NEW JERSEY NOMINATES MR. MORROW

his victory and pledging their support in the fall election. The returns indicated that Morrow had carried many of the dry rural districts from which Fort was expecting his chief strength.

Balloting was light in the forepart of the day but there was a rush to the polls before they closed at 8 p. m. as commuters thronged home from New York and Philadelphia.

Refused to Comment

Ambassador Morrow sat quietly in his Englewood home reading hercodotus while the votes indicating his victory were being counted. He refused to comment, saying he would wait until the complete vote was tabulated.

"However," he said smilingly, "I seem to have carried my own ward."

He expressed great pride in the vote given him by his neighbors in Englewood.

Despite the overwhelming defeat of Fort, Dr. James K. Shields, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league said, "the Anti-Saloon league is still in the fight and we are here to stay. We thought he would make a better showing than that."

Morrow opened his campaign May 15 with an address in which he declared that if elected he would be prepared to vote for a resolution submitting to the states a consitutional amendment which would restore to the states the power to determine their policy toward the liquor traffic, he said.

"I look forward to the time when the old leaders in the temperance movement will appreciate that they have not reached a final solution of a world old problem by the present eighteenth amendment.

"I look to the time when the moral teachers of the country will realize that in the battle for a great social reform there was wisdom in the old system of experimenting in 48 laboratories rather than in one."

Other Nominations

The prohibition party nominated Dr. James Gilbert Mason for the long term and Miss Esther H. Elfreth for the short term.

Henry Jager was named by the socialist party for both terms.

Fort was formerly secretary of the republican national committee. He has been a fishing companion of President Hoover and was leader of the floor forces which nominated the president at the 1928 convention.

At a campaign meeting, Morrow was praised as presidential timber by Dr. John Grier Hibben, president of Princeton university and by former Governor Edward C. Stokes. Twice statements were issued from the white house denying that President Hoover favored a particular candidate.

Morrow, an Amherst classmate of Calvin Coolidge and a lawyer was a partner of J. P. Morgan & Co., before being appointed ambassador to Mexico by Coolidge in 1927. He is the father-in-law of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

MEXICO DELIGHTED

MEXICO CITY, June 18 (AP)—There was great rejoicing in Mexico today among Americans and Mexicans alike at Ambassador Dwight Morrow's overwhelming victory in the New Jersey senatorial primary elections yesterday.

Election returns were furnished in bulletin form by the Foreign Correspondents' club and newspapers to many Mexicans and Americans who sat up late to hear them. As soon as the result was seen as certain messages of congratulation poured into the cable offices for transmission to Mr. Morrow's home at Englewood.

WHITE HOUSE FAVORS MORROW

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—Confidence that Ambassador Morrow would be the next senator from New Jersey was expressed at the White House today on behalf of President Hoover.

"The White House will give every possible support to the republican nominee for the senate from New Jersey," the statement said. "The president and the administration have every confidence that Mr. Dwight Morrow will be the next senator from New Jersey."

Health Talks

HEAT STROKE

The heat regulating mechanism of the human body is extremely sensitive.

Body temperature varies little in health. But excess temperature, or failure of the heat regulating mechanism of the body may result in one of three rather serious heat diseases.

The mildest one is sercalled heat cramp.

It overtakes those who do hard muscular work in hot places and consists of cramps or pains in the muscles which are used the most. Heat cramps are not followed by serious results except discomfort, which may last for several days.

The obvious treatment for heat cramp is to stop work and rest in a cool place.

Heat stroke and sun stroke are the other two serious conditions.

Heat stroke is usually due to excessive exposure to heat, especially to the sun's rays, combined with overactivity of the body.

In heat stroke the victim is either unconscious or delirious. He usually has a high fever (which is one of the distinguishing points between heat stroke and sun stroke) and is covered with perspiration. He breathes with difficulty.

The sufferer's immediate need is to be cooled.

He should be put in a cold pack, dosed with cold water and rubbed with ice until his temperature falls back to normal. He furthermore needs rest in a cool place until complete recovery is achieved.

