LOS ANGELES DAM TRAGEDY CLAIM UPHELD

LOS ANGELES, June 6 (AP)—With the returning of a verdict yesterday for Ray E. Kising for $20,000 damages against the city of Los Angeles, growing out of the death of Kising's wife and three children in the St. Francis dam disaster, the city has settled today all but five death claims in the tragedy.

The flood released by the bursting of the dam claimed over 400 lives in Los Angeles and Ventura counties. When the final claims are paid and the last work of rehabilitation done, Eastman said, it will have cost the city approximately $7,000,000.

HOOPER VETOES HOUSE BILL

WASHINGTON, June 6 (AP)—President Hoover vetoed today the house bill which would authorize the United States to be made a defendant in litigation by the state of Oregon for the determination of the title to lands constituting the beds of Malheur and lakes and lands riparian thereto.

Navigation Company Will Offer Stock

SALEM, Ore., June 6 (AP)—The Pacific-Atlantic Navigation company, which is to build five ships to operate between Atlantic ports and the Orient by way of Portland and other Pacific coast ports, and which will be the first company of its kind to make the port of Portland its home port, today received from the state corporation department a permit to sell $5,000,000 worth of stock. Thirty-three Portland firms and individuals already have subscribed to $1,194,000 of the stock.

Mark D. McCallister, Oregon state corporation commissioner, said that the stock is to be sold without advertising, the use of a prospectus or any "high power" method. The purpose of the issue, he said, is to meet the requirements under the merchant marine act which allows the company, in this instance, to borrow approximately 75 per cent of the total amount needed from the United States government.

WOOL REPORT

BOSTON, June 6 (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin of Boston will say tomorrow:

"While the demand for wool has been less keen in the eastern seaboard markets this week, prices have been fairly well maintained and are anything against the buyer. Fine wools still are first in volume of sales but quarter-blood combing wool for knitting purposes have been prominent in the trading, both in territory and bright wools.

"Foreign markets are firm on fine wools and barely firm on crossbreds. The Yorkshire textile market is apparently near an end, with operations accepting the reductions demanded by the mills.

"New clip operations are extending into the northwest and contracting is reported in Southern Montana at 21-22 cents. Elsewhere, prices are about unchanged, although buying pressure is less in certain localities.

"The manufacturing position is considered sound and encouraging, although manufacturers are adopting a very conservative attitude.

"Mohair is slow, with Texas original hair quotable at 39-40 cents in the original bales."

The bulletin will publish the following quotations:

Scoured basa; Oregon, fine and f. m. staple 73-75; fine and f. m. fr. combing 70-72; fine and f. m. clothing 65-67; valley No. 1, 67-68.

Mohair: Oregon 38-40, Domestic grading, first combing 50-52; good carding 34-35.

Heavy Declines In Cantaloupes And Tomatoes

PORTLAND, Ore., June 6 (AP)—Butter prices continue to show strength, but no changes have been announced. Demand for both storage and home consumption appears much brisker.

Egg prices were also holding their own.

Reviewing the fruit and vegetable situation, the Portland bureau of the U. S. department of agriculture says:

"Portland's team tracks are oversupplied with tomatoes and cantaloupes; and both commodities show heavy price declines. Cantaloupes declined nearly $1.00 per crate, to $2.50-2.75 for standard sizes. Part of this decline is due to generally ordinary quality. Tomatoes sold to jobbers as low as 90c per lug of fair-quality California, ranging up to $1.75 for best stock from that district. Some Mexican tomatoes are virtually worthless. Even firm, solid Texas tomatoes dropped as low as $1.50 per lug.

"Although Brooks celery has been moving in limited volume for a few days, Portland's first deliveries were made yesterday. Quality is good, but with so many competing vegetables, demand is rather slow. First offerings sold at $2.00 per dozen stalks of medium to small sizes.

"Strawberries were in light supply after the past few days rain. Quality of most stock was rather poor; although some Banks berries were very good. The market was firm at $2.25-2.50 per crate, at 2 1/2 cts per lb. to retailers.

"Cherries are present today from The Dalles, Yakima, and Charleston. Prices range from 12 1/2-22 1/2 cts per lb."

Wood Williams, head usher; chorus members: Mrs. Elsie Clark, Miss Ruth Alarich, Mrs. Burnett, Mrs. R. V. Copey, Maime Speckhart, Miss Evelyn Piper, Miss Mary Lou Piper, Miss Ruth Durand, Mrs. Olive Curry, Miss Lydia Hug, Miss Elizabeth Hesse, Miss Margaret Hesse, Miss Bethmyr Miller, Miss Lillian Smith, Mrs. Will Adler, Miss Alys Cook, Mrs. R. P. Tyler and Mrs. Lema Fuller.

