Arena events this year will be exciting and interesting to the greatest possible degree," avers M. L. Biedler, chairman of the sports committee. "Much expense will be lavished on this feature of the show so as to supplement the racing program in order to provide entertainment for every taste. Equestrian contests, calf roping, calf riding for boys, and some exhibition rides on real buckers, will provide thrills every day. Remember much of the arena program is devoted to good amateur riders, so even in the arena the stock show money will circulate among home people of the Eastern Oregon district rather than among itinerant riders."

CANTERBURY PREPARES FOR HISTORIC ANNIVERSARIES
CANTERBURY, England (AP)—Three historic anniversaries in the life of Canterbury Cathedral are to be celebrated from June 7 to 14 with a series of religious, musical and dramatic festivals. These anniversaries commemorate the dedication of the Norman cathedral, 809 years ago; first service held in the present choir 750 years ago; birth of the Black Prince, 600 years ago. Preparations for the celebration are being made by a committee headed by the Prince of Wales. Famous vocalists, violinists, organists and choirs will take part in the musical festivals. Scenes from Shakespeare will be presented in the deanery garden by Sir Philip Ben Greet. Special services will be held in the cathedral and its priceless treasures will be on public view.

WEATHER IS HANDICAP TO OBSERVANCE

The spirit of the anniversary was epitomized at the site of the great Civil War conflict in services reaching their culmination in an address by President Hoover.

The chief executive and a small party of friends left early in the day by motor for the great national cemetery dedicated by Abraham Lincoln with his famous Gettysburg address.
Ceremonies here converged upon the tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington. They were made especially notable by the presence of Sergeant Edward S. Younger, who nine years ago designated the unidentified doughboy that should become the unknown, by placing a wreath of roses upon one of four caskets in a small make-shift chapel at Chalons-Sur-Marne, France. It was arranged that Younger should place a similar wreath on the handsome marble slab beneath which the unknown rests.

Brief services at the tomb were arranged also by the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Disabled American Veterans, with the annual ceremonies of the Grand Army of the Republic, Department of the Potomac, following shortly afterward in the amphitheater close by.
Two tombs at the National (Episcopal) cathedral were marked also for special honors. They were those of Woodrow Wilson and Admiral George Dewey. A wreath from the White House was prepared for the former.

Arnold set the pace for the first 25 miles reeling off the distance in 14:02.07, an average of 106.814 miles an hour. Meyer was second, and "Shorty" Canton, of Detroit, third.
Two cars tearing at break-neck speed collided on the treacherous north turn, spilling four others with them. The cars that collided were the entries of Marion Trexler, of Indianapolis, and Peter De Paolo, De Paolo, however, was not driving at the time. Fred Roberts, of Danville, Ill., was behind the wheel. None of the drivers was reported injured. The accident happened as the cars were speeding on their fiftieth mile.