Heat stroke is a dangerous condition, which if not properly handled may result in death.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 18 (AP)—R. H. The survey, Kipp said, was requested by the association.

Another study, undertaken by the Portland Port to determine what type of boat or barge is best suited for operation on the river under present conditions will be completed in about 60 days, he said.

Dr. Clark Black, president of the association, said he had received word that the Washington State grange, with 23,000 members, had endorsed the development program of the river.

486 Veterans Of Spanish War Aided

SALEM, Ore., June 18 (AP)—Of the nearly 12,000 loans that have been made to war veterans under the state aid act only 486, so far, have been extended to veterans of the Spanish-American war, according to records in the office of the state aid commission. RUBBER SEED MEAL HELPS COWS FURNISH MORE MILK

BLACKSBURG, Va. (AP)—Dairy cows may eat rubber seed meal, thrive on it and produce more milk.

This discovery has been made through experiments conducted by C. W. Holdaway, professor of dairy husbandry, and Dr. W. B. Ellett, professor of agricultural chemistry at Virginia Polytechnic institute.

Rubber seed meal, heretofore considered a worthless by-product from the processing of kernels of the seed of para rubber trees, contains a high percentage of protein and is available in large quantities each year.

A comparison of rubber seed meal and the old process linseed meal showed four and three-fourths per cent milk flow in favor of the former.

China will increase postal charges $0 per cent on letters and parcels mailed to the United States and Europe.

Wet-Dry Strife Whets Montana Primary Votes

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—Prohibition as an issue between factions in both the republican and democratic ranks has heightened interest in Montana's primary election. Voters will go to the polls July 15.

In the democratic contest for congressman from the first district and in the republican struggle for a candidate for the senate, prohibition has been a rallying principle.

Joseph P. Monoghan of Butte, seeking democratic nomination in the first district, pledged himself to efforts for modification of the eighteenth amendment and likewise to support of a protective tariff.

Monaghan is opposing John M. Evans, seeking a ninth term in the house. Evans is the only member of Montana's congressional delegation who has opposition for renomination.

Senator Thomas J. Walsh, democrat, has no opposition. Two republican candidates are seeking the senatorial nomination — Albert J. Galen, associate justice of the Montana supreme court, and O. H. P. Shelley, publisher of a weekly paper at Red Lodge and a former state prohibition administrator.

Shelley has indicated a desire to make prohibition a major issue. Declaring himself as opposed to repeal of the eighteenth amendment, he has demanded that Galen "take a stand on the question."

Senator Walsh has pledged himself to "serve Montana as a whole," to protect agriculture from discrimination, to secure for wage earners "industrial as well as political freedom," to continue a "relentless pursuit of malefactors of great wealth," and to persevere in advocacy of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway.

ANY SIMON TEAM RECORD CAN'T LEAVE THE FAMILY

TOPEKA, Kans. (AP)—There's one left over for pinch hitter when the Simon brothers play baseball.

Ten sons of a Kansas farm couple claim the distinction of constituting the only baseball team in the United States composed entirely of brothers in the same family.

They have been playing together for several years in semi-professional games with teams in Eastern Kansas. One of the brothers is a barber, but most of them are farmers. They range from 17 to 26 years of age, and there isn't a pair of twins or a set of triplets in the lineup.

The team lost its first game of the 1930 season, 5 to 2, although Bert, one of the three who works on the mound, had 19 strikeouts.

IKE'S RECORD STILL GOOD

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Batting records hung up by Ike Boone when he played with San Antonio in the Texas league in 1923 still are targets for players in the loop. Boone that year hit above .400 and cracked out safeties in 37 consecutive contests. Eddie Brown, Dallas outfielder, recently missed cracking one when he was halted after hitting safely in 34 straight games.

SNAKE IS CLUB MASCOT

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The Memphis Chickasaws keep a snake for luck. The "blue racer" has become a familiar sight on the players' bench. When the boys look over recent Southern Association statistics, they agree the moscot is not so bad at that.
