CANYONVILLE WILL RE-ENACT PIONEER DAYS

ROSEBURG, Ore. (AP)—Pioneer days are to be re-enacted at Canyonville July 4. Canyonville was once one of the most important communities in southern Oregon, as it was the terminal for the California-Oregon stage lines and the freight and passenger wagon trains operating from Scottsburg, the principal port in the southern part of the state.

The completion of the railroad, however, brought heavy losses to the town until the paving of the Pacific highway caused the community to take on new life.

One of the old stage coaches that used to roll into Canyonville from California has been resurrected and will be driven July 4 by Tom Burnett, veteran stage driver, who will lead the parade. Mrs. S. Russell, 80, whose father, George Roberts, settled the land upon which Canyonville is located, will be queen of the celebration.

GREATER FREIGHT SAFETY ACHIEVED BY RAILROADS

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the records made by American railroads during the past decade is the increased safety with which freight is handled.

Back in 1921 shortly after the carriers were returned to private operation by the government, they paid an average of $2.35 per freight car for loss and damage to freight shipments. The total bill amounted to $96,739,376.

In 1929, according to the American Railway association this was cut to $27,432,966, or 63 cents per car, a reduction of 61 per cent in the nine year period. The claims handled in 1929 totaled 2,514,578.

HEAVY ALFALFA LOSS
ROSEBURG, Ore. (AP)—A heavy loss has been sustained by Umpqua valley alfalfa growers. The late rains have discolored the first cutting, most of which is still on the ground.

The gross agricultural wealth of Canada for 1929 is estimated at approximately $7,978,633,000.

STATE FIGHTS FOREST FIRE WITH PREVENTION METHODS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The state division of forestry and agricultural extension service of the University of California are demonstrating in foothill communities all the essentials of rural fire protection. In this way the department hope to reduce the forest fire hazard this summer to a minimum.

Two miniature slopes of soil are set up to show the effect of fire on the water supply. One slope is protected by brush fields while the other is unprotected.

Two quarts of water are applied to each with the result that the humus covered area shows percolation of half the water while most of that put on the unprotected slope runs off the surface.