Mrs. Fuller sang "Caroline," and "Mighty Lak a Rose" was sung by Mrs. Copey. Miss Durand sang "Marguerite." Amos and Andy were ably portrayed by Miss Miller and Miss Small. Two recitation numbers were played by Buddy Reynolds.

At the beginning of act two Miss Gladys Roberts danced a "Black and White" number, and responded to an encore. The band was led by Kermit Hagain and Melvin Vallery. Bill Hall and Susan Chadwick were the two characters in the final skit of act two.

Act three was the short story of the newlyweds, Vergil Kochensberger and Miss Hesse, in a visit to the bride's aunt, Mrs. Adler. The tumbling was by Ellis Watkins. Mrs. Curry sang "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," and "Old Blue Joe" was sung by Paul Knautz, who responded to an encore. The happy song was by Mrs. Burnett. This was followed by the finale of old plantation songs and modern numbers.

The maids were Miss Ruth Byers and Miss Patricia Clark. Little Frances Clark was the page.

NORTON'S KIDDY SHOP

Resignation Or Retraction By Merriam Asked

SALEM, Ore., June 6 (AP)—Fruit growers and shippers of this section of the state will demand that Acting Governor Hamilton demand of H. S. Merriam, member of the state board of horticulture, his resignation or a complete retraction of his statement here Wednesday that a "mysterious disease" heretofore known to exist only in Europe has been discovered in an Oregon orchard. It was indicated here Friday.

Confirmation of the reported movement was made by Max Gehlar, a leader in cherry growing circles, who said that he was aware of the agitation, and O. E. Brooks, who said that he was "fully in sympathy with such action."

Merriam's assertions, made at a hearing before the Marion county court on charges he had brought against S. H. Van Trump in seeking Van Trump's removal as county fruit inspector, are entirely unfounded in fact and his reported discovery of such a pest by state and federal inspectors is denied by experts at the state agricultural college and by C. H. Cole, secretary of the state board of horticulture, according to local fruit men who sought to check on Merriam's statements.

A. P. Dispatch Confirmed

Declarations that Merriam's statements before the court here were accurately quoted in the Associated Press dispatch covering them were made Friday by the three members of the county court, Mr. Gehlar and others who attended the hearing, all of whom confirmed the report that he had said the mysterious pest had been discovered by a state inspector, taken to Oregon State Agricultural college and identified, and that it had later been discovered by a federal inspector who recommended to the United States department of agriculture that the entire crop be quarantined. They also confirmed Merriam's reported assertion that a million dollar horticultural industry in the state was threatened and that a federal quarantine might still be proclaimed.

"Such an unwarranted and unsubstantiated assertion is capable of doing untold damage to the fruit industry of Oregon, especially to the black cherry and pear shippers at this time, and might easily destroy the entire demand for these products in the eastern markets by influencing buyers against the purchase of Oregon fruits," said Gehlar.

TARIFF BILL SNAG FACES CONFEREES

The conferees accepted the house rate of seven cents a pound but not less than 35 per cent ad valorem on cheese and cheese substitutes.

The previous conference rate on cheese was eight cents a pound but not less than 40 per cent, which was subject to a point of order because it eliminated lower Senate levies on specialty cheeses imported for foreign populations. The specialty cheeses also was eliminated under the new agreement.

To meet another objection the conferees mixed a minimum levy of 46 cents a pound on rayon filaments over 20 inches in length and retained the minimum of 445 cents a pound on rayon yarns.

All reference to frozen cherries was eliminated, although it is believed these will come in at 5 1/2 cents a pound and 40 per cent, the rate provided for maraschino and other preserved cherries. Under another agreement horses and cattle from Mexico and Canada would be permitted free entry for eight months for pasturage purposes. The previous agreement provided an eight months period for cattle from Canada and three months for those from Mexico. The house provision was accepted today.

Florida's 1929-1930 citrus crop brought $18,000,000, according to preliminary estimates. The yield was 15 million boxes.

PINK BREAD

for the Bridal Breakfast

If you attended yesterday afternoon's session of The Observer Cooking School — as over 300 women did — you saw Mrs. McLean bake pink bread for the sandwiches on the Bridal Breakfast menu.

It fitted the color scheme — and looked as delicious as any cake you can imagine. It was light, uniform — perfect bread.

And, of course, Mrs. McLean used
