Promise School Teacher Hired For Next Year

By Bertha Carper (Observer Correspondent) PROMISE, Ore. (Special)—Miss Nellie Ward closed her term of school at Sunnyside, May 24, and left Sunday for her home at Hugo, Ore. She has been employed to teach the next year at the Grossman school.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wickham, who are working in a logging camp 12 miles from Baker, came in Thursday and visited Mrs. Wickham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sniffer. They took little Jack and Virginia Bethel back with them to Baker. Jack and Virginia have been staying with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Snuffer.

Harvey McDonald visited Albert McGinnis on Powwatha Monday and Ralph Carper, who is herding sheep for Geo. Brooks, Tuesday. He returned home Wednesday.

C. P. Carper and boys have been plowing and building fences this week on Mrs. Carper's place near L. S. McDonald's.

V. R. Henderson and Henry Carper were working on the telephone line Tuesday. John Doud, T. J. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wortman were transacting business in Enterprise Monday.

Earl Williams, who has been working for Geo. Brooks on Powwatha, is at home this week suffering from a severe cold. Mrs. Pearl Lively, of Maxville, is quite ill.

The county grader was brought out last Thursday and work began on the Maxville road and the road was put in the best shape it had been in for several years. This road has been dragged several times this season by farmers and loggers, but each time it had been dragged, a rain had softened the road until it would soon be cut up again and now it's been raining again for 24 hours. The rain, however, is making the grain and grass grow abundantly. The gardens are doing nicely. The weather continues cold and cloudy. Owing to the heavy rain Friday, only a few were out to the cemetery with flowers.

Wednesday was cleanup day at the Grange hall. The men met and tore down the old wood shed and cut down a tree and saved it into wood and cleaned up the grounds in general. The women were also about, 16 in number, and quilted two quilts, which will be sold later and the proceeds go to buy paint for the hall. A banquet dinner was served at noon. A great deal of work was accomplished and also a social time was enjoyed by all present.

Ella Haney, of Wallowa, is staying with her grandmother, Mrs. Amanda Carper.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Johnson, of Pendleton, visited Thursday at Henry Snuffer's.

The people of Powwatha organized Sunday school last Sunday to meet at the school house at 10 a. m. each Sunday.

Mrs. Bertha Carper returned from La Grande Saturday, where she had been for ten days, called there on account of the illness of her daughter, Lillian, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Grande Ronde hospital at May 17. Miss Lillian has recovered sufficiently to leave the hospital and is convalescing at the home of her sister, Mrs. Edith Lindsey, at 903 Y avenue, La Grande. Roy Carper brought his mother home and returned to his home in La Grande Saturday evening.

Mrs. John Carper and son, Ed, and Sibyl Ballard and Ella Haney visited Sunday at Henry Snuffer's. Miss Sibyl Ballard went on to West Grossman to the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Black Ballard, where she remained for an extended visit.

C. B. Kenworthy returned Saturday from Joseph, where he had been visiting and also taking treatments.

Harvey McDonald, who spent the winter in La Grande attending high school, returned to his home Saturday and is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. S. McDonald.

Edgar Denton, of Maxville, has rented the Ira Lively place and is busy putting in a garden and will move his family there soon.

Mrs. Julia Sanner returned home Monday. She had been visiting relatives and friends in Maxville, Wallowa and Enterprise for the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. U. Poulson came in Saturday from their home on the Ass Craig place, above Enterprise, and brought their mother, Mrs. Alice Smith, home with them. Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Teel returned with them Sunday evening and are visiting there this week.

Doc Moore and wife and baby and Mrs. Moore's niece are visiting at the home of Charles Moore.

V. R. Henderson went to Wallowa Monday to meet his daughter, Alice Chenoweth, who is visiting her parents.

Egg And Butter Prices Continue Without Change

PORTLAND, Ore., June 3 (AP)—Egg and butter prices continue unchanged with the undertone without strength. Egg values appear to be the stronger of the two, with the co-operatives holding the situation well in hand. Reviewing the fruit and vegetable situation, the Portland bureau of the U. S. department of agriculture says: "Although strawberry supplies were present in moderate volume, canners and barrellers' requirements took most offerings, with resultant sharp price advances on the wholesale market. First early sales on the farmers market were made as low as $1.75 per crate. Full retailers paid up to $3.00, later in the day. It now appears that the barrellers will act as a decided stabilizing influence during the rest of the season, as their requirements are not nearly filled yet. Cantaloupes weakened about 25c per crate. Cants show very wide variation in quality, with price ranges of 75c per crate, for identical sizes. "There is almost too much lettuce for the Portland market, but hardly enough to interest outside city buyers. Consequently, prices are low, although quality is generally excellent. Washington is now shipping as high as 60 cars daily, mostly from the Puget Sound district, with a few cars from Walla Walla. "Portland has a few cars of mixed vegetables available for shipment, but competitive northwestern districts are underselling Portland's prices, and getting the business now. In other words, Portland's own market is considerably higher than most points in the northwest, for most vegetables. "Green peas will be available for early movement this week."

Hoover Has Not Changed Mind on Bill He Vetoed

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—President Hoover said today he had not changed his opinion that the Spanish-American war veterans pension bill enacted over his veto yesterday by congress was unwise.

"I favored a liberalization of the Spanish war veteran pensions," he said, "because they have not been on a parity with other services, but I have not changed my opinion that it should have been worked out in such a way that rich men, or men having substantial incomes, should not draw pensions from the government."

"I have made no suggestion at any time of a pauper provision against veterans or anything akin thereto. "I do not believe we should alter the principles which have been held for Civil war veterans all these 70 years, requiring that men claiming pensions should have at least 50 days service."

"Further than this, I do not believe it is right to change our national policy and to call upon the nation to pay disability allowances to men who have or who may tomorrow destroy their health by vicious habits. "I have received numerous communications from veterans supporting these views."

Portugal Lets Nuns Back But Bars Convents

By George Haladjian (Associated Press Correspondent) LISBON (AP)—After 20 years' exile, Portuguese nuns have been allowed to re-enter their native country, but under provisions which bar convent life, wearing of habits in public and the teaching of religion in state schools.

The restrictions, however, represent a considerable relaxation of the decrees under which all religious orders were expelled from the country by the anti-clerical government of Alfonso Costa in 1910.

Now the nuns are permitted to work in private hospitals, institutions for the blind and other charitable institutions. They are also allowed to teach religion privately.

Throughout the 20 years the only sisterhoods that have been represented in the country have been Irish nuns of the Beat Success convent and French nuns of the St. Louis hospital. Both these institutions were considered territories of the Irish and French governments and therefore beyond the reach of the anti-clerical ban.

The readmission of the native nuns for private work follows, too, a change in policy which restored them to full standing in the colonies where missionary and parochial schools are run by them and by Portuguese priests. Until this step was taken the only religious education in the African possessions was given by foreign missionaries who taught the various different languages and blacks different creeds.

In some instances disorders broke out between protestant and catholic converts and the government also found that the Portuguese language was mixing little or no headway among the blacks. So the government has authorized reopening of the Franciscan monastery of Varatogo near Torres Vedras to train missionaries for Africa and it has also restricted instruction there in anything but Portuguese.

A still-further sign of improved relations between state and church is a concession of the latter's right to own landed property. Several churches which had been turned into government offices have been restored to public worship and some observers go so far as to predict that ere long a formal concordat will be negotiated between Portugal and the Vatican.
